Man Serves All Mankind
K. Reynolds

A world surrounds us . . . a world full of wonders and mysteries . . . a world intricately complicated. Each day we encounter people. We must, therefore, learn to live with people, share our ideas with others, and serve to help others in any way possible. With every move, we attempt to improve our world. In essence we must live for people. Mankind serves mankind. For centuries people lived not knowing the meaning of humanity; today this word is second-nature to our lives, for we believe in the worth of the individual.

So a really terrific guy of luck always.

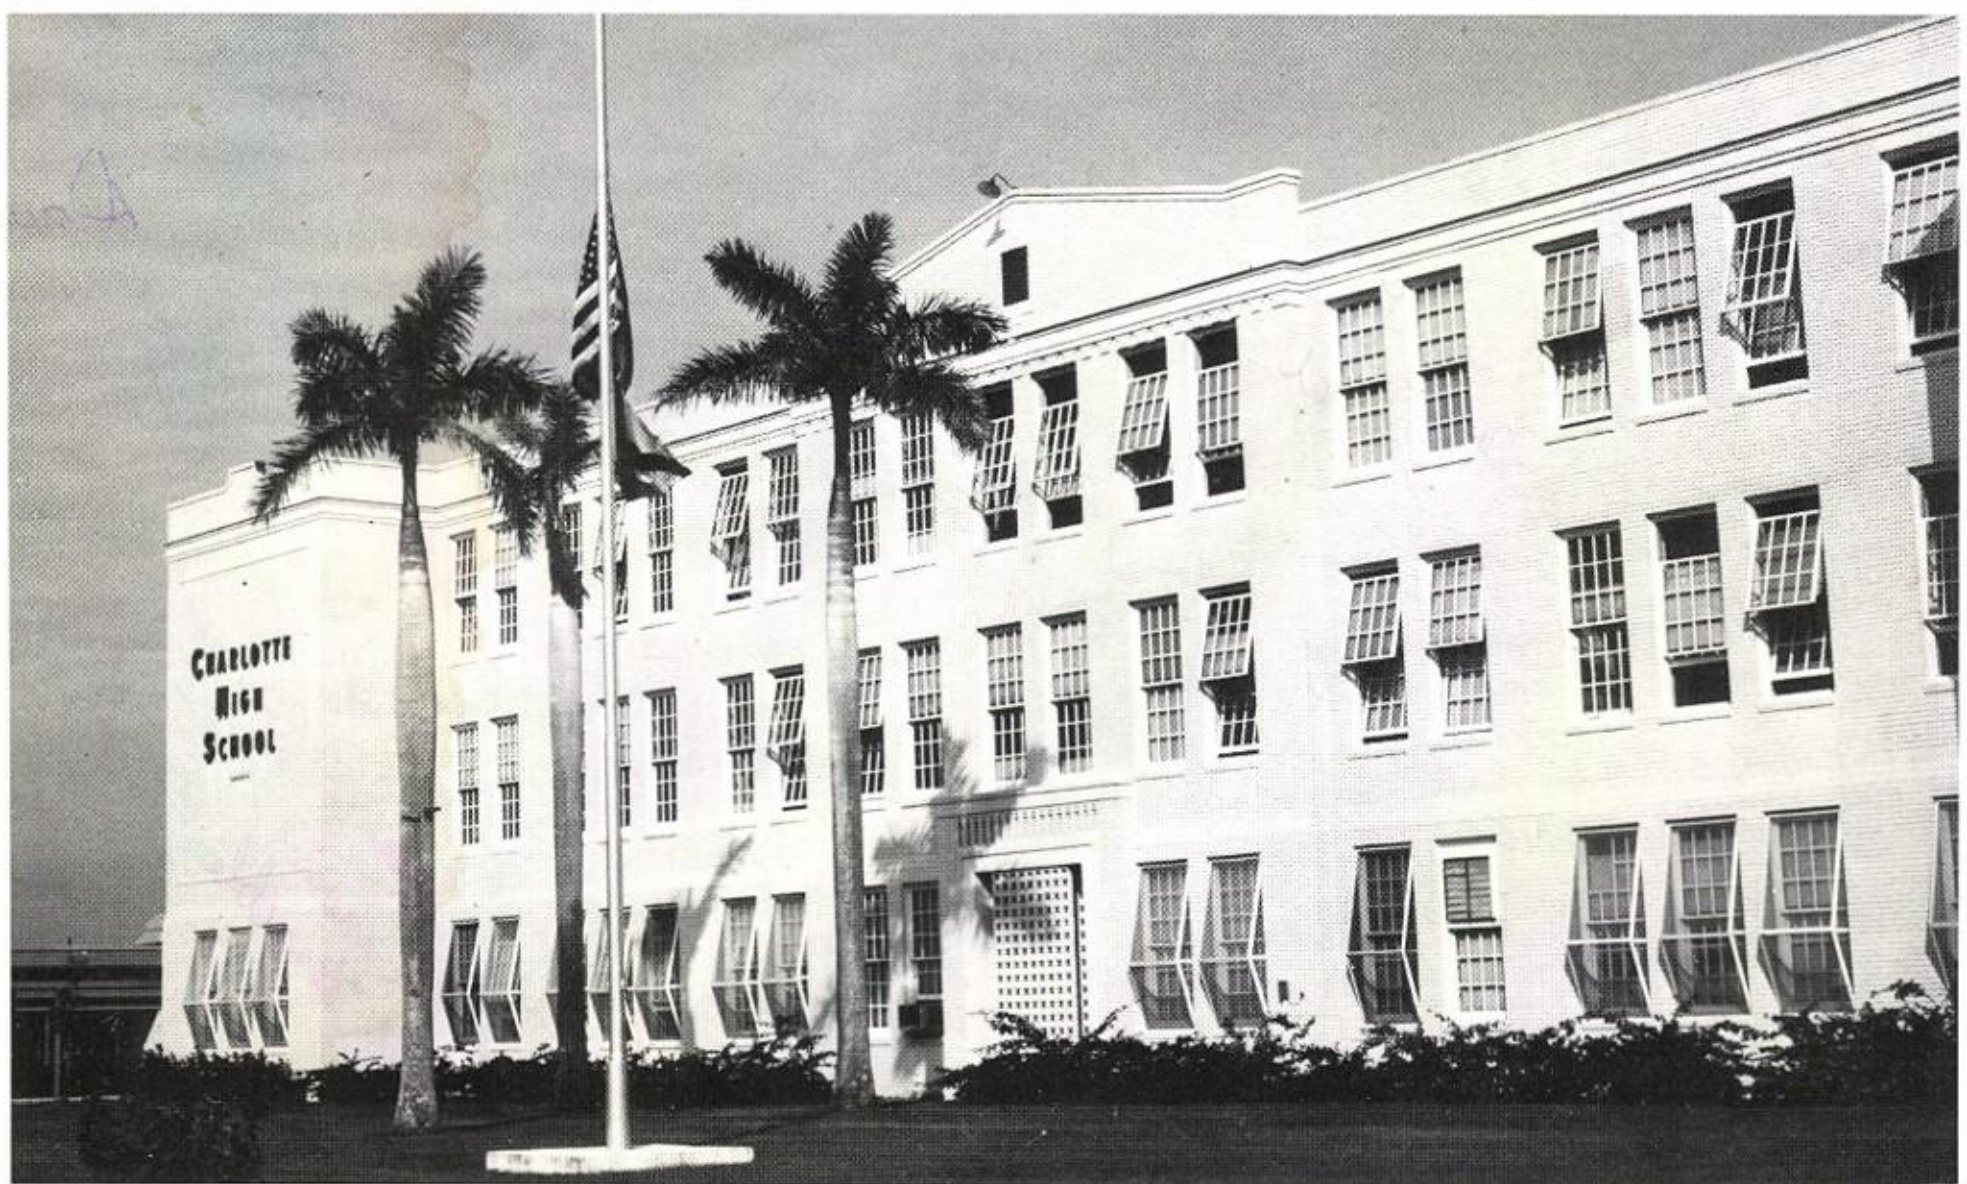

Hi ya Hi ya! Val, you are a good real sweet boy. Always looking as well as you be and success is yours! Had a great time at the Love, Katie Val, your OKay Men take it easy and don't work too hard. Richard.

Val, Remember our great Spanish class. What I remember most about it is your terrible puns. (Ex) (I yelled Fire when I fell into the chocolate) Don't forget how you messed that one up. David Myers '67

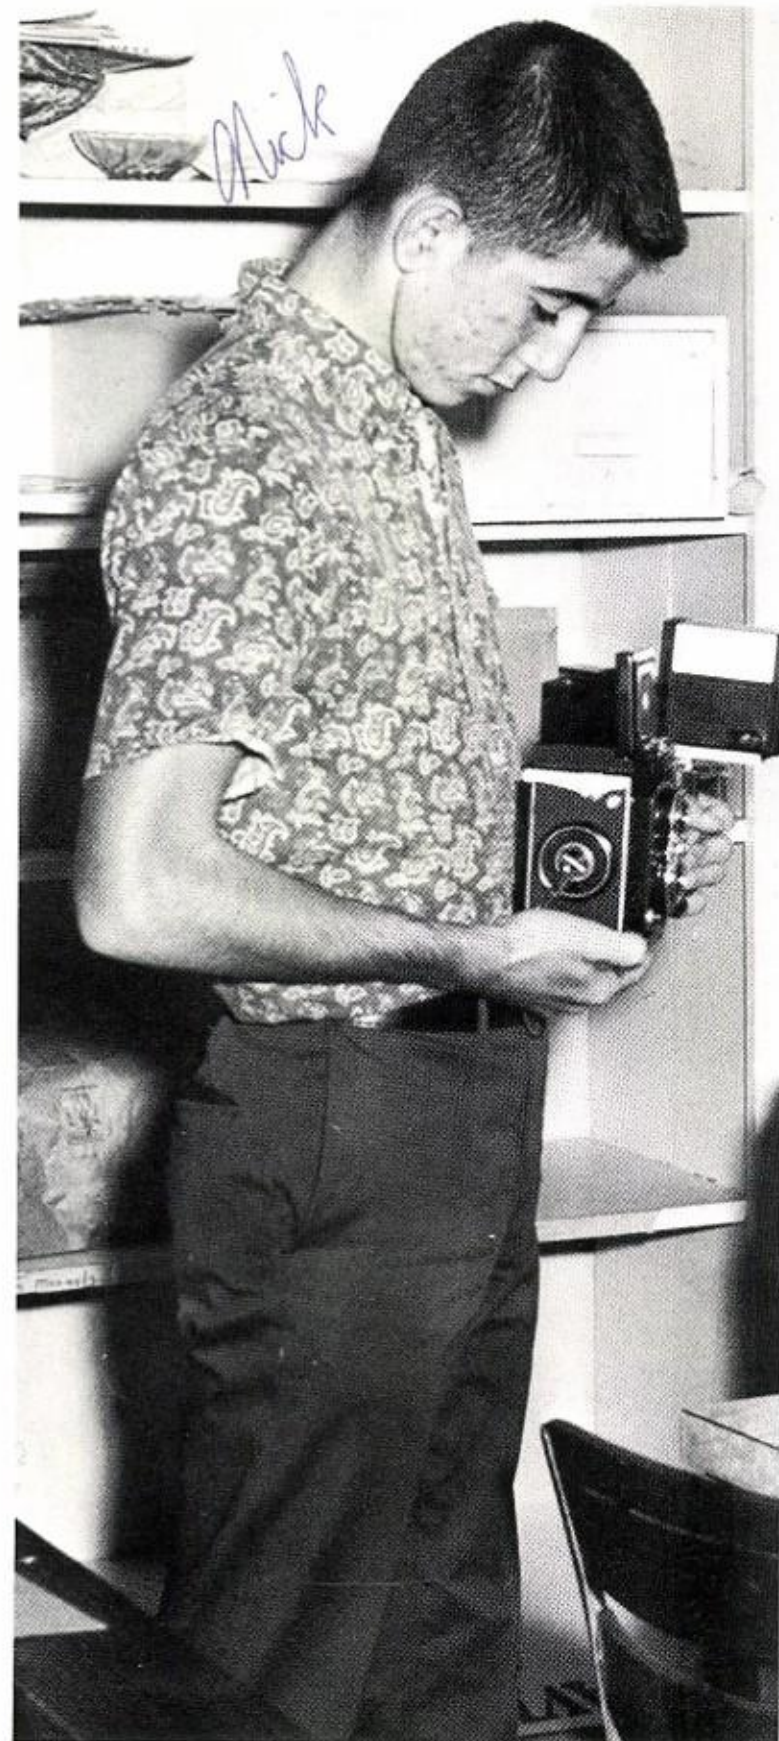

We Believe in Sincerity and Happiness

As we travel from day to day, we communicate our thoughts and emotions . . . a smile of approval, a friendly hand-shake, a frown of doubt, a manifestation of ideas. We can express ourselves not only in word, but in thought and deed as well. A simple smile can bring joy to a sad heart. And yet—no deed, priceless as it might be, is of worth when the heart is not there. We must learn to believe truly in that which we say and that which we do. We should never be false, for hypocrisy is the worst sin of all. Knowing this, we believe that the greatest virtue is sincerity.

We believe ... in living life to its fullest and enjoying every moment, whether it be of work or of play. In working with others, we shall become a part of our school, a part of our world. Life will no longer be day-to-day drudgery, but it will become our tool with which we learn to shape happiness and unity. Our spirits will become as one, one spirit which will be able to conquer the invincible. And as time pulls us away from our Alma Mater, each of us will leave a little of his spirit to ring through the halls of CHS forever.

Student Body

Along with flower motifs that adorned knees, suits, and dresses and decorative paisley prints which danced gaily into the fashion picture, there were numerous other fads found throughout the student body.

In the lunchroom long straws lengthened sipping time while the flickering candles of a surprise birthday cake were blown out.

During the evening, fashions were again displayed at individual class gatherings such as the senior barbecue, luau and banquet which gave each person a sense of belonging to the student life of 1966-'67.

Spirit had a happy time at Charlotte High School this year. It was evident at after-school functions where unusually large Tarpon and Hurricane crowds were seen.

At the end of each week during football season, a lighter mood was added to the school life by the relaxing pep rallies, complete with funny skits by various clubs.

In basketball, close victories over Fort Myers, Arcadia, Venice, and many other top rival teams certainly gave Boomer a chance to have its fun strengthening the spirit in the lives of each Charlotte High student.

Quickened Pulses Accompany Homecoming

THE DANCING FLAMES of the bonfire split the night air as the battered Blue Devil disappears.

"ONE GOOD DENT FOR THE SOPHOMORES," chants the crowd, as robust Hans Menzer swings his trusty mallet at an already badly bruised car.

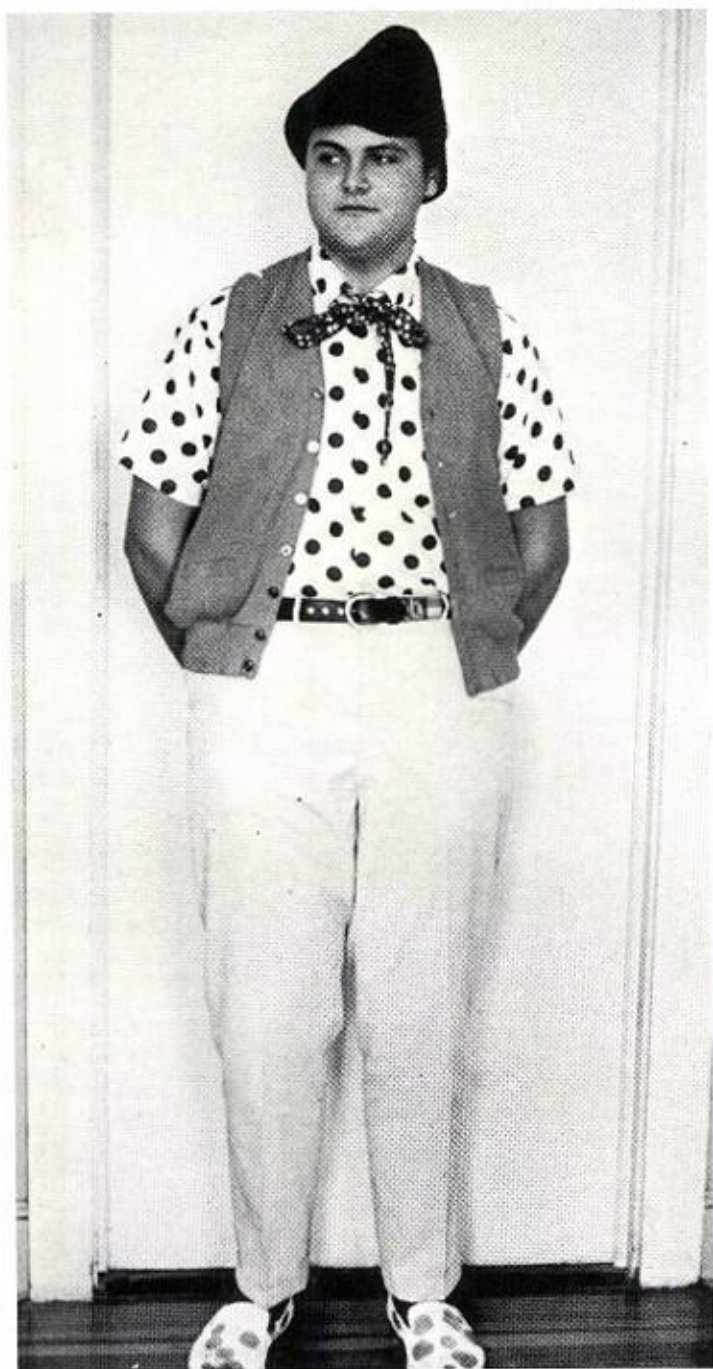

DISPLAYING ITS CLEVERNESS AND BEAUTY, the first place DCT float glides along in the homecoming parade.

Festivities

As Homecoming approached, everyone became acquainted with the tired faces of sleepy float builders, the marching of the Silver King Band, and the crash of the car smash. The week brought Sophomore Slave Day, Color Day, Weird Day and Beat Pahokee Day to boost school spirit. On the chilly Homecoming Eve, spirited students trod along the path of the snake dance to reach the warming bonfire.

After weeks of preparation the students completed the floats for competition, with the exception of the misplaced Latin Club float. Emotions of joy and sadness were endured at the Homecoming game halftime show, where the queen and winning floats were announced. Following the game, Queen Sherre Mason proudly reigned over the Blue Heaven Dance concluding the traditional Homecoming festivities.

"WHY ARE THEY STARING?" asks Garry Albritton as he hides an apple for his teacher.

GLOWING WITH HAPPINESS, the newly crowned Homecoming Queen, Sherre Mason, escorted by Dave Best, smiles vivaciously as she leaves the football field.

AS THEIR TARPON GROWS in elegance and splendor, these hopeful seniors dream of acquiring first place in the float competition for the third year.

the Lively Spring Environment at CHS

In the spring, competitive and enjoyable activities enlivened the life at CHS. Baseball, track, spring football practice, and cheerleading tryouts were some of the sports events during the season.

Often, in the gentle breezes which carried the refreshing spring rains, kites danced daintily around the school area.

Also, springtime brought one of the most important events of the year, the Junior Prom. The theme "Alice in Wonderland," was effectively carried out in the gymnasium.

Highlighting the year for each annual staff member was the arrival of the Tarpon and its presentation to the student body at the usual autograph party in the gym.

AT THE 1966 AUTOGRAPH PARTY Kevin Hogan and Dave Best willingly sign their pictures while Nancy Allard waits for her yearbook to be returned.

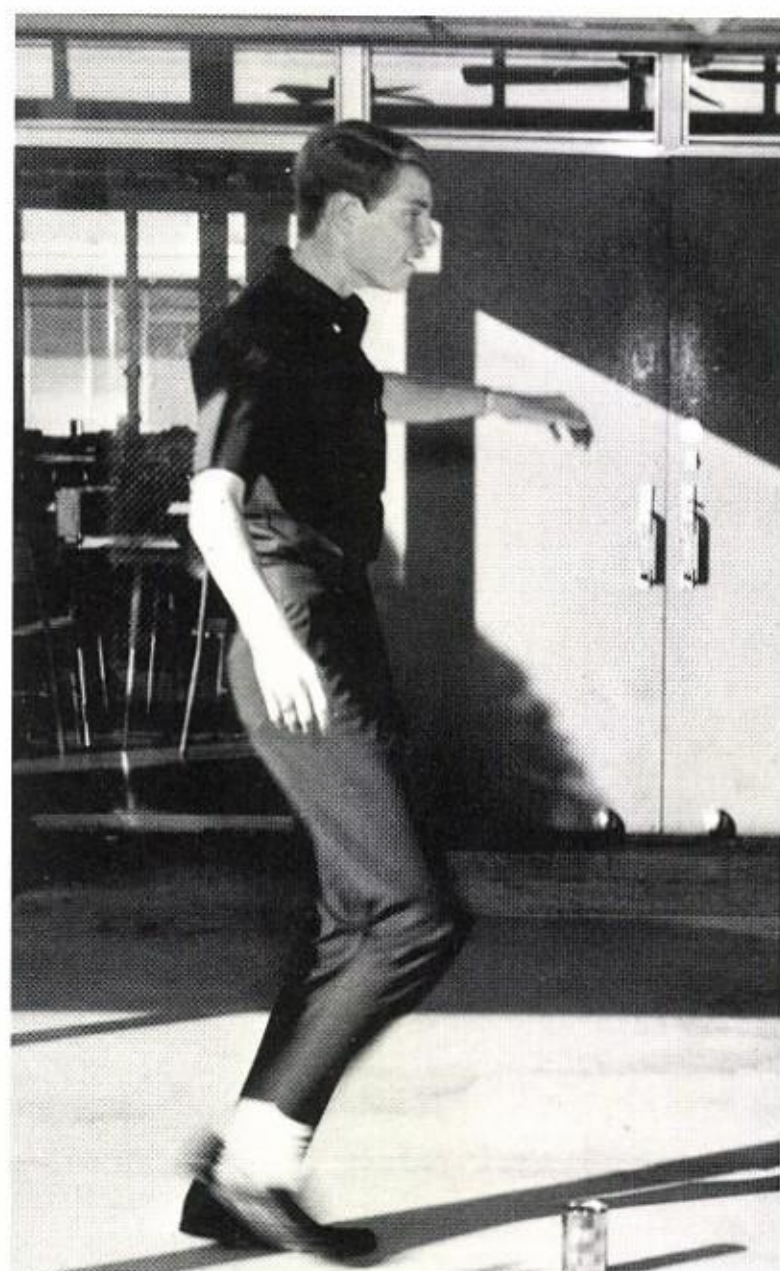

"WHAT LUCKY PERSON SHALL I PICK to sign my Tarpon first?" wonders David McDonald.

Seniors Prepare to Enter a Strange

"PEOPLE CERTAINLY ARE RESTLESS," mutters the forgotten bonfire with its last breath, . . . "always in a hurry to come but never to stay."

RAOUL WEBB EXCITEDLY KICKS a shiny tin can to exult over his college acceptance.

IN ADDITION TO ALLOWING REFRESHING BREEZES TO BLOW freely into classrooms, the open windows of Charlotte High also show an inquisitive outsider that school is still in session.

New World

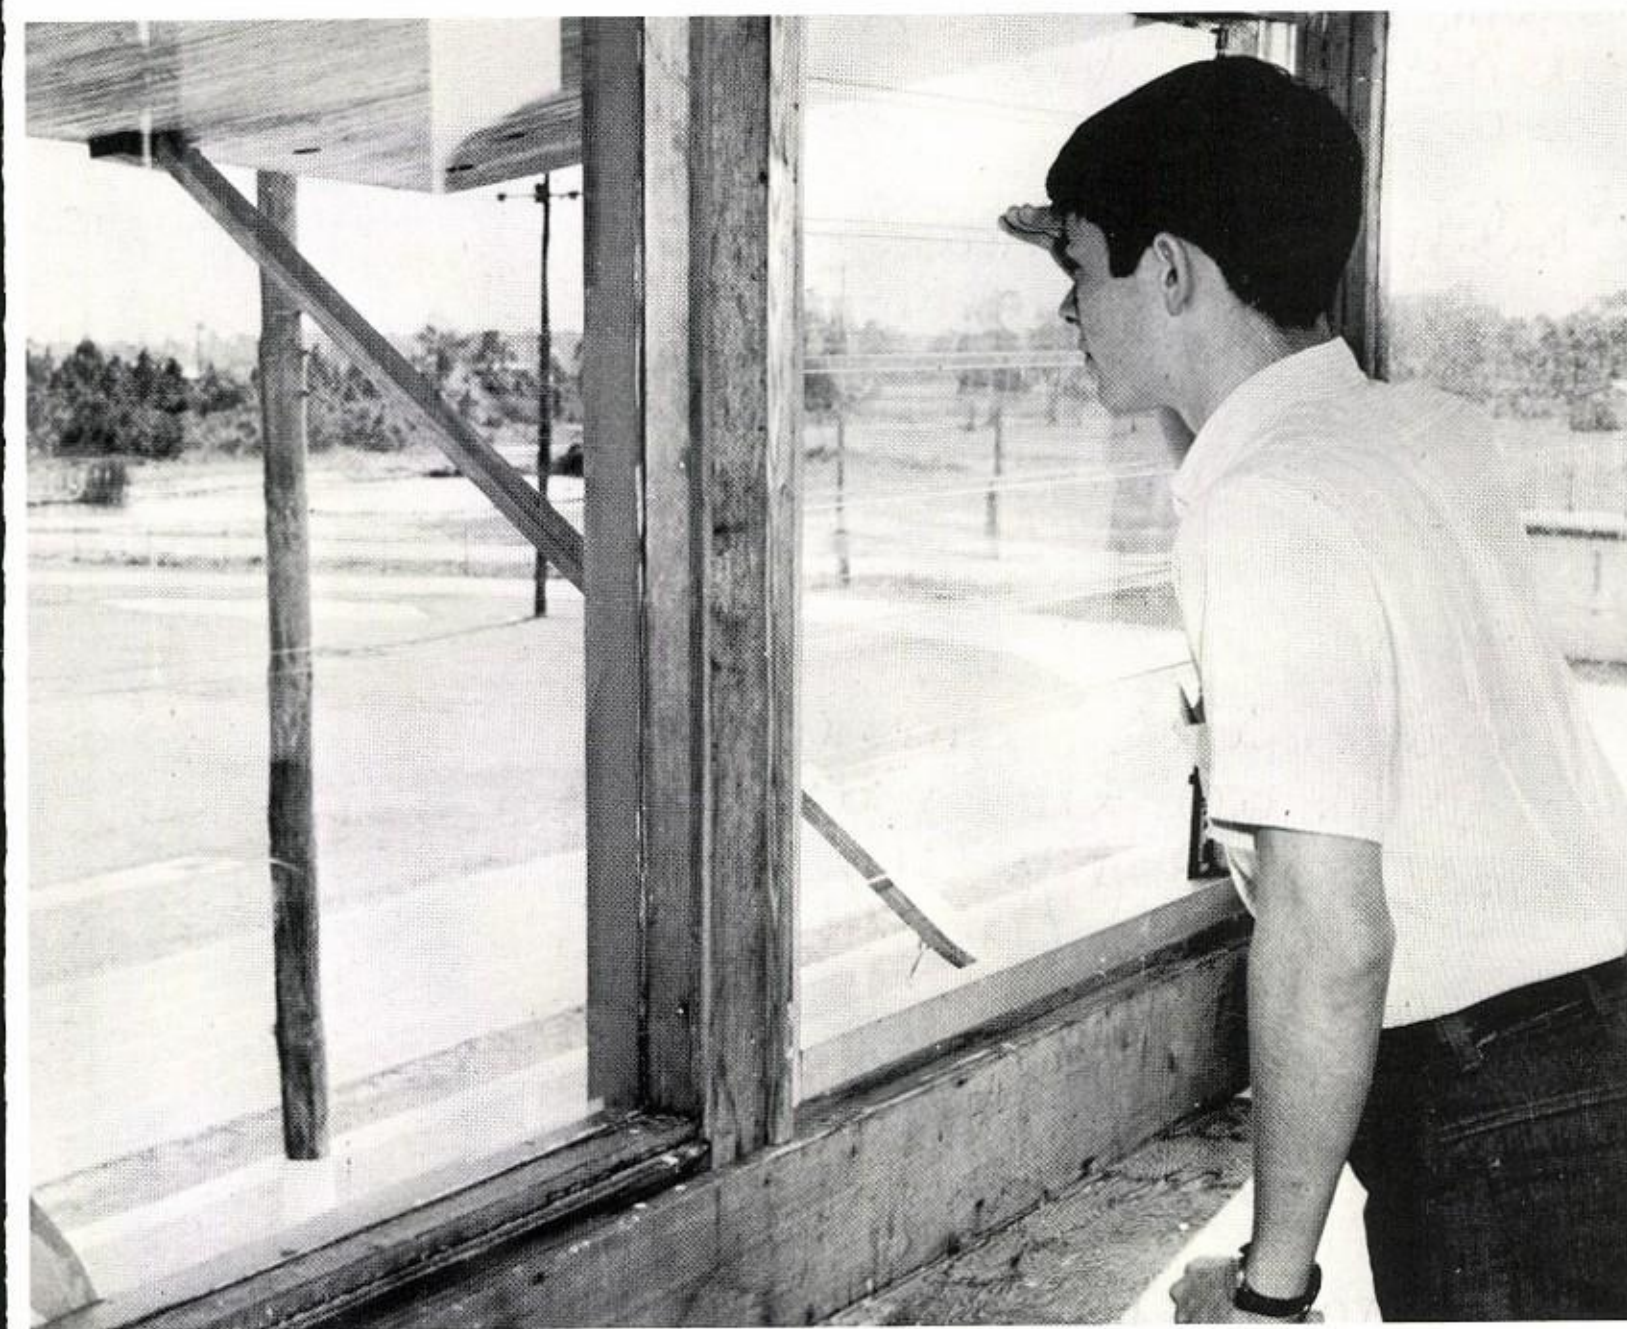

As the year continued, each upperclassman became aware of the approaching graduation day. While the seniors wondered about their future after graduation, the underclassmen dreamed of an exciting summer on the beach.

Soon after adopting their roles as seniors, they were confronted with endless tests and application forms which had to be completed, leaving them little time to enjoy their last year.

During the final months, the members of the Class of '67 were often disturbed by the realization that soon they would no longer be able to claim their position in the lunchline, at pep rallies and assemblies, and that they would shortly be faced with a world of loneliness and uncertainty.

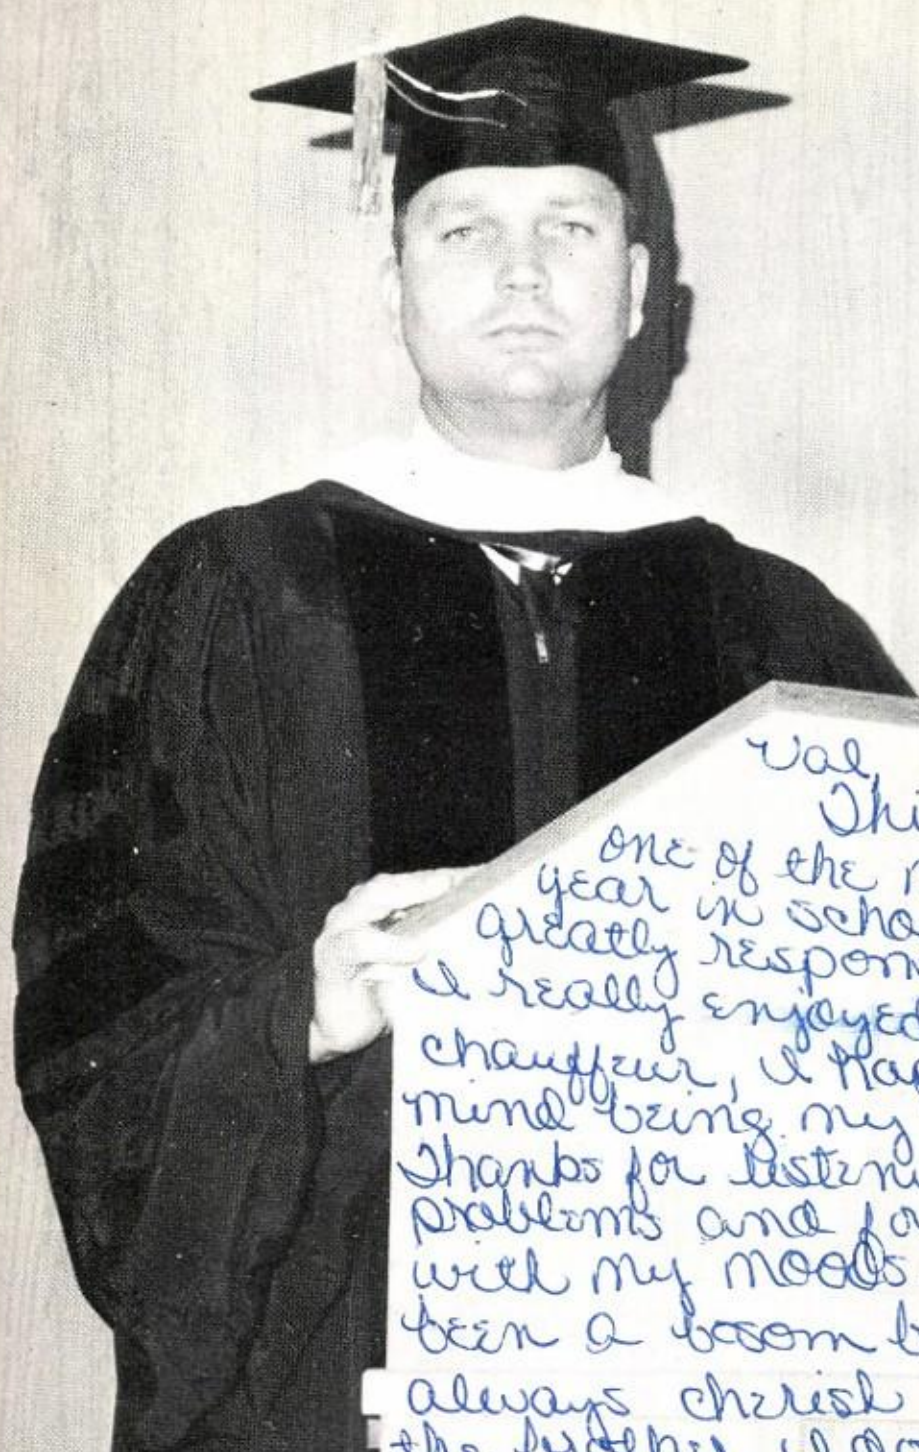

AN UNKNOWN SHADOW RESTS QUIETLY on the school lawn where generations of similar images have lingered during their stay at Charlotte High.

"WHERE HAVE ALL THE SENIORS GONE?" wonders Pete Sawn as he solemnly gazes at the vast football field and familiar school grounds which awaken his memories of the past exciting years at CHS.

We believe . . . in the power of knowledge that can light the world of tomorrow. This power will be achieved only through self-perseverance and assistance given by those who have already touched upon this power. We must forever seek the power through exercise in both mind and body, for knowledge must be of all phases of our life. When at last we have passed through the various levels of our education, we can say to ourselves, "Yes, I have learned that the power is not the knowledge to the answer of all things, but rather, it is the power to seek those things which have no answer."

*Good luck and best wishes

Self-Expression Is Emphasized Throughout

"WOULD YOU BELIEVE 'Merry Christmas' in Japanese?" says Isabel Turner, showing the senior English class a picturesque visual aid with her oral report.

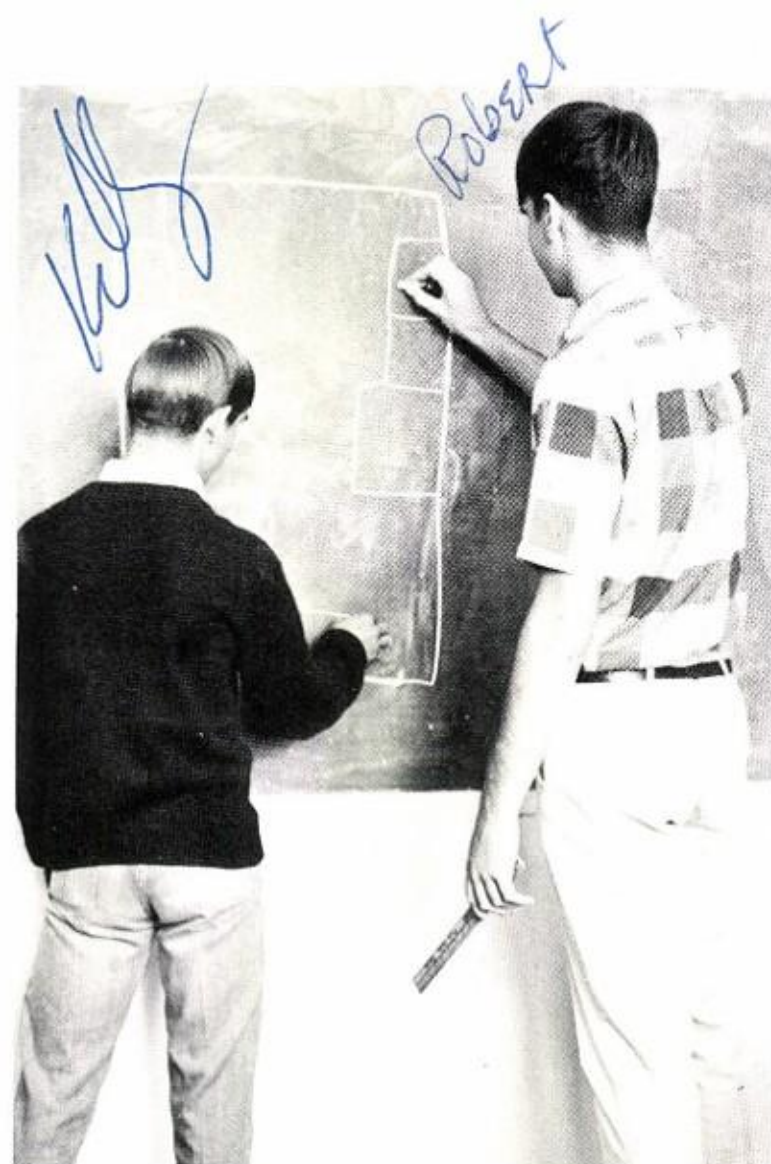

STAPLING BOOK COVERS TO THE BULLETIN BOARD, Marion Lord, discovers what a wide variety of books is available to ninth grade students.

Resumés, book reports, and endless vocabulary tests are all part of the advanced English classes. Experiences in these classes train students to learn effectively and to write clearly.

As a result of excellent training in speech, a new voice with a new ring may be developed by a confident student. Furthermore, comprehension and reading appreciation are taught in literature, ranging from Shakespeare to Hemingway.

The noisy click of typewriters and frantic pencil scribbles heard during first and seventh periods each day are only the journalism and publication classes, hard at work to produce the finest newspaper and annual.

Upon graduation, the students leave CHS trained to think, speak, and express themselves more clearly so that they may participate in building a society in which all the worthwhile purposes in life may be achieved.

KELLY SUGGS AND ROBERT DONALD draw rough ad blocks for the newspaper page layout.

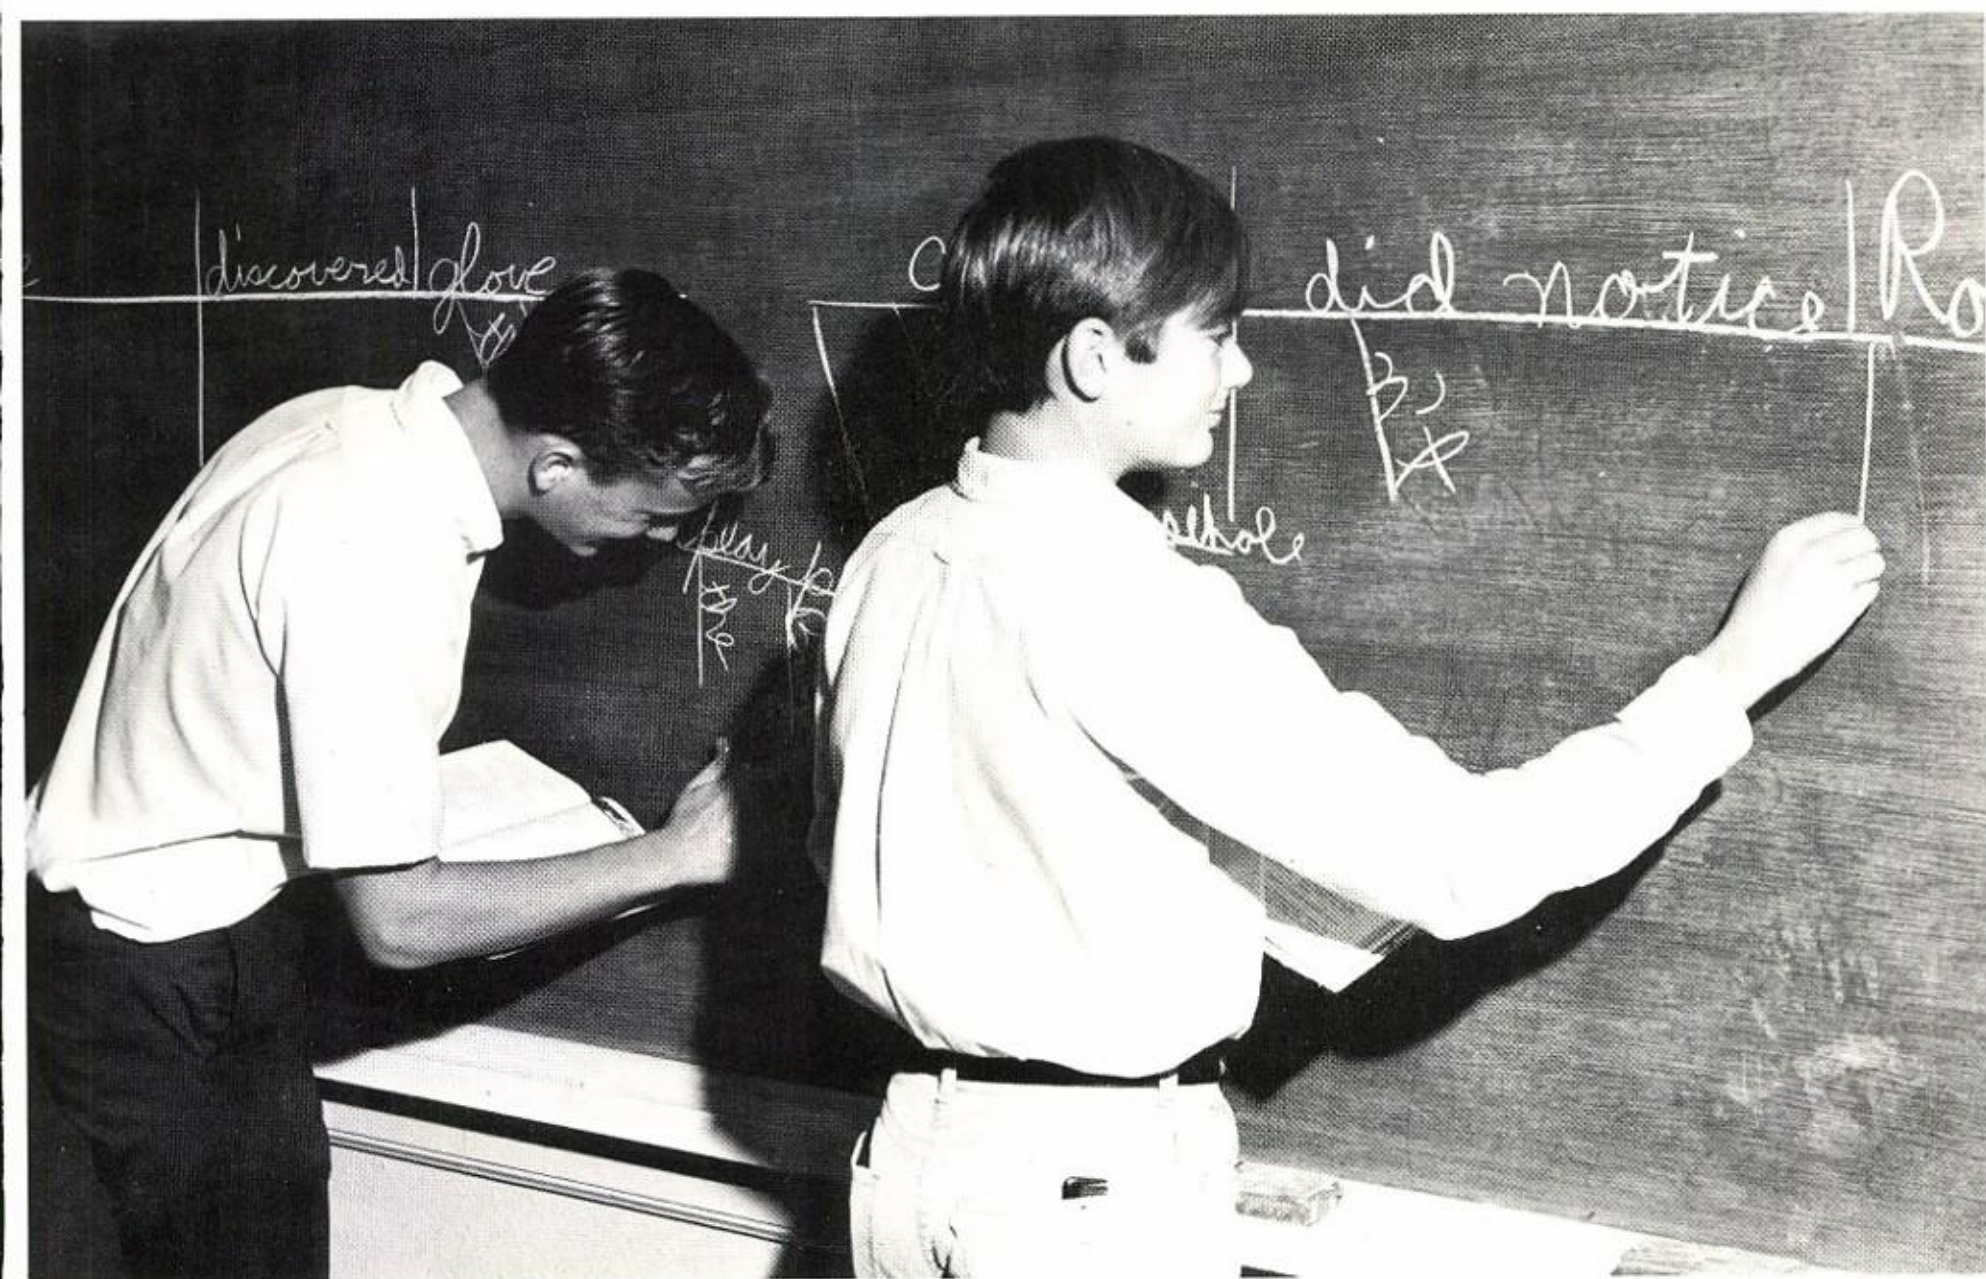

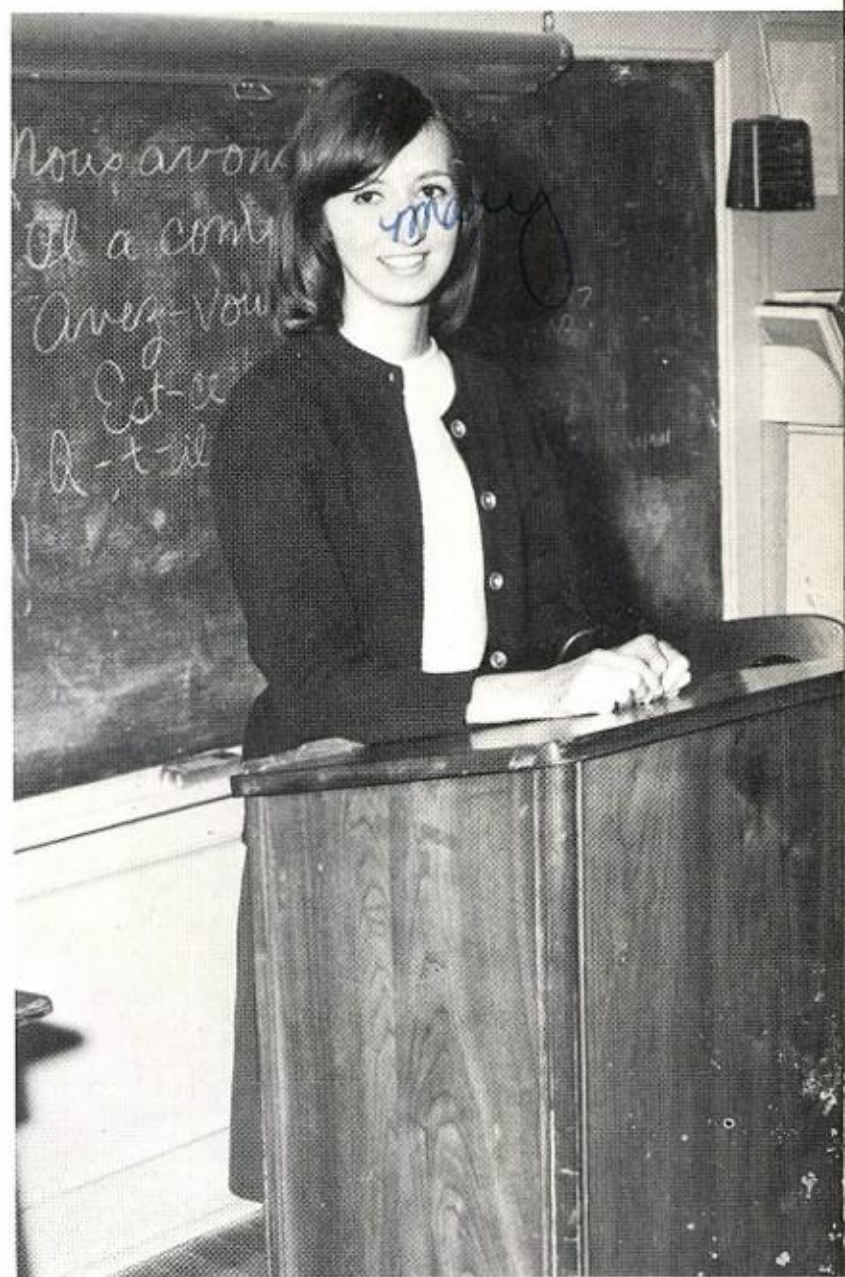

Entire English Department

SOPHOMORE ENGLISH STUDENTS BLAIR BOSMAN AND BOB SHAKE-SHAFT (below) demonstrate proper sentence construction by diagraming sentences on the board to explain to their class.

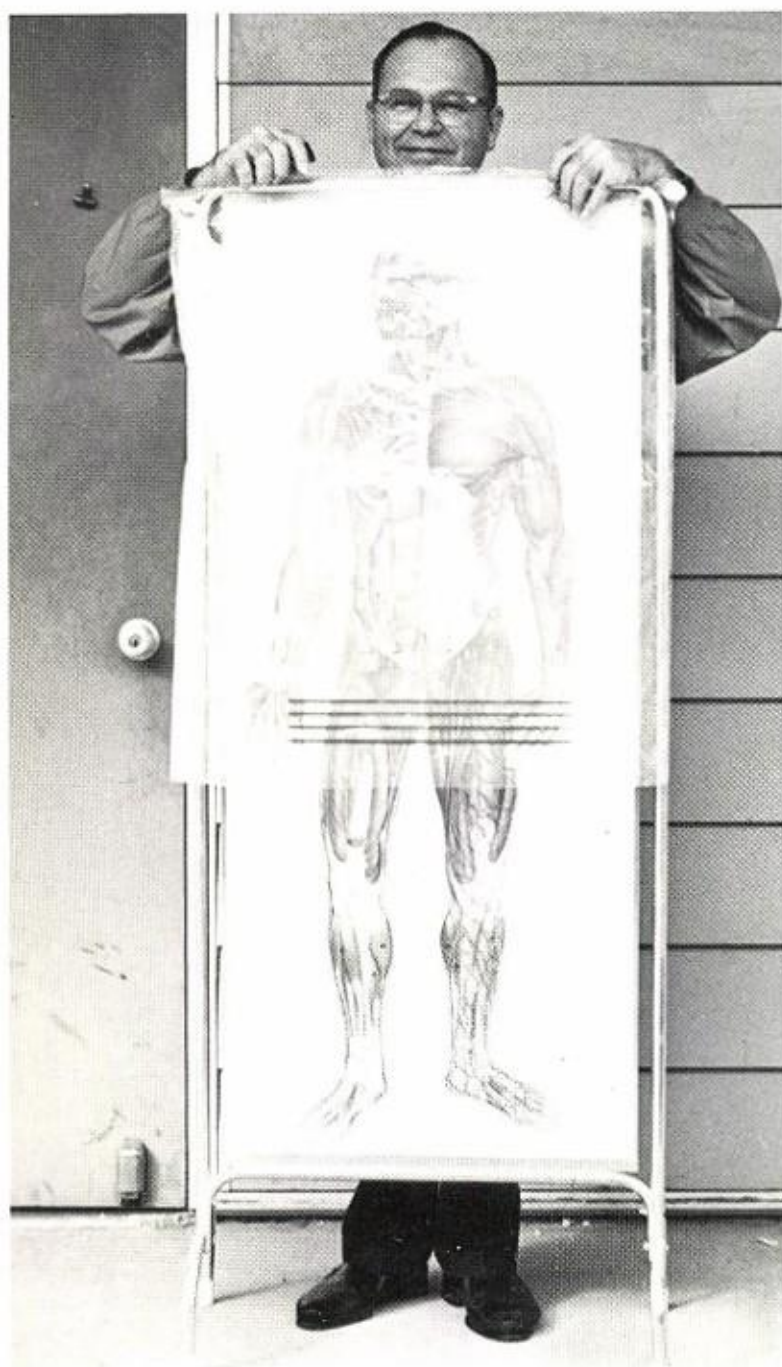

LEADING ENLIGHTENING DISCUSSIONS, speech student Mary Griffith (right) conscientiously applies what she has learned in class and concentrates on diction and voice projection.

WHILE PETE STRAUB MEASURES the angle of an inclined plane, Phil Orpin computes the force of the object with a slide rule.

Keener Minds Developed

"BEAUTY IS ONLY SKIN DEEP," says Mr. Guthrie as he proudly models one of his physiology charts.

CAREFULLY PREPARING FOR CHEMISTRY EXPERIMENTS are Ennie Gallagher, Sammie Vittoria, Linda Malvano, Ed Rza, Pam Gabrielsen, and Randy Nolan.

THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT makes use of many teaching devices such as these models of a flower and the cross-section of a leaf.

MR. HAROLD SELLEY DEMONSTRATES proper use of the distillation equipment.

FERVENTLY WISHING HE WERE SOME OTHER PLACE, junior high student Fred Wilcoxon cuts up the side of a baby shark during his science class period.

Through Scientific Research and Study

SHARING THE DISSECTING INSTRUMENTS, Richard Beveridge and Peggy Foster study the organs of a fish and locate the various parts.

In the age of space with all its complexities and marvels, a sufficient education in science is essential for every student.

By presenting a wide curriculum of sciences such as general science, Biology I and II, physiology, physics and chemistry, CHS provides all young aspiring students and even non-scientific students with the opportunity to broaden their understanding of the innumerable wonders of sciences.

This year a series of new technicolor films of biology and physical science have added to the interest in the classroom. Furthermore, in the near future, CHS may have the facilities and equipment for space science, a science that will someday be essential in every school curriculum.

Math Department Employs New Methods

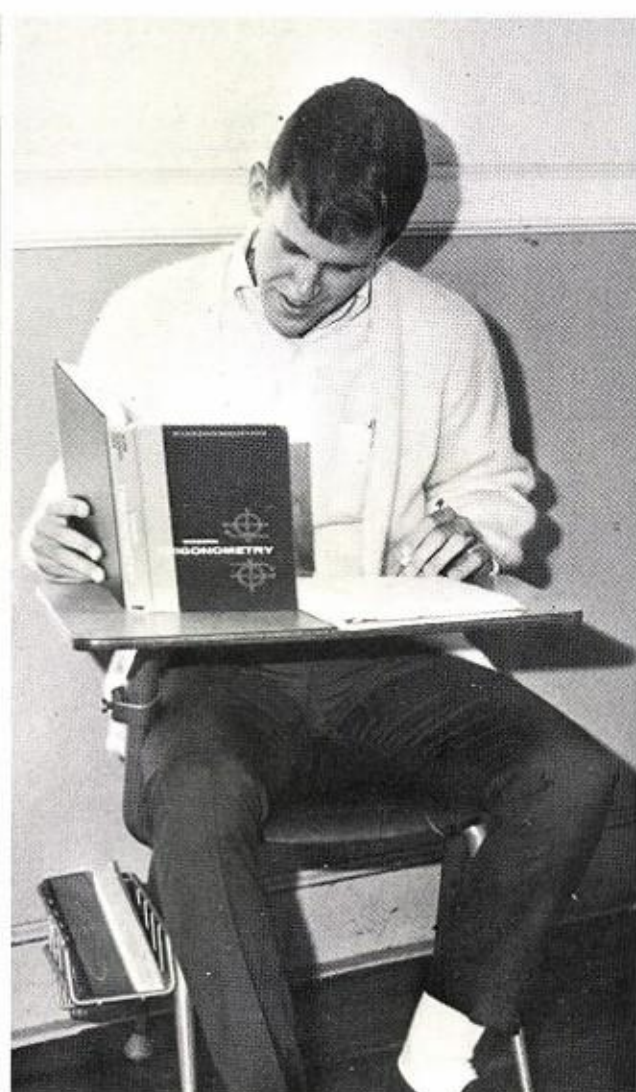

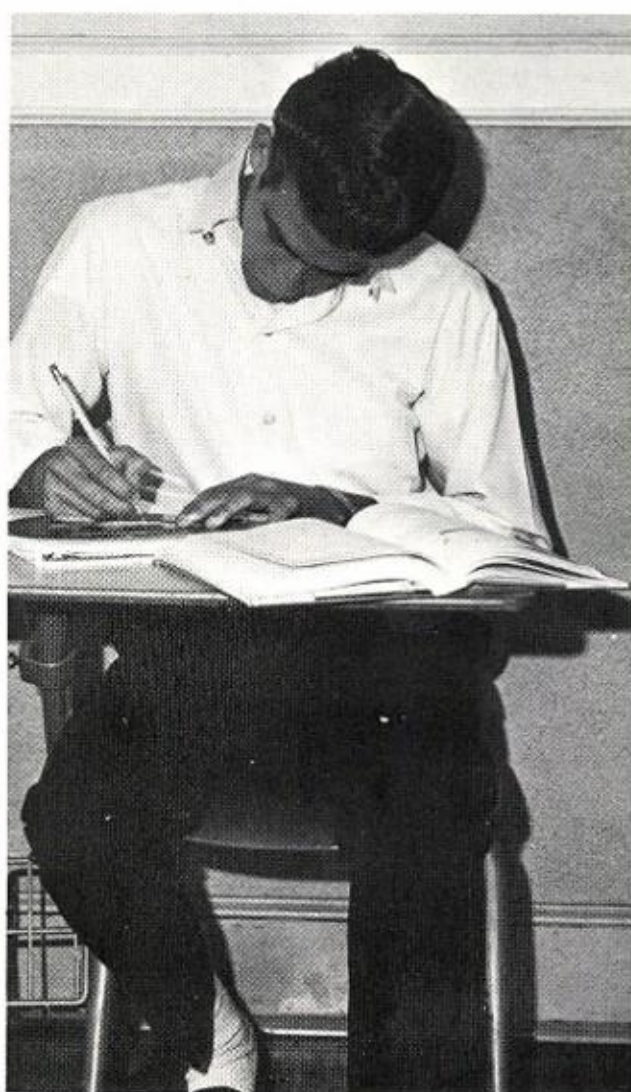

GRAPHING THE SLOPE OF A LINE, Brenda Graham and Jonathan Cummins explain the x and y axes of the linear system to their eighth grade math class.

In order to keep up with the modern trend, CHS has changed to modern math completely this year. Although only one year of math is required, two or more are recommended. The college instructional program consists of contemporary Algebra I and II, modern geometry, modern trigonometry, analytical geometry, and calculus, the latter being an enrichment course for selected students. Refresher math is offered to twelfth grade students who plan on a business career.

Directed by Captain Ward Brock, the math department also offers optional enrichment courses such as Introduction to Sets, Inequalities, and Functions and other various programmed texts, taken by students in their spare time.

Life and mathematics are brothers to each other. When man recognizes this fact, he can be fully aware of the beauty and understanding he will gain from mathematics and can apply it to his everyday life.

DEBBIE SCHELM CONSTRUCTS CIRCLES AND TRIANGLES in eighth grade mathematics. While William Beveridge concentrates intently on a plane geometry problem, David Best studies the sines and cosines of various trigonometric relations for a trig test.

PREVIEWING A FILM STRIP for the afternoon classes, Mrs. Conrad and Mr. Doby discuss the customs of different countries.

Liberty Sought Through Democracy

MIKE SHAIN USES THE BEAUTIFUL GLOBES and maps of the junior high social studies department to enliven his study of the United States of America.

Democracy, free speech, free press, and liberty are all part of the American's essential vocabulary. Seeking to train its students to preserve democracy and freedom in our country the social studies department teaches its students to think clearly and intelligently and to seek the truth.

Both general and advanced classes in world history, American history, and senior social studies are offered. Being more comprehensive, the advanced classes probe deeper into the complexities of world problems than do the general classes.

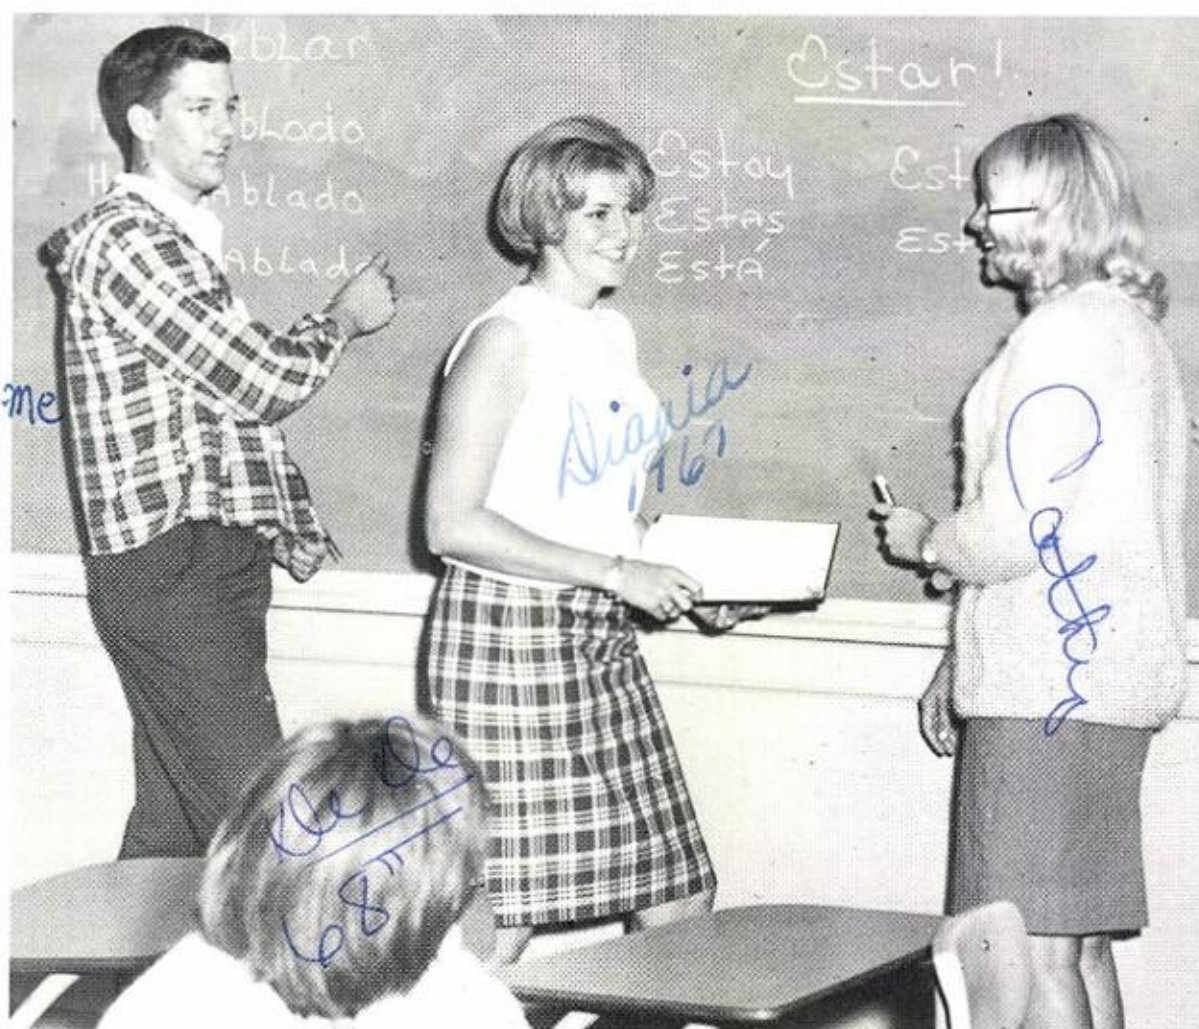

As a result of the excellent social studies department, the students of CHS leave its protective walls with confidence, self-assurance, and an appreciation of each human individual, thus making them valuable citizens to our democracy.

Skill In Communication Essential Today

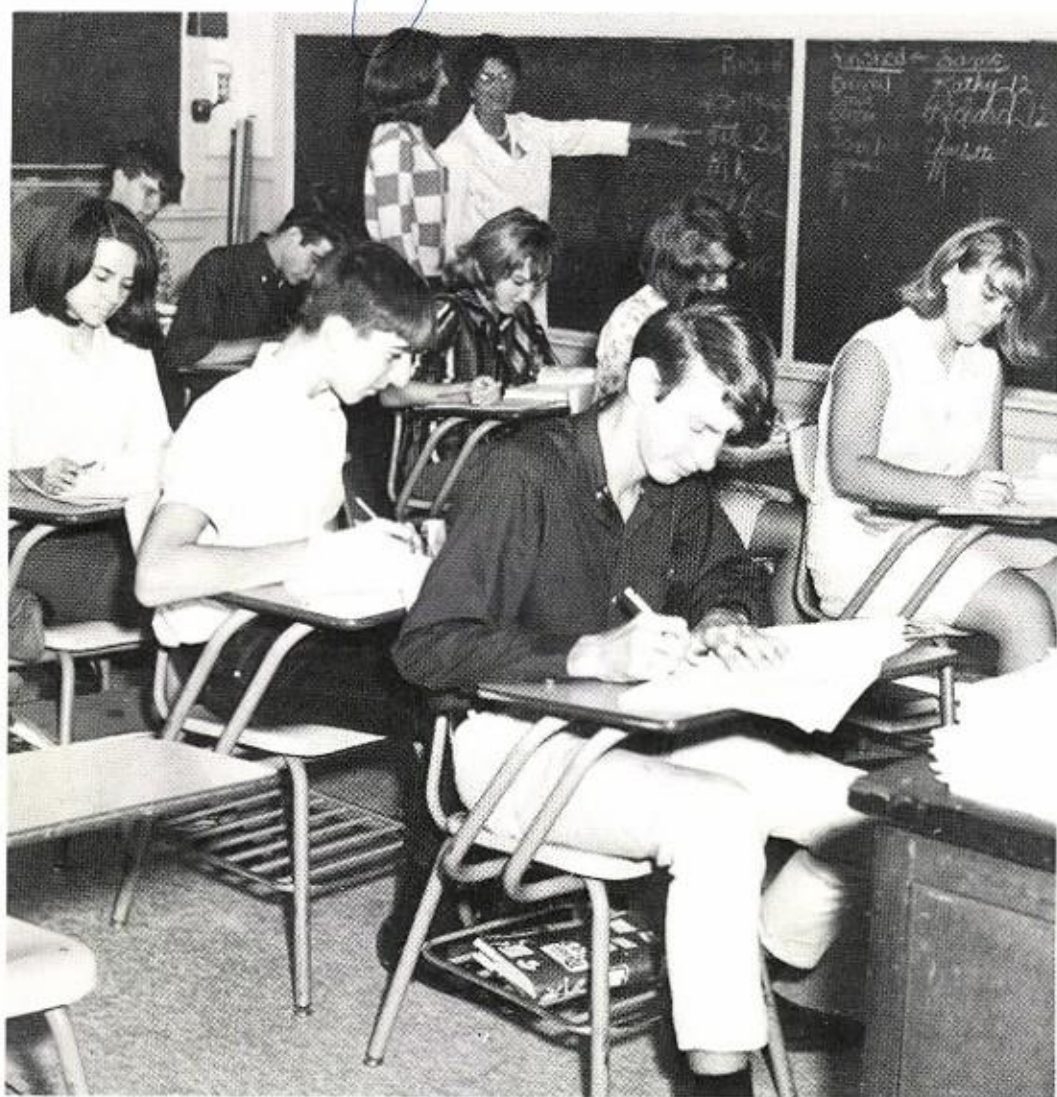

Who is there that has not dreamed of vacationing on the French Riviera or in the Spanish southland? Wouldn't it be thrilling to turn back the clock and be a spectator at the Circus Maximus? Through a study of the culture and history of specific countries, the language department offers an opportunity to experience these sensations.

In Latin I vocabulary and verb usage are stressed while Latin II offers a more comprehensive study of the ancient Romans and Caesar's Commentaries of the Gallic Wars.

Looking forward to the monthly paper Chez Nous, the French I and II students increase their vocabulary by reading French stories and working crossword puzzles. By the use of records, Spanish I, II, and III students are able to hear the language spoken correctly and thus apply it to their own way of speaking.

"ISN'T SPANISH FUN?" exclaims Diania Surgeon as she, Cathy Weeks, and Val Robinson conjugate verbs in Mr. Overbey's Spanish III class.

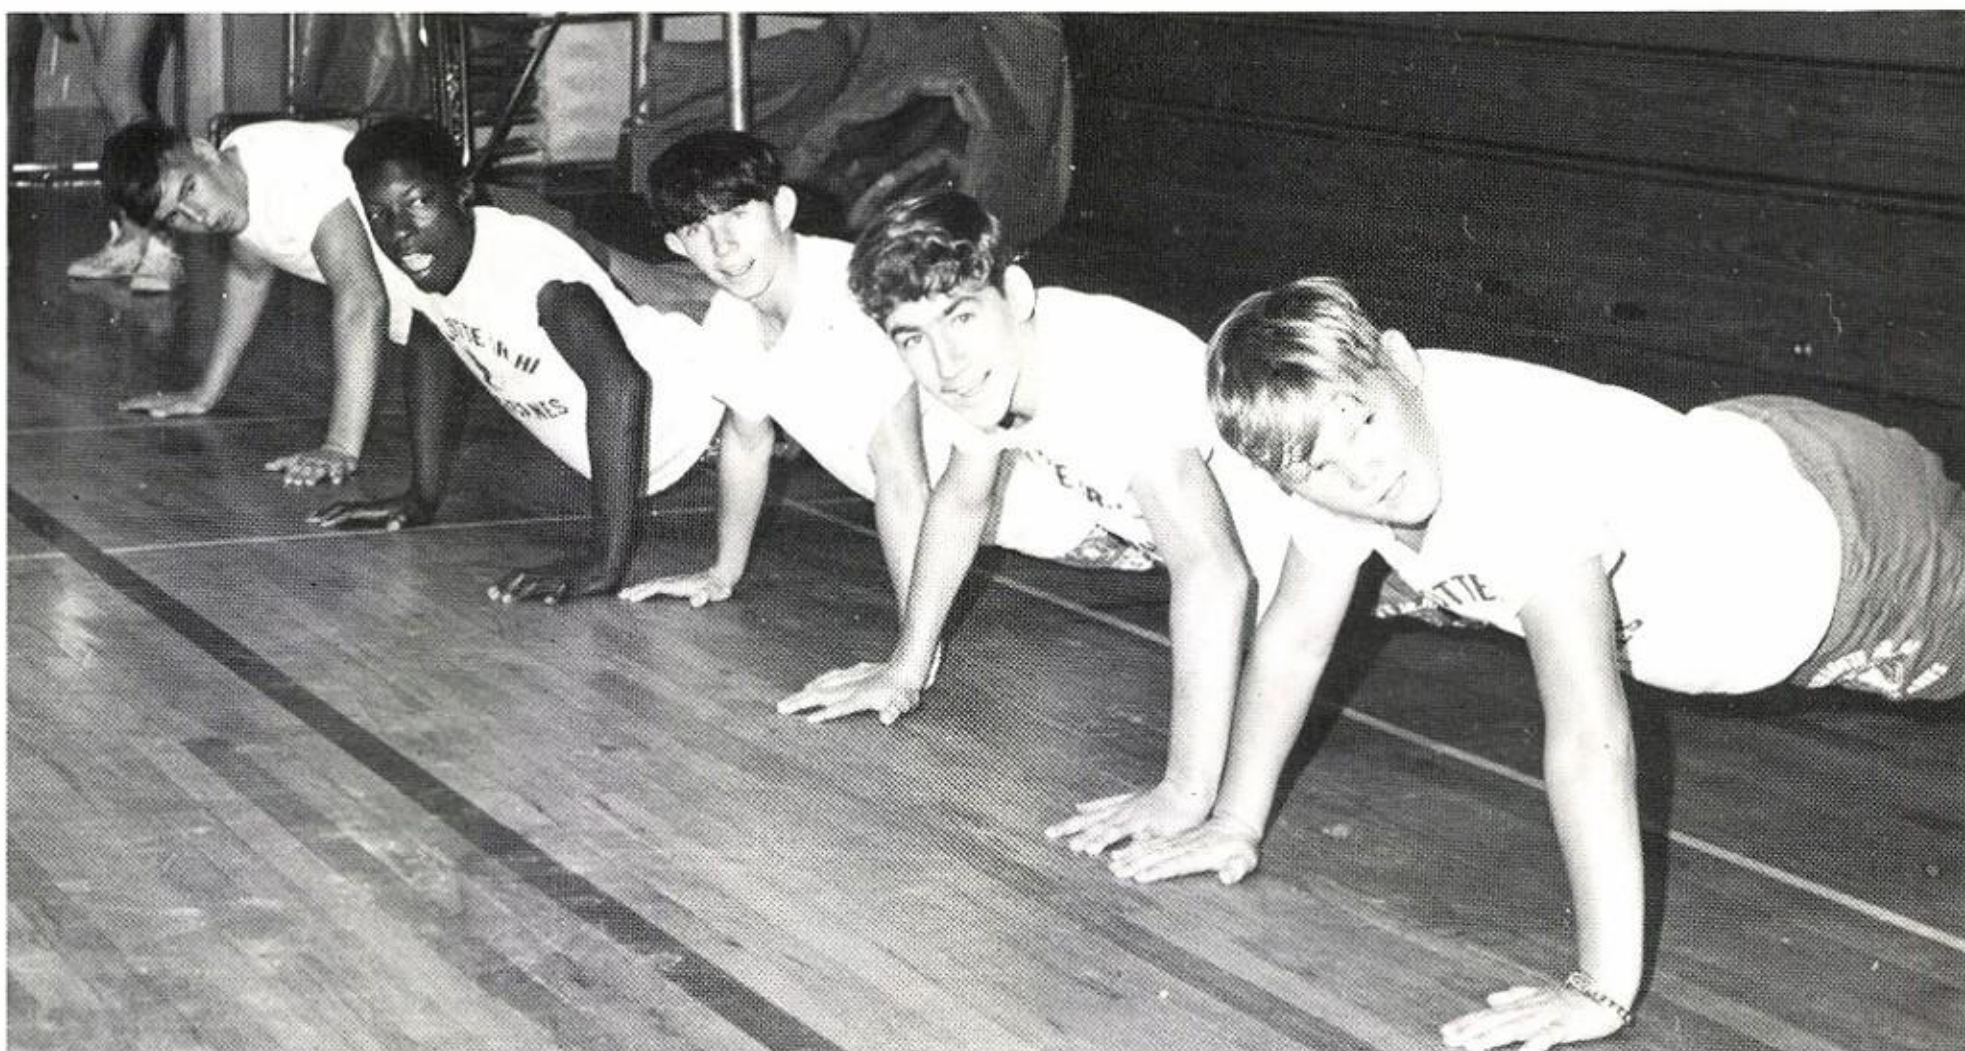

DECLINING A NOUN CAN PROVE to be very challenging as well as fun for these Latin scholars working under Miss Eaton's supervision.

STUDYING TOGETHER Paulette Amberg and Denise Teller prepare themselves for an important oral test in French.

"ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR ... Oh! This type of work can prove to be very exhausting!" exclaim these young athletes.

Physical Education Builds Healthy Bodies

CO-EDUCATIONAL VOLLEYBALL HELPS TEACH these young junior high students how to play fairly, develop good sportsmanship, and get along well with each other.

The 50-yard dash, the flexed arm hang, and endless other exercises are all part of the Physical Fitness Program. Under the program which co-operates with the President's Council on Physical Fitness, the boys and girls strive to become more fit mentally, emotionally, and physically. While only two years of physical education are required (grades 9-12), many students take it every year. A variety of sports and games, suitable for the present and future, are taught. These include volleyball, soccer, archery, basketball, baseball, tumbling, trampoline, and gymnastics. For the senior students, advanced physical education is offered, stressing individual sports which will serve as a carry-over into later life.

Furthermore, cleanliness, sportsmanship, and an understanding of basic rules make physical education as valuable as any school course. If a student is bored with routine work and is in need of something more stimulating, physical education is the answer.

CHS Students Receive A Guiding Hand

What little room is constantly teeming with students who have problems and questions big and little? The guidance office, of course. CHS students are grateful for their understanding guidance counselor, Mr. Robert Garbart, and for his help and reassurance.

In the junior high school, Mr. Parkman lends a reassuring hand to any forsaken individual who knocks at his door.

Trying to keep most of the people happy all of the time is a heavy assignment for anybody, but the busy guidance directors of Charlotte Junior and Senior High Schools somehow carry the burden successfully.

KATHY CARVER, A SENIOR, secures valuable information concerning college expenses from Charlotte High School's dedicated and efficient guidance counselor Mr. Robert Garbart.

"OH, MR. PARKMAN! WHAT WOULD I EVER DO WITHOUT YOU?" exclaims Lucy Gaventa, an ambitious freshman.

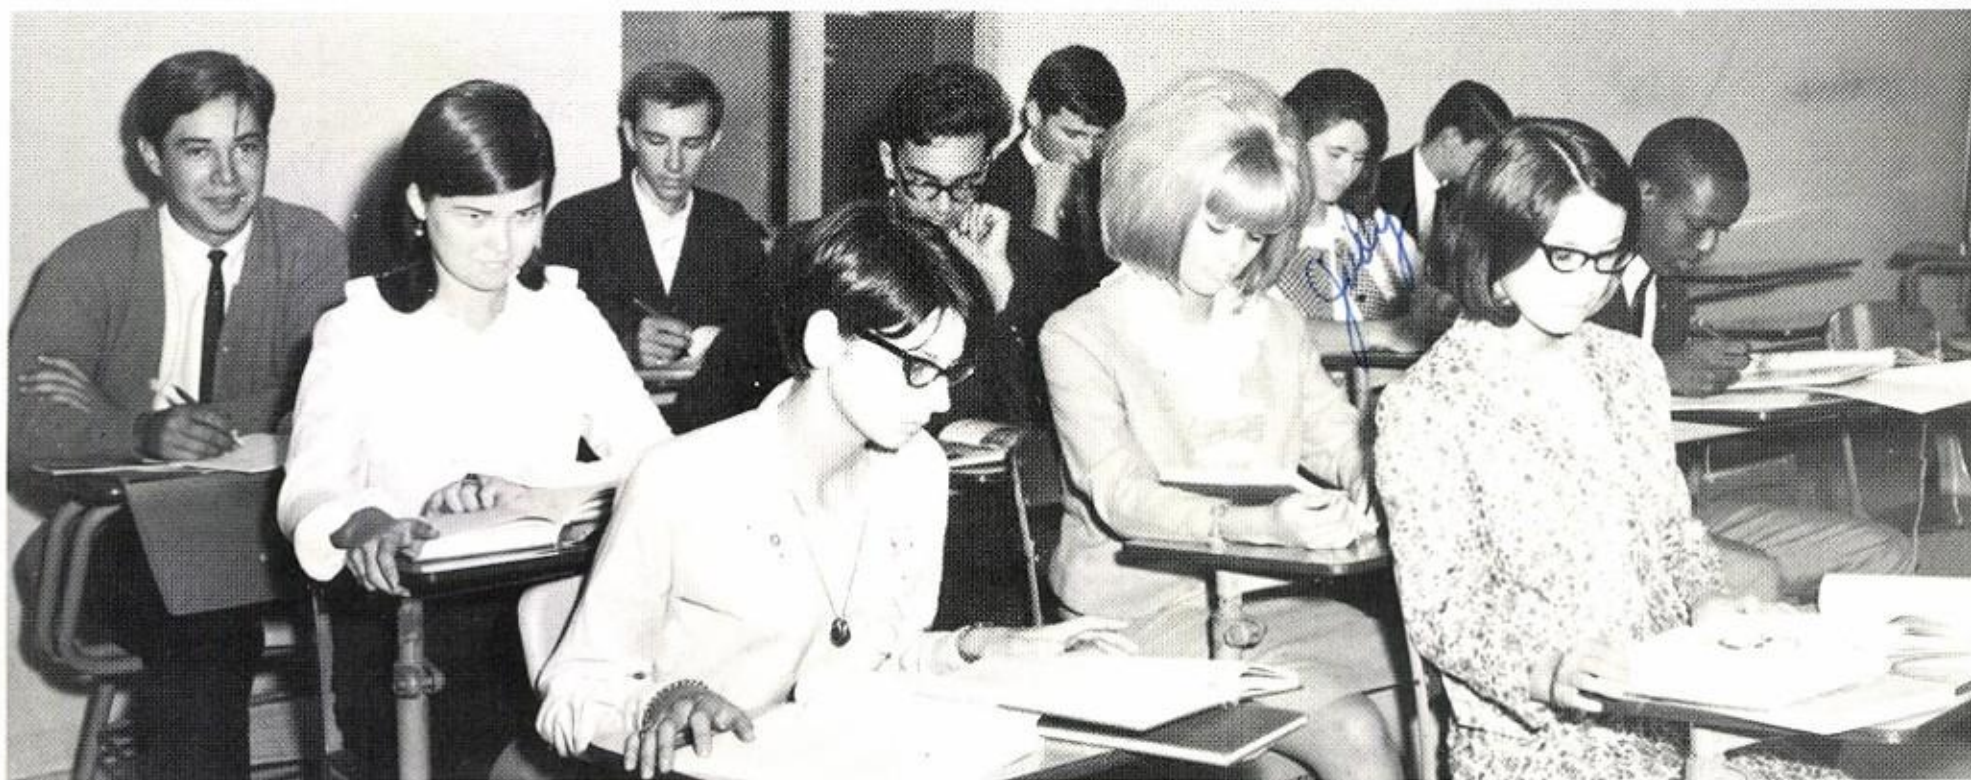

D.C.T. Builds Better Business Practices

The Diversified Cooperative Training Program (D.C.T.), under the skillful guidance of Mr. Charles Hardy, has successfully completed its second year preparing students for full time employment in the business world. The twenty-five juniors and seniors enrolled in this program hold jobs concerned with mechanics, bookkeeping, and hospital work.

During the morning the D.C.T. student devotes two class periods to related study of personal and social development and specific vocational training. During the other two periods he takes required subjects. In the afternoon the student is trained by community businessmen in the vocation of his choice. Upon graduation many have the opportunity to stay on their jobs, while some enter college to prepare themselves further in the vocational field they have now chosen and experienced.

VERSATILE TRAINING IS BEING ACQUIRED in the D.C.T. program by students who study the fundamentals and ethics of business.

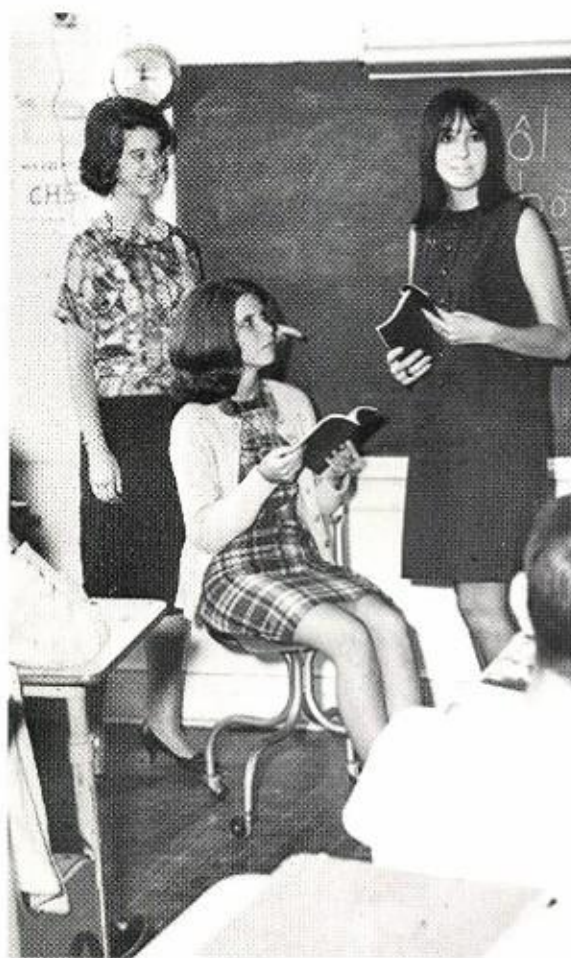

Talent and Technique Required in All the Creating objects and sounds of beauty is an enjoyable reward for any student of the fine arts. A student takes in hand a paint brush, a script, or a sheet of music in an attempt to create an exquisite form of art, using his innate talents.

At CHS the fine arts play a vital role in the making of a more beautiful world. Students in the program are conscientiously trained to appreciate the arts more fully and to participate in making society more cultural through interest in the fine arts.

For each music, art and drama student there is excellent training in many areas. General chorus, advanced chorus, and band are for the musically inclined; Art I, II, and III are for the artists; drama is available to the actors and any other student who is thrilled with the golden stage, lights, props, and the land of make-believe.

THE DRAMA STUDENTS act out the play CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN.

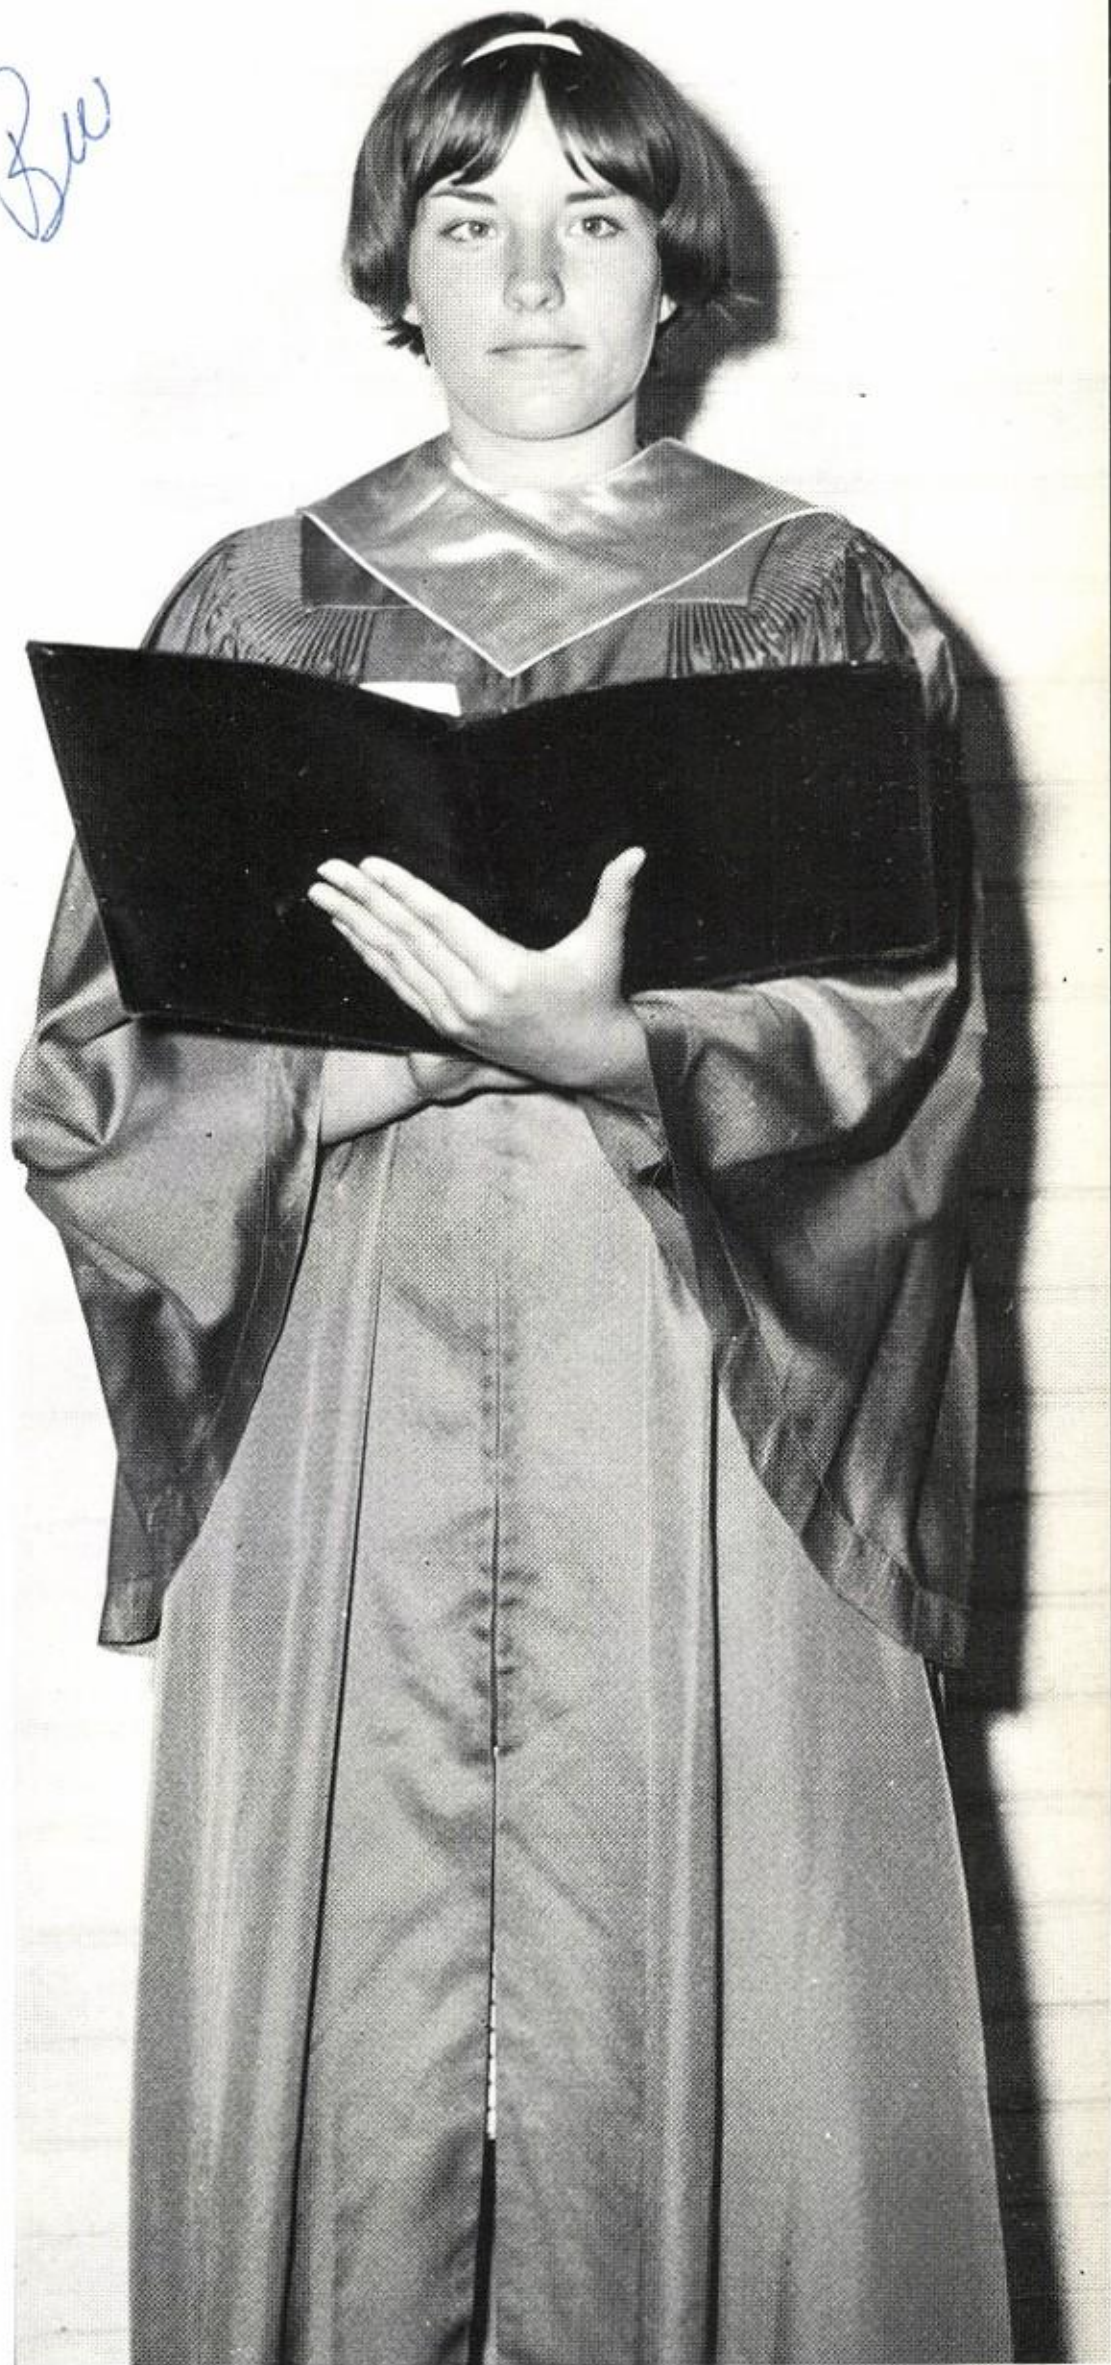

APPLYING MAKE-UP to each other are the junior high drama students.

UNDER THE DIRECTION OF MR. RALPH MOSELEY, the chorus and band rehearse steadily for their performances.

Beverly

Fine Arts Programs

LINDA SNYDER AND SUE HAAS sing "No Man Is An Island" with their director Mr. Reynolds accompanying on the piano.

REHEARSING FOR the annual Christmas concert, Beverly Driesbach discovers that perfection comes only through constant practice.

Students Learn to Apply

SHOWING AN ERROR to Ginny Cooke, Mrs. Overbey explains the form of a business letter.

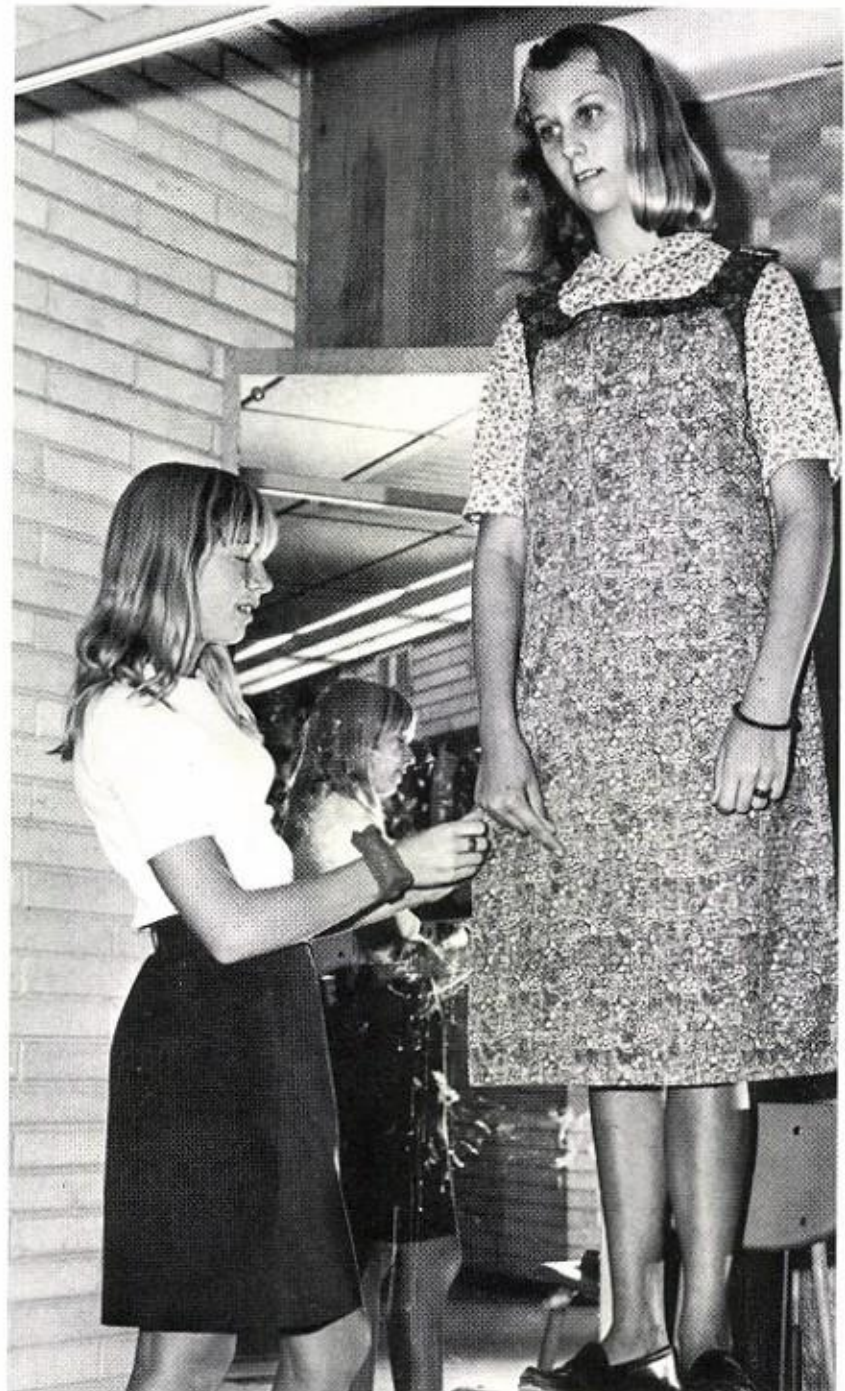

MRS. NORMA MONSON leads her class in friendly group discussions that make Modern Family Living a fascinating subject for seniors.

DEMONSTRATING THE PROPER USE OF THE BANDSAW, Mr. Moeller skillfully makes many wood designs and patterns for the boys to follow.

"WILL IT BALANCE?" asks general business student Del De Tienne as he works a practice set, preparing himself for the business world.

MALEY SHEDD LENDS ASSISTANCE to Claudia Bruce by pinning a shift for a sewing project.

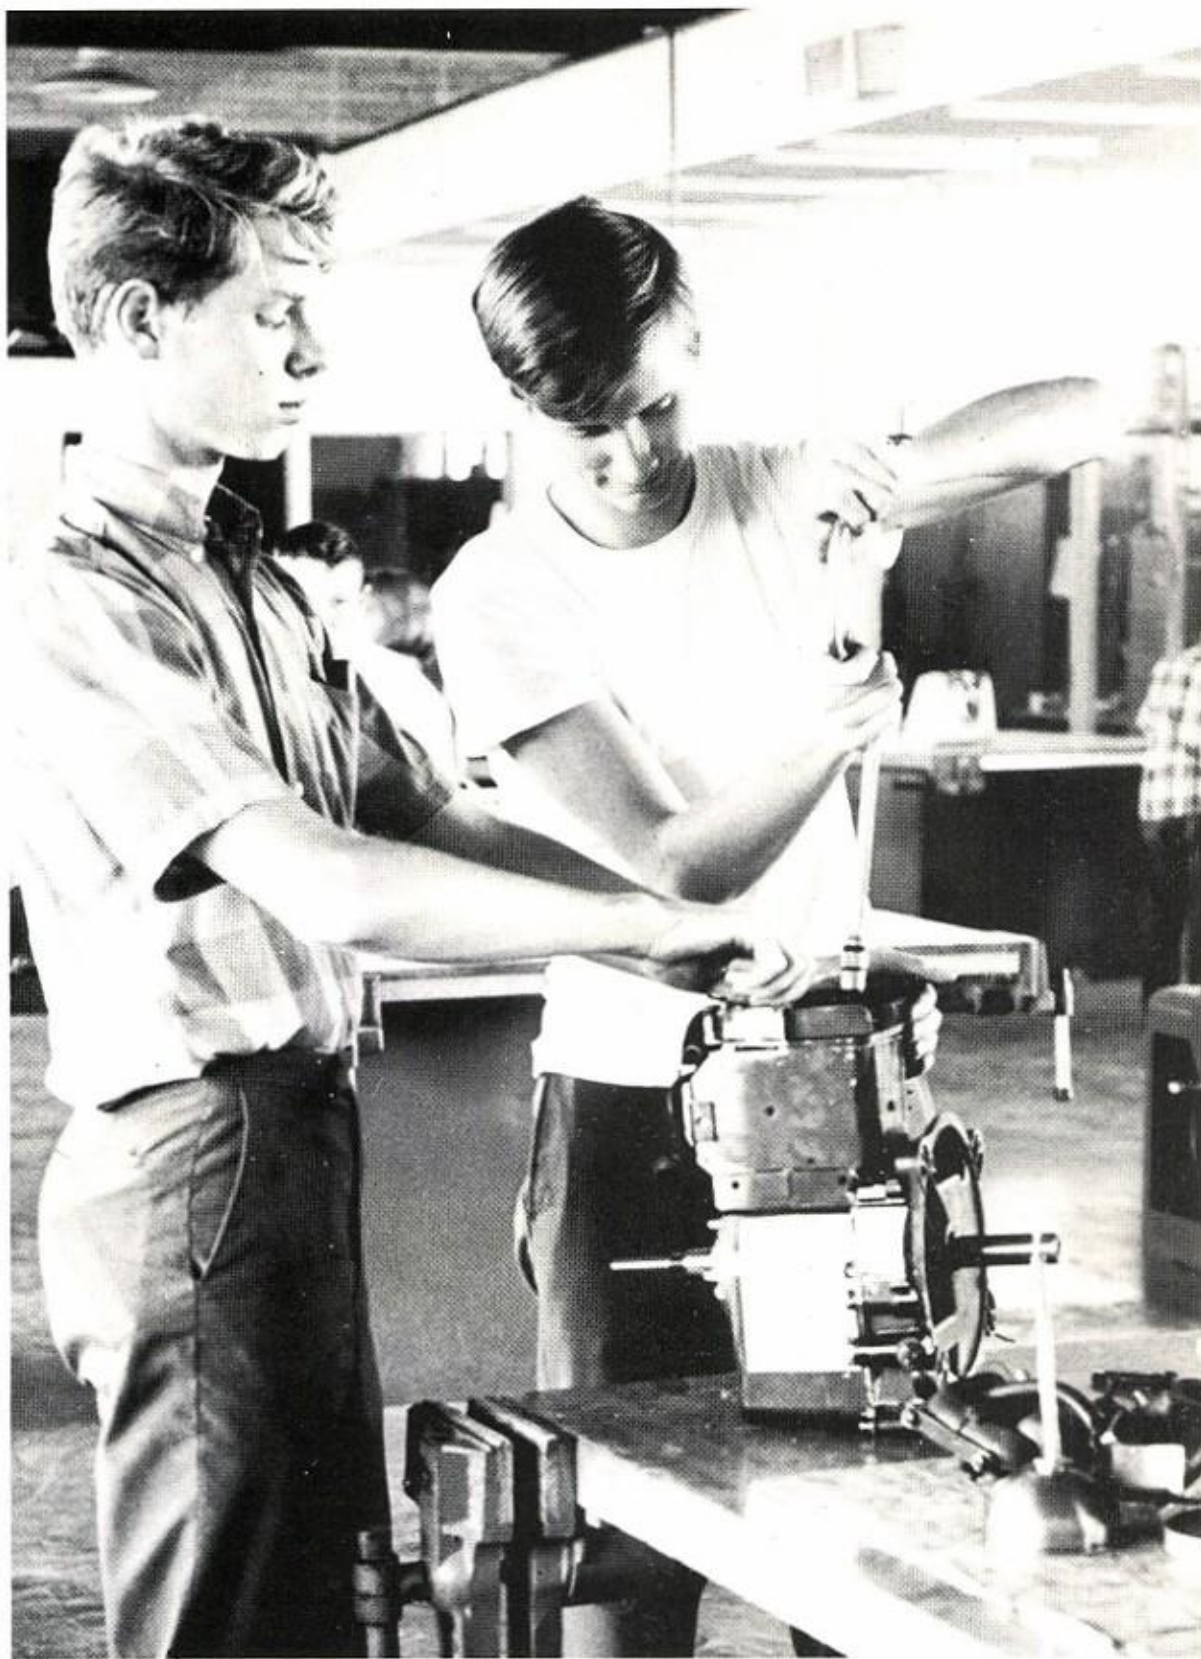

Practical Skills

CHS offers a number of vocational and practical courses such as typing, shorthand, book-keeping, general business, electronics, industrial arts, homemaking, modern family living, and driver education, all of which are essential in this quickly changing world.

Although these are practical subjects, they are arts in themselves. To be able to sew a dress well, drive a car skillfully, and to take shorthand efficiently requires just as much concentration as an artist puts into his painting. Through a variety of courses, CHS students leave high school well-trained for the practical side of life.

"NOT ANOTHER SKIP!!" murmurs Carolyn Tyner as she takes dictation from records.

RAOUL WEBB AND RICK TROLLOPE have fun experimenting with the parts of a lawn mower engine in an attempt to get it into smoother and better running order.

"NEXT TIME WATCH OUT FOR THAT FENCE," warns Mr. Santello, as Carmen Racioppi practices driving behind the wheel.

Loyal Groups Offer Their Valuable Time

There goes the man with the broom faithfully cleaning up after CHS students. Throughout 1966-67 the custodians were responsible for sweeping miles of walls and classrooms as well as for keeping the school warm in winter and well-ventilated in summer.

Many a time a helpless call summoned one of the custodians to replace a fuse, mend a broken Tarpon, or catch the second floor ceiling as it fell. Willingly the custodians of CHS played their parts in the campus role.

For any stomach ache or cut knee, Mrs. Frieda Fite was ready and willing to help an ailing student. Many have felt her reassuring hand on their feverish foreheads.

Lunch, the most interesting activity of the day, was efficiently served by Charlotte High's cheerful lunchroom ladies. With two lunch periods this year, the lunchroom proved to be less hectic and one of the more relaxing periods of the day.

CLEANING UP THE CAFETERIA are our school custodians Mr. Clyde Matison, Mr. Merle Quaile, and Mr. Herbert Locker.

And Many Services

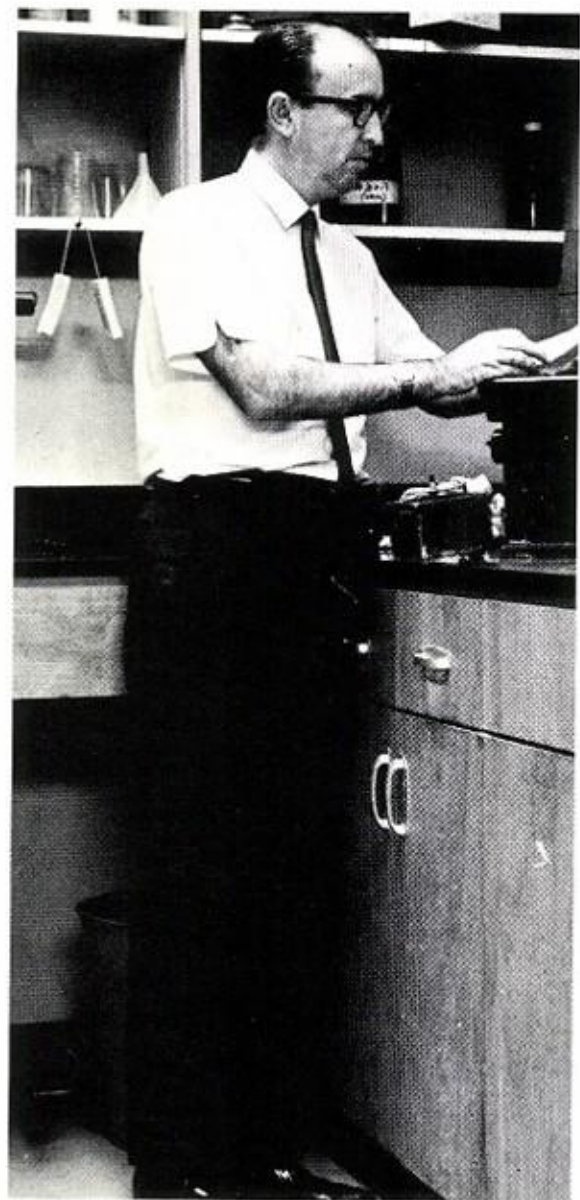

THE JUNIOR HIGH CUSTODIANS ARE Mr. Scilhamer, Mr. Theiss, and Mr. Faulkenberry, extremely hard workers.

JOANN JOYNER, Gertrude Albus, Ruth Roadman, Charles Mann; (kneeling) Albert Farabee, James Manning, and Les Correll appear in their attractive uniforms in front of the bus loading area.

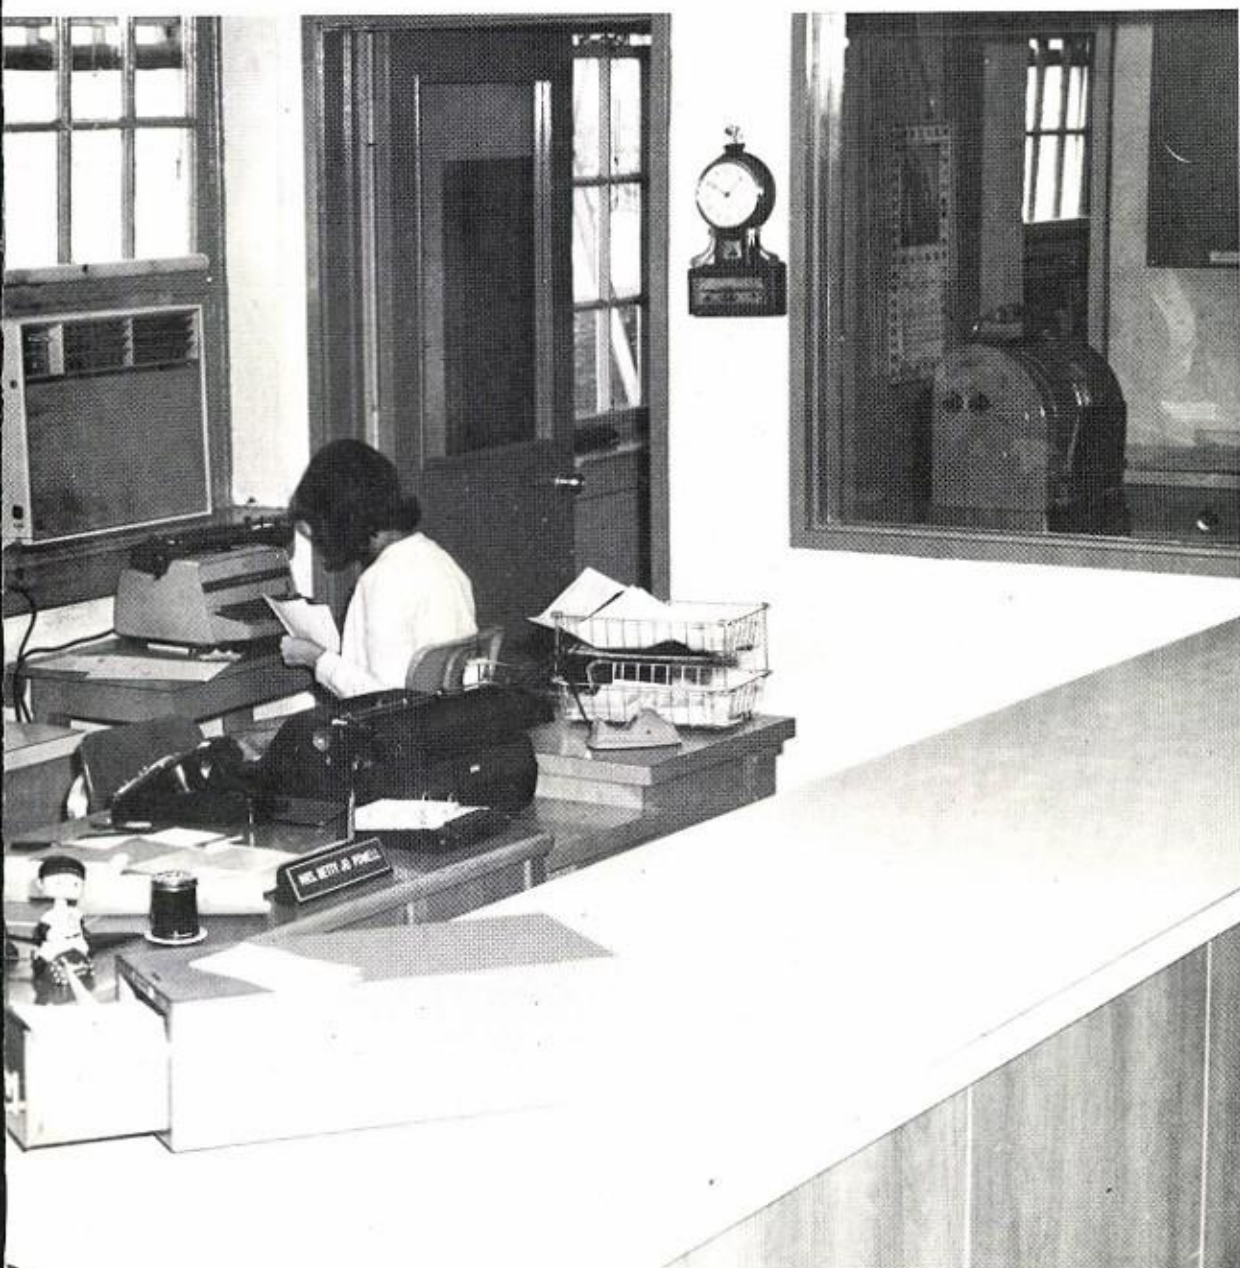

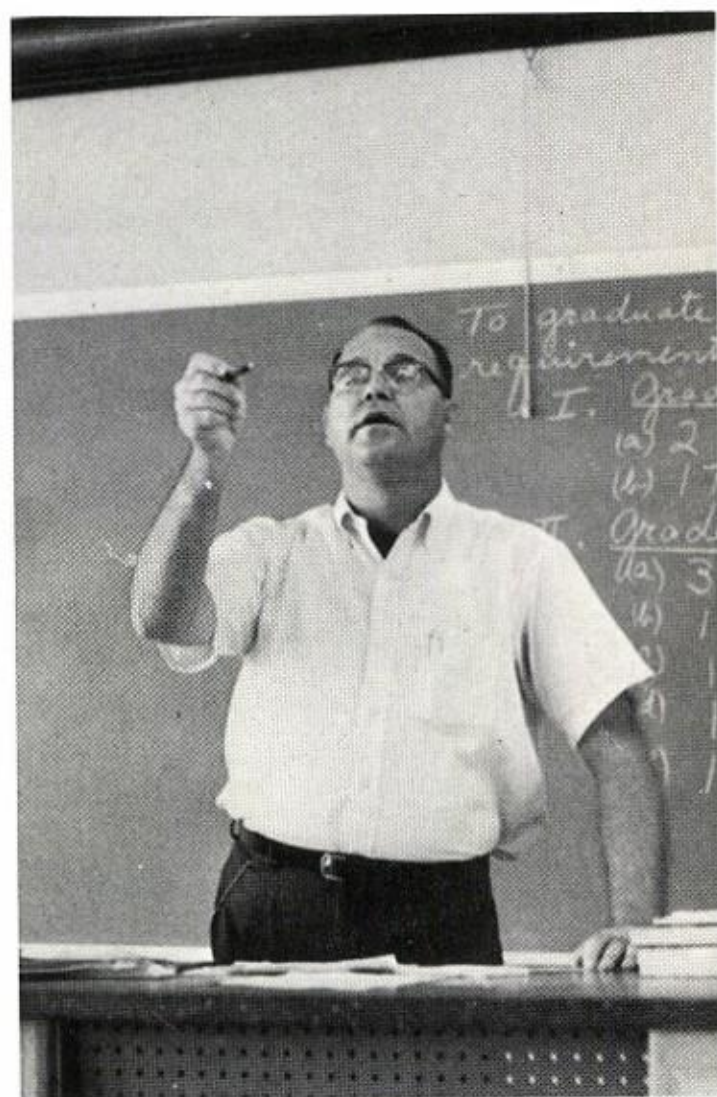

MRS. FRIEDA FITE efficiently administers first aid to two ailing students, Kathy Evert and Fred Hindman, in an attempt to relieve each ache and pain.

We believe . . . that the greatest strength on earth is the power to give knowledge. This task of imparting knowledge is the role of the teacher. This talent is not only the power to instill information in others, but, even more so, it includes the all-encompassing scope of training each student as an individual, a student, and a citizen who must reason, understand, and behave as a responsible part of this nation. We believe that the teacher holds the key to the world of tomorrow; he is an indispensable part of our life.

County School Board Furthurs Education

SEATED IN THE NEW ADMINISTRATION COMPLEX are the members of the school board, Mr. Frank Smoak, Mr. Robert South, Mr. L. A. Ainger, Mr. J. A. McCullough, Col. Floyd Pfeiffer, Mr. Donald Birrell, and Dr. Hugh Adams.

Throughout the 1966-67 school year, the Charlotte County school officials, headed by Dr. Hugh Adams, combined all their efforts in order to seek the best possible facilities and programs available for the students. They met regularly to determine and adopt policies which they considered necessary for the efficient operation and general improvement of the county system.

In October the school supervisors, along with their secretaries, moved their offices to the new Administrative Complex located on Education Avenue. The completion of the complex marked the beginning of further progress for Charlotte County schools.

ON ORIENTATION DAY, Dr. Hugh Adams, Superintendent of Charlotte County Schools extends a warm welcome to the many new students.

Throughout the year of 1966-67 the faculty members of CHS and CJHS spent much of their time, energy, and talents inspiring students toward higher goals. They opened doors for students, who, without their guidance and understanding, would have gone astray, unsure of their role in the tomorrow.

Every teacher had his own unique way of adding something special to the life at CHS. Who could ever forget Mrs. Kinsey's peanut brittle, Mr. June's daily jokes, or the walking fan in Mr. Guthrie's room? The faculty has indeed added its share to the many traditions of Charlotte High.

ACTIVITIES

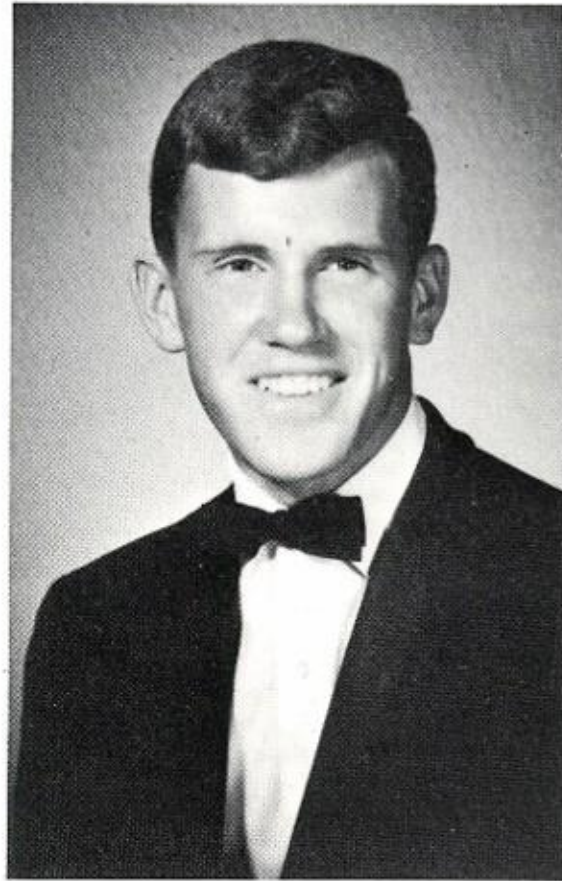

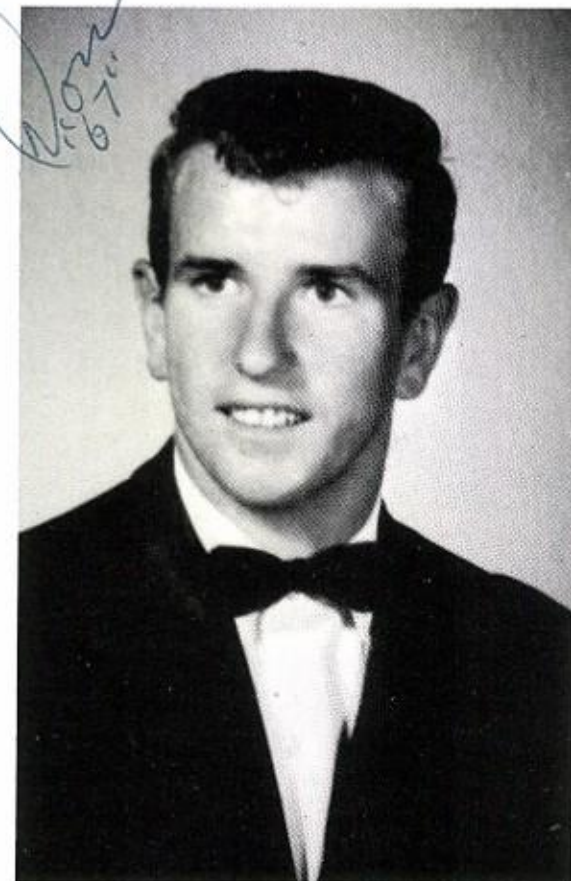

We believe . . . in those who represent our school in school and community activities. Whether it be as a reigning queen, a member of the newspaper staff, or an outstanding individual, these students play an important part in our lives, for they are the representatives of our school throughout the community and state. A band member marches down the street; a student speaks before Boys' State; someone's picture appears in the paper as Girl or Boy of the Month. To every outsider, our leaders are Charlotte High School. We thank these worthy students, for each day they make us prouder of our school.

Selects Favorites

In an attempt to honor fellow students in their class, the Senior Class chose students for Senior Favorites. Not allowing for repetition in the categories, the Senior Class sponsor, Mr. Harold Selley, limited Senior Favorites to five categories this year: Best All-Around, Best Looking, Best Personality, Most Intelligent, and Most Athletic. Those chosen were announced at the Senior Banquet in May.

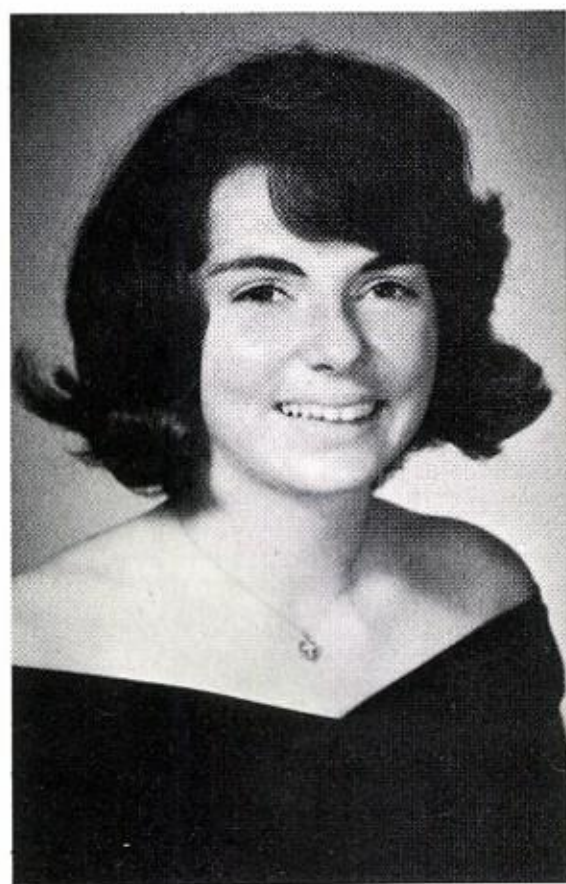

The candidates for the categories were selected by a vote of the Senior Class. The votes were tallied and those two or three receiving the most votes were placed on a final ballot from which the Senior Favorites were selected.

Isabel Turner Reigns as 1967 Miss CHS

Three years ago Donna McCullough was crowned as the first Miss Charlotte High. To continue this tradition, the "Tarpon" Staff again sponsored the annual Miss C.H.S. pageant.

The fifteen senior girls who competed for this honor each represented a club and were chosen on the basis of their scholarship, leadership, school spirit, character, service, and beauty.

In September the candidates were introduced to the student body at the Miss C.H.S. Assembly, a yearly event. Also at this time the Annual Staff began their subscription campaign.

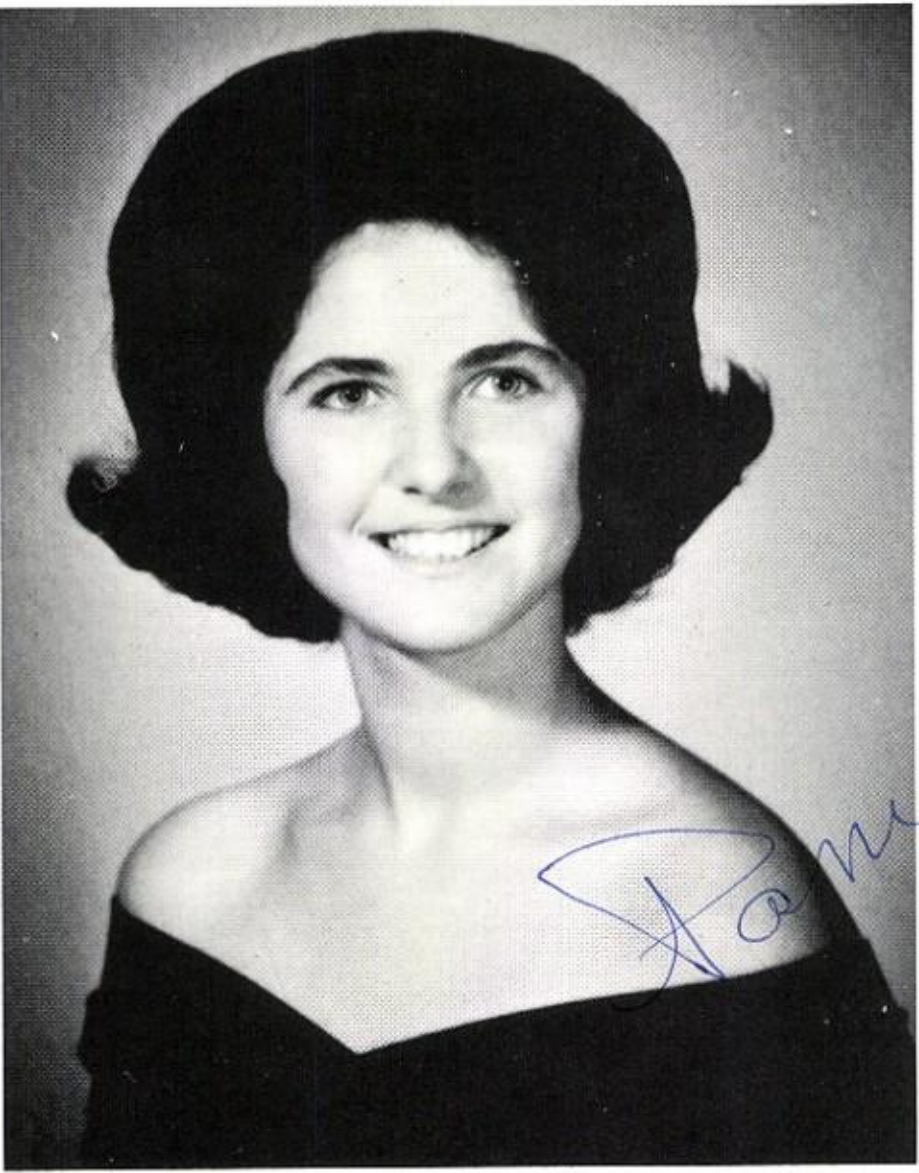

Finally, in February, the coronation was held at a dance co-sponsored by D.C.T. and the "Tarpon" Staff. Isabel Turner received the title of Miss Charlotte High for 1967 and was presented her crown by Beth Jamison, Miss C.H.S. of 1966. Pam Crosland and Judy Jones were named first and second runners-up, respectively.

MASTER OF CEREMONIES Jim Doran, Mike Polk, Amy Bandler, and former Miss C.H.S., Beth Jamison, await the announcement of the new Miss Charlotte High.

Sherre Mason Proudly Reigns as the '67

On November 4, Sherre Mason became the new Homecoming Queen. Before hundreds of anxious Tarpon fans, alumni, and interested spectators, Rusty Taylor, President of the Student Council, crowned Sherre. Her court was composed of six lovely candidates selected by the Tarpon football team. Competing for the title, the candidates were Pam Crosland, Sherre Mason, and Isabel Turner from the senior class; Koni McQuillen and Ruth Ryan from the junior class; and Suzanne Moore from the sophomore class.

After the Homecoming game with Pahokee, the annual Homecoming dance was held in the CHS gym with the Tales of Woe playing. The alumni and students of Charlotte High filled the gym to near capacity.

Staff Continues Miss CHS Pageant

Twenty staff members filed anxiously into Room 204 seventh period each day. Here, the '67 Tarpon was created. As a passerby, one may have heard loud screams, groans, or any of a thousand other strange noises. These were just normal sounds, coming from anguished students releasing their daily emotions over the agony of meeting deadlines, begging for pictures, writing and counting copy, and planning the CHS pageant.

The deadlines were met and the annuals arrived in a shiny orange truck. The snoop passerby could no longer see nor hear the busy staff as they covered the staff windows to keep the Tarpon's secrets until the autograph party, where it was revealed to the satisfaction of CHS.

WORKING INDUSTRIOUSLY, AIDING JIM DORAN IN WRITING SPORTS COPY, are Nicky Myers and Eddie Estes.

Newspaper Gets New Name

Launching a new concept in journalism at CHS this year were twenty-six newspaper staff members under their faithful instructor Mr. "Jake" Jacobson. The '67 staff were all out to give CHS a paper that would interest the students. Undaunted by delays caused by such casualties as broken vari-typers and croppers, the staff produced superior papers. They started with a contest to name the paper. "The Voice of Boomer" was the winning name. Emphasis was placed on efficiency with a newly approved ad sales, a re-organized layout, and vari-typing of copy. After the first semester, the class was divided into Journalism I and II with the first section studying the theory and principles of journalism and the second group producing the paper.

"VOICE OF BOOMER" STAFF MEMBERS, ROBERT DONALD AND DICK STANLEY, work together to finish their copy in time for the vari-typist to set it in order to finish the dummy and meet the printing deadline.

Silver King Band Wins "Superior" Rating

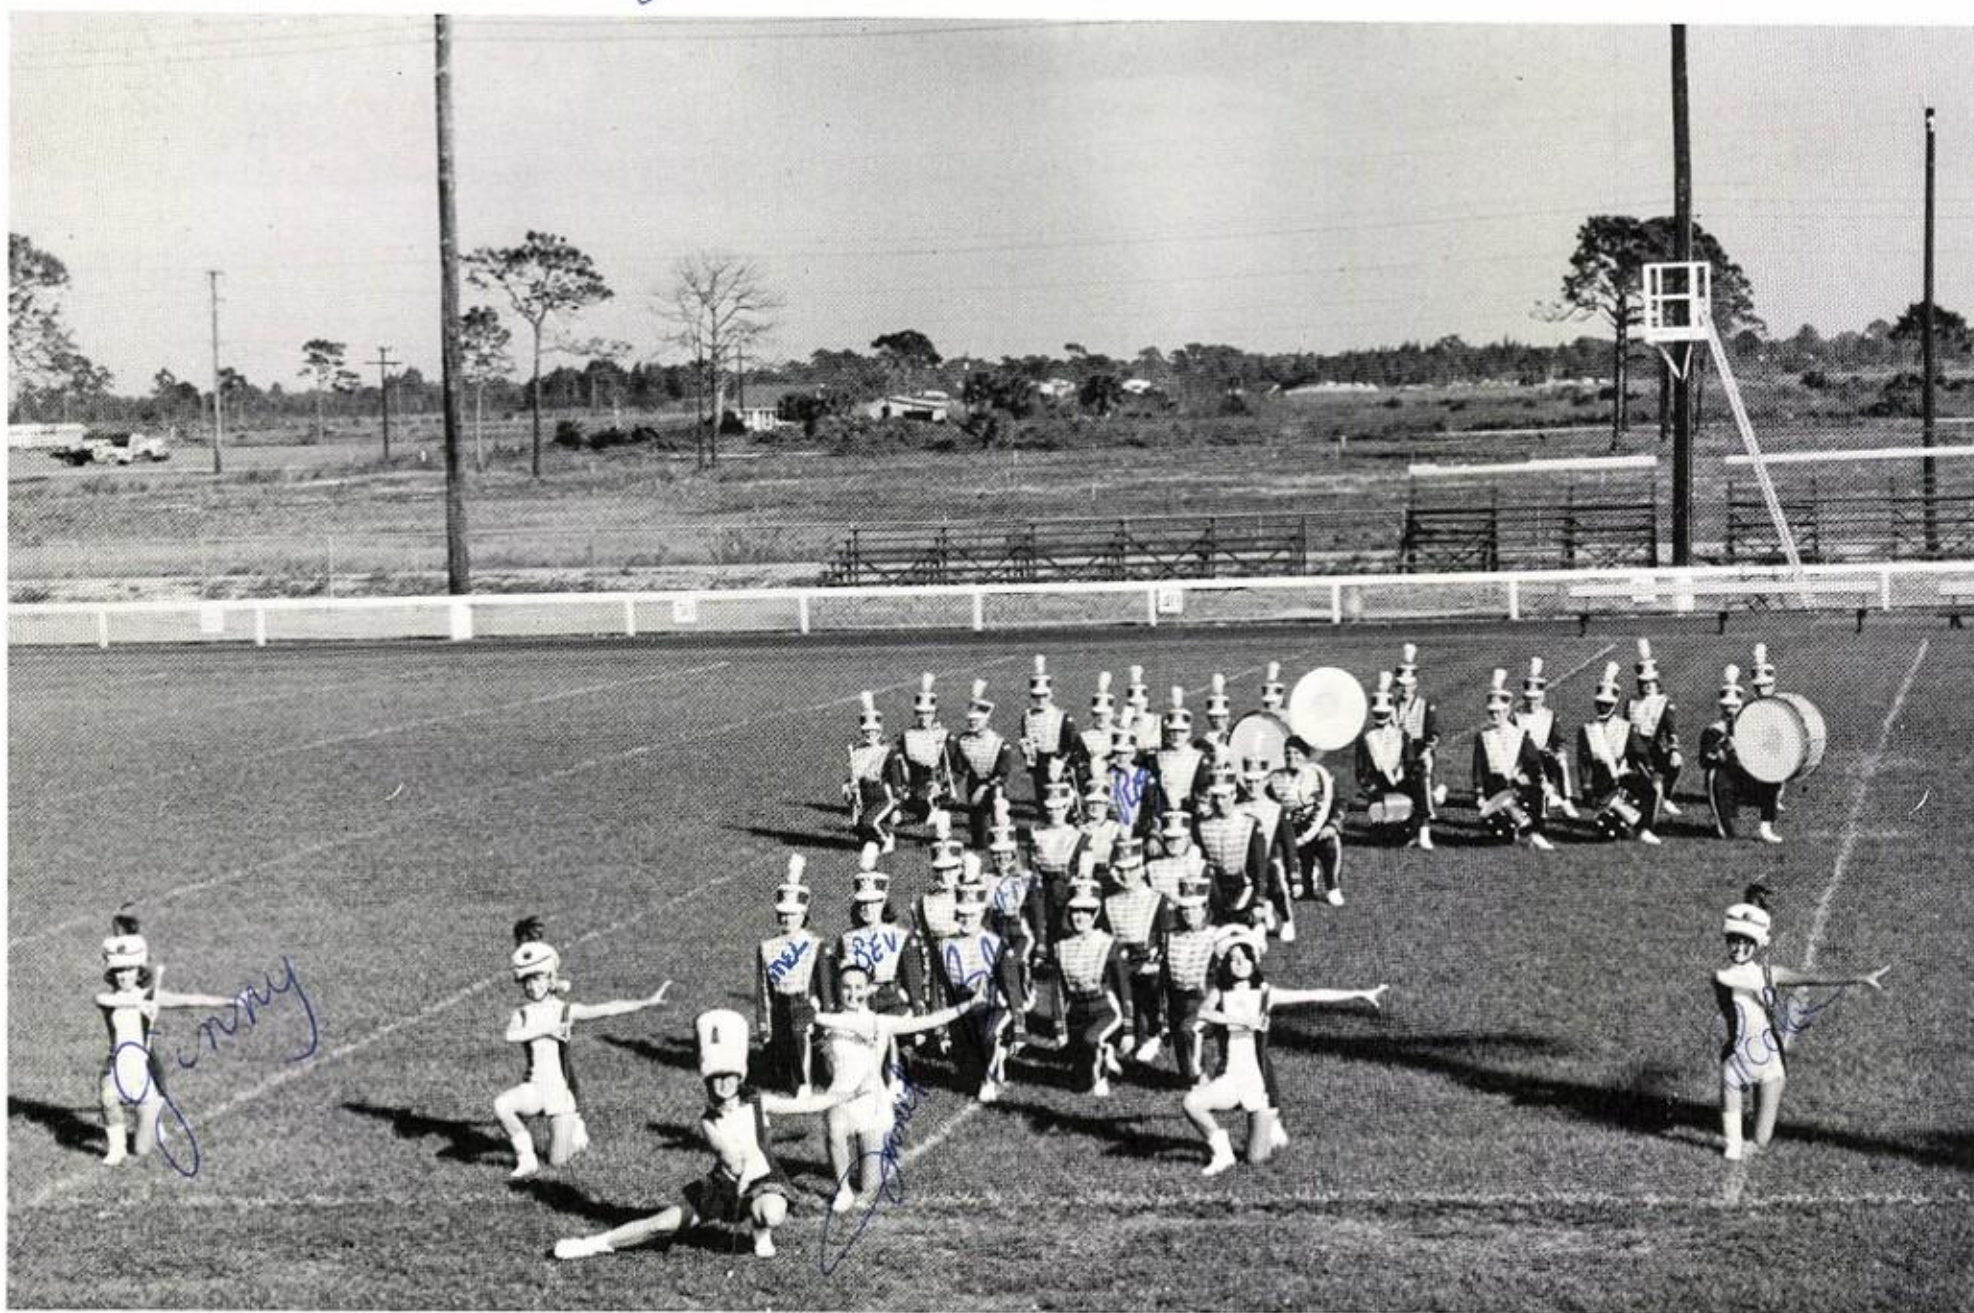

A FINAL TOUCH IS ADDED TO BAND PRESENTATIONS by the precision-minded majorettes who create routines for each performance.

During the past year, the community as a whole enjoyed the many excellent programs which the Senior High Band presented. Just a few examples are the Christmas Concert and Parade, the Homecoming Parade, the annual Band and Chorus Concert, and the presentations during the football halftimes.

In the District Competition of Bands in Sarasota the band won a superior rating and, in January, traveled to Tallahassee to play in the Governor's Inaugural Parade.

While spending many hours on individual practice for and participating in all of the band activities, each band member retained a satisfactory academic rating and took part in extensive school activities.

Under the direction of Mr. Ralph Moseley, the members worked as a well-organized body, resulting in a Silver King Band of which the entire student body was proud.

THE CHARLOTTE HIGH SCHOOL MARCHING BAND demonstrates a "T" formation, one of the drills which enabled them to place high in the district competition of bands, held annually in Sarasota.

Advanced Chorus and Ensemble Contribute

Singing is a way of life, as was discovered by the members of the Charlotte High Advanced Chorus and Ensemble under the excellent direction of Mr. Mosely, CHS's new music instructor. The ensemble was a specially selected group that sang for community organizations throughout the year. Both the advanced chorus and the ensemble presented a joint Christmas concert with the band for the school and public. After the annual spring concert they were once again the pride of the school.

Along with these concerts, the chorus, ensemble, and soloists represented the school in the annual music festivals held in Fort Myers and Saint Petersburg. Furthermore, representatives David Koon, and Ricky Hutchens, were sent to All-State Chorus on January 5-7 in Tampa.

THESE ADVANCED CHORUS MEMBERS, FINDING COMPANIONS IN MUSIC THROUGH PRACTICE are Gail Sutherland, Val Robinson, Linda Midgett, John Riggs, Gwen Whitton and Carolyn Snyder.

THE CHARLOTTE HIGH ADVANCED CHORUS KEEPS ITS ATTENTION ON STUDENT DIRECTOR RICKY HUTCHENS, as they rehearse selections for the Christmas concert on December 15.

DISCUSSING MUSIC FOR THE ANNUAL CHRISTMAS CONCERT are Carolyn Snyder and Rose Mary Koon, the accompanists for the advanced chorus and ensemble.

Month Awards

Each school month during 1967 at Charlotte High an outstanding Boy and an outstanding Girl of the Month were chosen for the Port Charlotte Kiwanis Club honors program. The club honored students for their achievements in scholarship, citizenship, and personal service to their school and community. The students selected were those who participated in many Charlotte High School activities and sports functions and worked for community projects while still maintaining high grade averages.

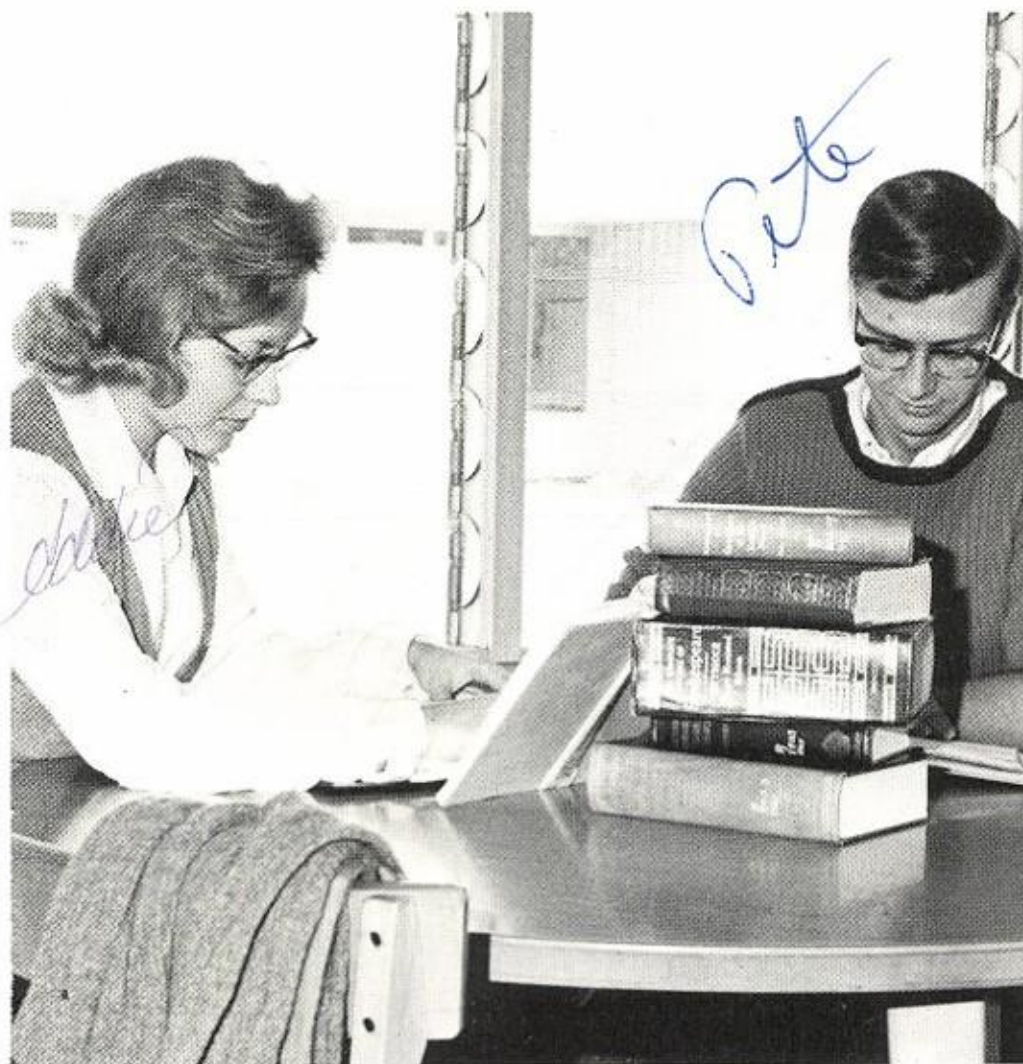

At the luncheon meetings of the Kiwanis Club the students were presented certificates of honor. Each month the students were accompanied by a faculty department head, who spoke on his phase of the curriculum. Along with their speeches, the students were able to explain to the club their personal ambitions as well as the activities at Charlotte High School.

CJHS Band Students Study

Music Theory

Notes of harmony and a strong rhythm . . . these are the two main components of good music. Both of these were often heard coming from the junior high band building throughout the school day. Under the instruction of Mr. James Ynclan, the students in the beginning classes learned the fundamentals of music. After many hours of tedious practice, the students were then placed with the advanced group who constituted the marching band.

The band, consisting of 106 members, was occasionally seen marching in such parades as the Homecoming parade and the Punta Gorda Christmas parade. During the spring of 1967 CJHS Band exhibited its talents and achievements in a spring concert.

THE SOUSAPHONE PLAYERS OF THE CHARLOTTE JUNIOR HIGH BAND are Andy Whitebrook, Randy Sisk, and Bill Venn.

Chorus Learns Music Appreciation

The fact that music can provide entertainment as well as a basis for companionship was discovered by all the choral students who entered Room 210 during sixth period each day. In this class, the CJHS chorus, the students were taught by Mr. Reynolds, director of the chorus, the vocal techniques and the history of music from its earliest beginnings. With a basic knowledge of music and many hours of practice behind them, these students are then able to enroll in advanced chorus when they reach high school and audition for the ensemble.

The students gained much pleasure in this choral program and found gratification in enriching their knowledge to derive enjoyment in later life from music.

EXPRESSING THEMSELVES THROUGH MUSIC are these Junior High chorus members under the competent direction and accompaniment of Mr. John Reynolds.

THE MEMBERS OF THE JUNIOR CHORUS are; (front row) Larry McKean, Gene Fulford, Lester Cummins, Joseph Wilcoxon, Tommy Cunningham, Allen Strickland, Greg Wade, Keith Gibbs, Bob Miller; (second row) Sandra Aurandt, Betty Adkins, Susan Johnson, Lou Ann Kuehlke, Vicky Reed, Debbie Brumbaugh, Phyllis Hilenski, Donna Allen, Debbie Cummins, Linda Wrobel, Renee Brown, Judy Ewalt, Russell Wiseman; (third row) Jena Jernigan, Lynn Rhinesmith, Gwen Haas, Cindy Horton, Linda Snyder, Mary Lou Cudrik, Charleen Reece, Vicki Warrem, Priscilla Newell, Janet Newell, Susan Cole, Brenda Moran, Lucille McCarty, Bobby Keeney; (fourth row) Mike Brower, Peggy Keen, Rosa Pattie, Denise Overkamp, Arlene Wilson, Violet Erickson, Brenda Harshman, Brenda Goodwyne, Jill Hadley, Donna Koon, Judy Jernigan, Sylvia Howze; (back row) Tony Hutchins, Carmen Racioppi, Arthur Wade, Harold Mack, Joe Apple, Bobby Matichs, Terry Norton, Ed Bennett, Richard Apple, Leonard Doran, Kenny Darby, Mark Reynolds, Frank Lenzion, Randy Comfort, Gared Osborne, and David Stephens.

Staff Covers CJHS Campus

MR. ESCOE ROBINSON, SPONSOR OF THE "HURRICANE HIGHLIGHTS" STAFF instructs Nancy Lane, editor, Enid McKenzie, news editor, Jerra Poteet, associate editor, Nancy Stuenkel, art editor, on the editing and production of a perfect paper.

Ten "Hurricane Highlights" staff members beamed with pride at their completed papers. These staff members had worked many hours in preparing the papers printed through the year and had to go through many hours of learning newswriting and the requirements needed to produce an effective newspaper from Mr. Robinson, their instructor. They also had to cover the C.J.H.S. campus in search of all news that would be of interest to their school and community. Each member was required to have a C in English or a talent in art.

The finished newspaper showed the community what the students really thought about CJHS and also helped the students to learn the importance of good communications.

We believe . . . that through working with others we can learn to express ourselves and develop our interests. In such a confusing, specialized world of today, each must find himself and decide his future before he leaves high school. By working with others, we can see what we are and what we are not. Whether it be searching for a career, a hobby, or just a group to be active in, we can find our place in one of the many organizations of our school. Yes, Charlotte High School is more than a school; it is a place to discover ourselves.

Latin Club Reactivates Romance Language

Adding a romantic flavor to CHS life, Latin Club proved to be a source of fun and learning. Part of Latin Club's uniqueness was its officers. The two consuls acted as presidents, the scriba as secretary, and the quaestor as treasurer. The Latin Club meetings were enlivened by games using the Latin language, enabling the students to utilize their knowledge. In January the initiation of new members gave the club recognition throughout the school.

Among Latin Club's projects this year were the sponsoring of the Nationwide Latin Test, decorating for the Christmas concert, and the selling of class pins.

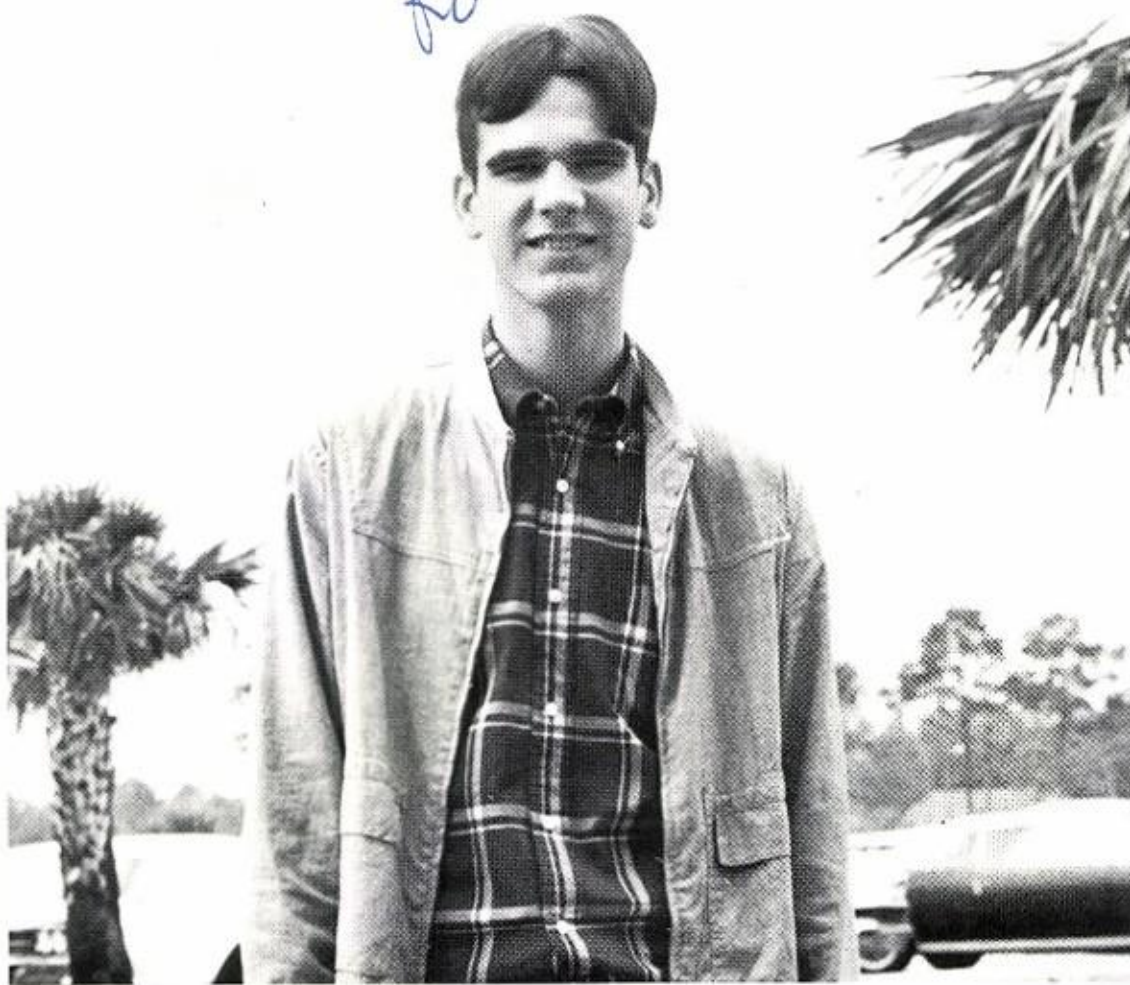

GEORGE ROZELLE, CAROL DUFFANY, AND FREDDIE WARREN work on the Nationwide Latin tests, sponsored by the Latin Club every year.

THE OFFICERS of Latin Club are Isabel Turner and Robert Donald, consuls; Sherre Mason, scriba; Kim Crosland, quaestor; and Miss Eaton, sponsor.

NHS Recognizes Outstanding Students

LOOKING THROUGH THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY SCRAPBOOK with Mr. Jacobson, sponsor, are Pam Crosland, president; Carol Hall, secretary; Val Robinson, vice-president; Roger Hettema, Student Council representative; Carolyn Snyder, historian; and Tweenar Wolfram, treasurer.

Although scholarship is an important aspect of induction into National Honor Society, service, leadership, and character are equally important. This year NHS displayed its spirit by selling booster ribbons, sponsoring the Honor Roll Luncheons, and publishing the Student Directory. Other projects such as sponsoring the early morning devotional period, the NHS calendar, the NHS scholarship, and the Brain Brawl gave the members of Honor Society a chance to further their service to Charlotte High.

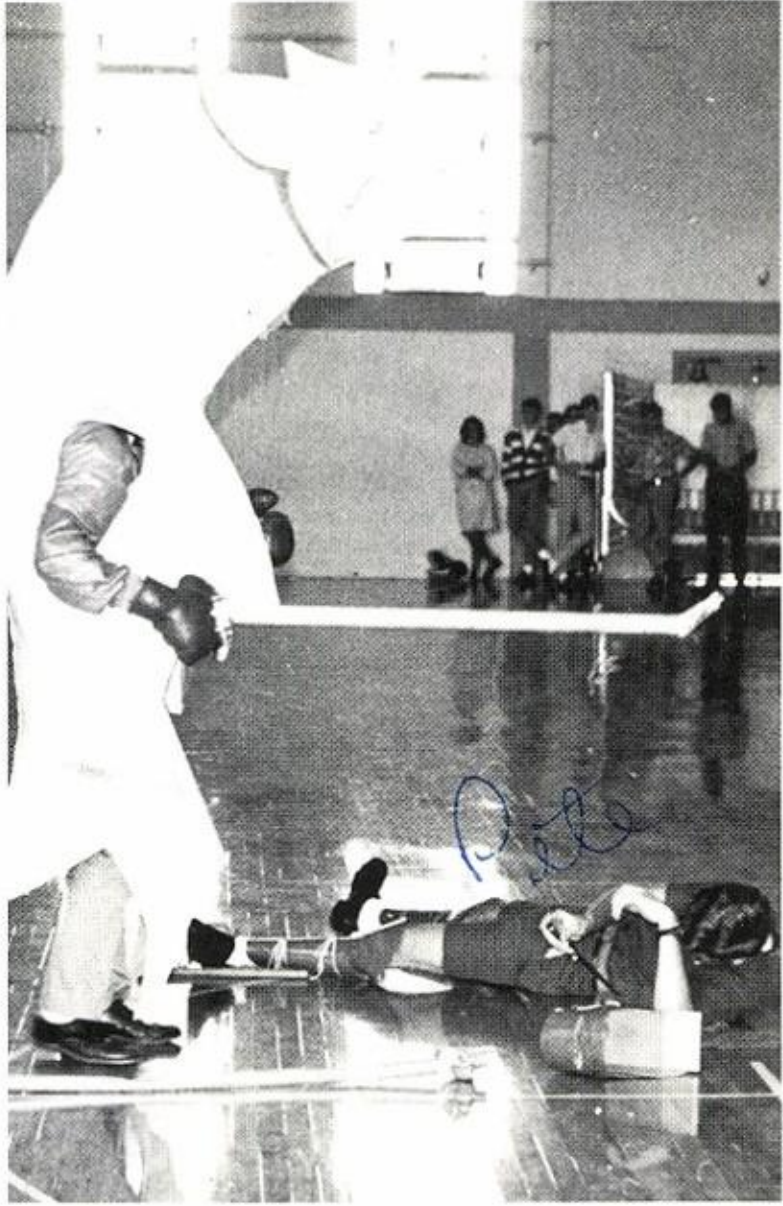

NHS MEMBERS Eddie Steadley, Bettie Libert, and Sandra McFarland use their spare time to support CHS spirit by selling booster ribbons.

and Produce the Play Cheaper by the Dozen

With a much larger membership than previously, the Thespians completed a successful year under the counsel of Mrs. Marilyn Jacobson. In order to be a member of the National Thespian Society, a student must have a minimum of one hundred hours of work, acquired by acting in a play or working on stage and in committees.

Among this year's rewarding projects were sponsoring the Bishop's Company in Step Down to Glory and producing the play Cheaper by the Dozen.

At commencement a deserving student received the best Thespian award. Furthermore, three scholarships were given to hard-working Thespians so that they might take a summer course in drama.

THE THESPIAN OFFICERS are Bruce Turley, president; Joan Lucas, secretary; Pete Straub, vice-president; and (not shown) Ricky Hutchens, treasurer.

WHEN THERE IS WORK TO BE DONE BACKSTAGE, Bruce Turley is always on the job.

Quill & Scroll Recognizes Literary Talents

QUILL AND SCROLL members Tweenar Wolfram and Patsy McDermott (above) proofread articles for "Ettolrac Etchings." The officers of Quill and Scroll (right) are Kelly Suggs, vice-president; Betty Blake, treasurer; Isabel Turner, president; Miss Nickerson, sponsor; and Nancy Bock, secretary.

Utilizing their creative talents, the members of Quill and Scroll contributed to the field of journalism by being active on either the TARPON or the VOICE OF BOOMER staffs, and by writing for local newspapers. During the month of March an initiation was held, at which time new members were inducted. Their main project for the year was the second annual publication of ET-TOLRAC ETCHINGS, a literary magazine composed of short stories, poems, and sketchings created by students of Charlotte High School.

The members of Photography Club were in an endless whirl of picture taking and developing throughout the year in an attempt to record CHS happenings on film. Many hours were spent in the darkroom practicing correct techniques and developing film for fellow classmates. This year the club purchased a machine for enlarging prints, which made it possible to develop pictures for the TARPON staff. During the second semester, Photography Club's main project was making individual student portraits.

M.F.L. Promotes Interest in Languages

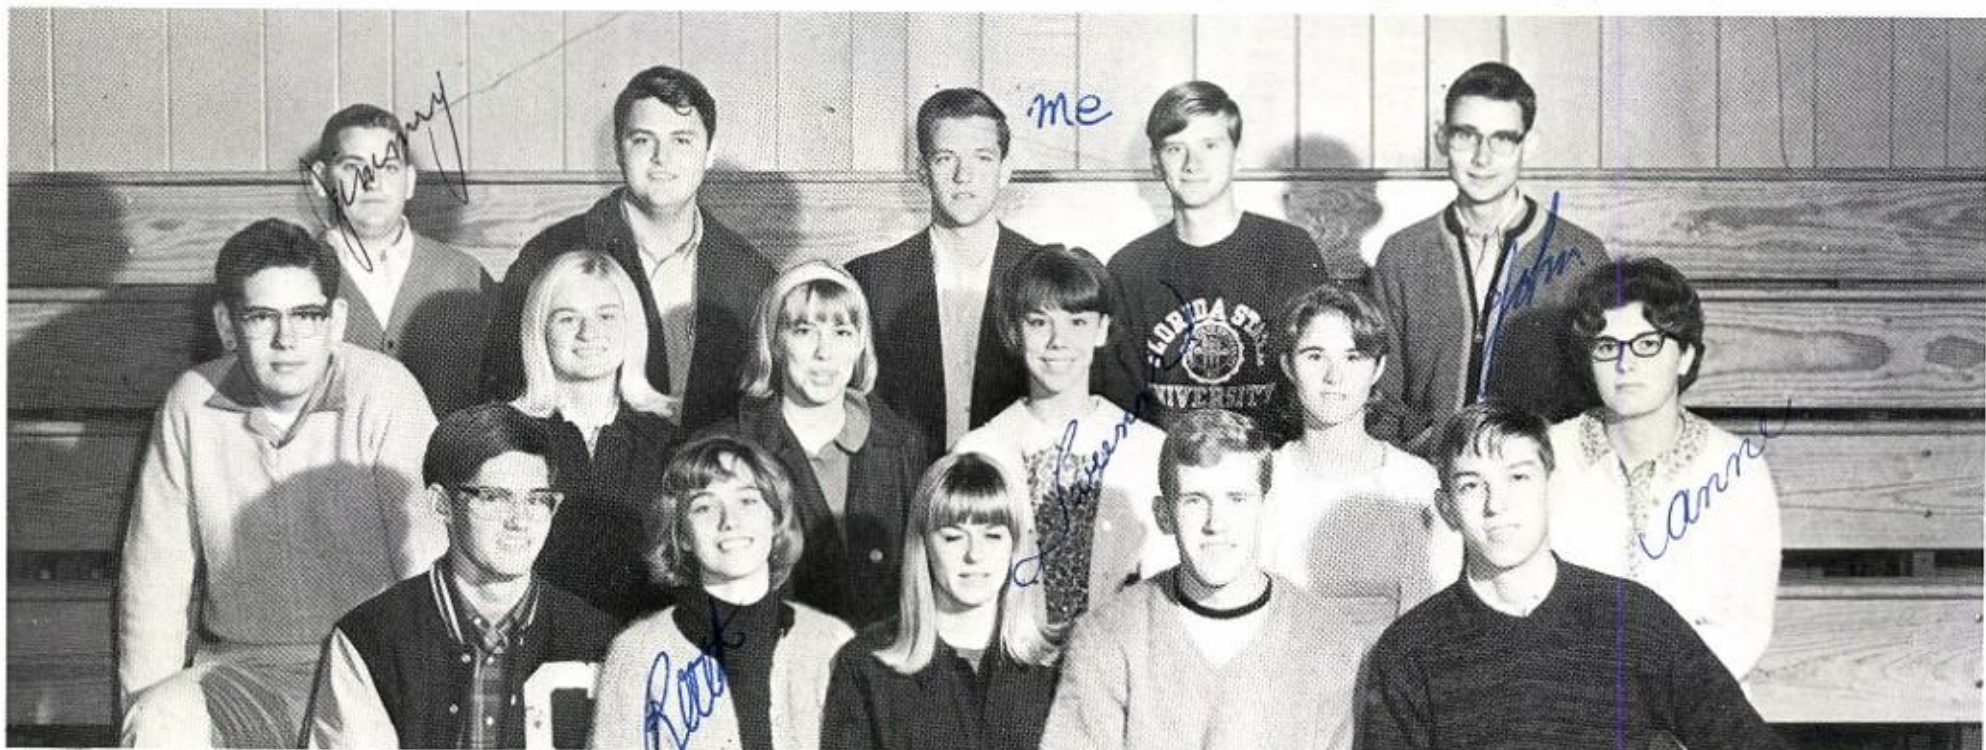

RICK TROLLOPE buys a Modern Foreign Language Club pin from two very eager salesmen, Margi Stephens and Tweenar Wolfram.

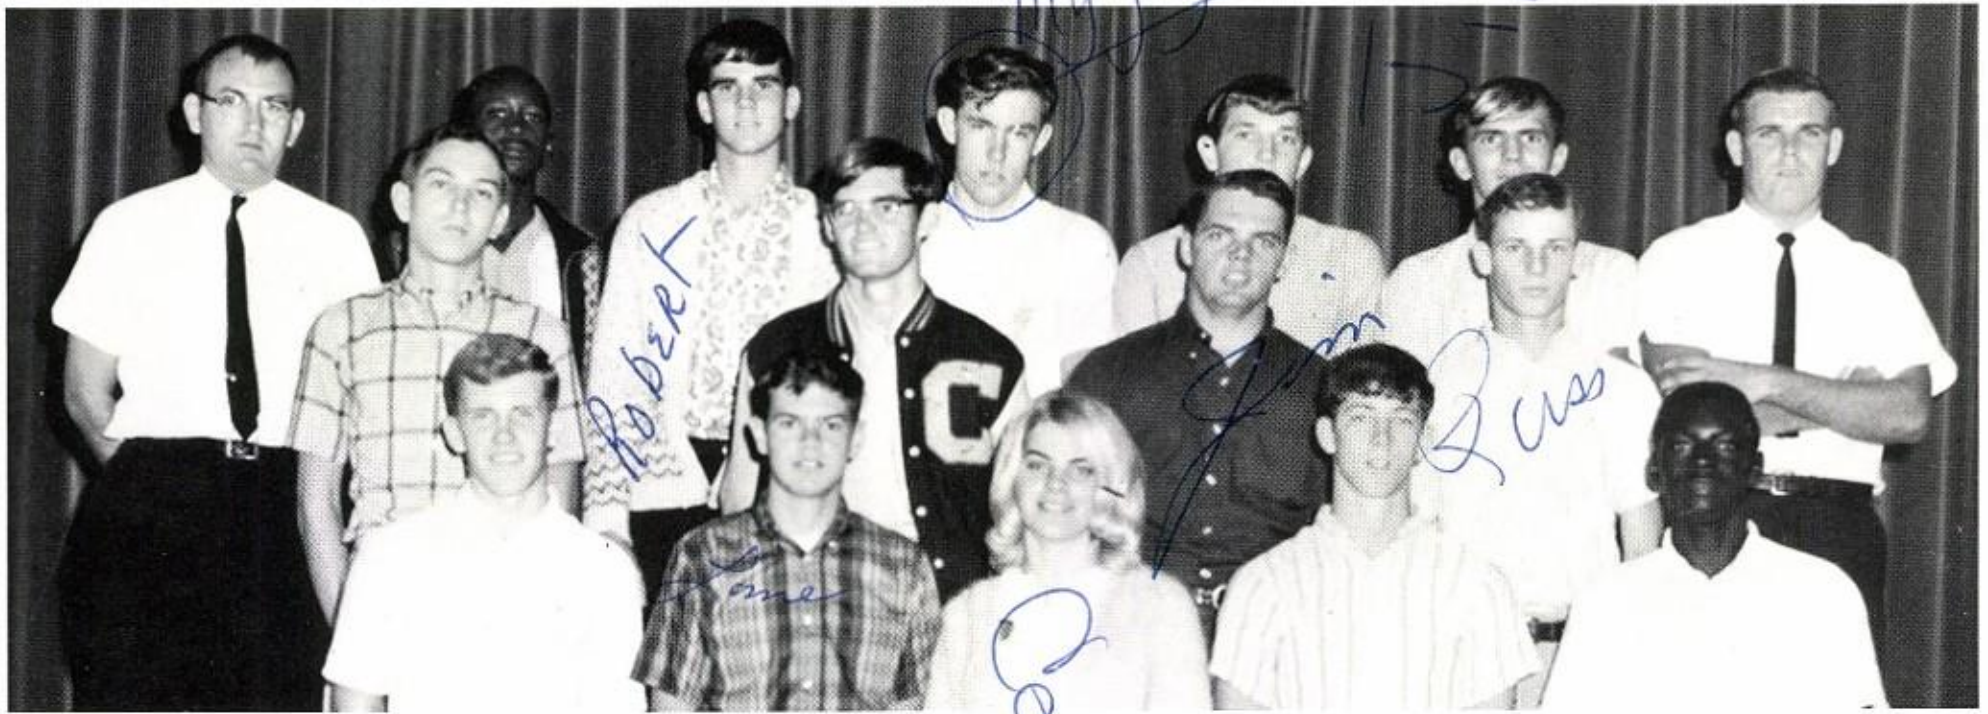

Established in 1965, the Language Club was designed for the student who is interested in broadening his knowledge of France or Spain. The club, not confining its interests to the language itself, also centers its purposes around the knowledge of French and Spanish life, history, and literature. Striving to contribute to the school stature and spirit, the club sponsored a number of projects. The major items undertaken were the showing of slides of Spain and Mexico and the selling of language records.

Senior Block "C" Sponsors the Car Smash

Spirit, playing ability, and a general interest in the school welfare were the main qualifications for a student to earn the letter "C". The responsible members of Block "C" were either cheerleaders or athletes who had lettered in one or more sports.

Block "C" sponsored a car smash during the Homecoming spirit week and a car wash later in the year. Both of these activities were enthusiastically supported by the student body as a whole.

THE OFFICERS OF BLOCK "C" ARE Russ Shakeshaft, president; Cathy Weeks, secretary; Jim Eklund, treasurer; Bill Townsend, vice-president.

BILL ANDREW, BILL TOWNSEND, and Lane Diedrick laboriously work on washing one of the many cars at the Senior Block "C" car wash.

Charlotte Pep Squad Boosts School Spirit

THE PEP SQUAD officers are Kathy Johnston, parliamentarian; Charmaine Hencher, Secretary; Katie Oliver, Publicity Chairman; Tweenar Wolfram, President; Betty Blake, Treasurer.

What did one hundred and seven girls do every second and fourth Thursday of the month? They met in the auditorium and carried out the purpose of Pep Squad—to raise the spirit of Charlotte High. In carrying out this purpose, Pep Squad sold blue and gold booster pins and sponsored the Senior High cheerleaders. Pep Squad was successfully led by Miss Eaton and Miss Nickerson.

The annual Powderpuff football game was held December 2. While the graceful male cheerleaders cheered, the muscular girls showed everyone how to play football right! During halftime doorprizes, donated by local merchants, were given out to start the halftime festivities. Then came the moment everyone had been waiting for—the crowning of Powderpuff Queen Joe Bennett.

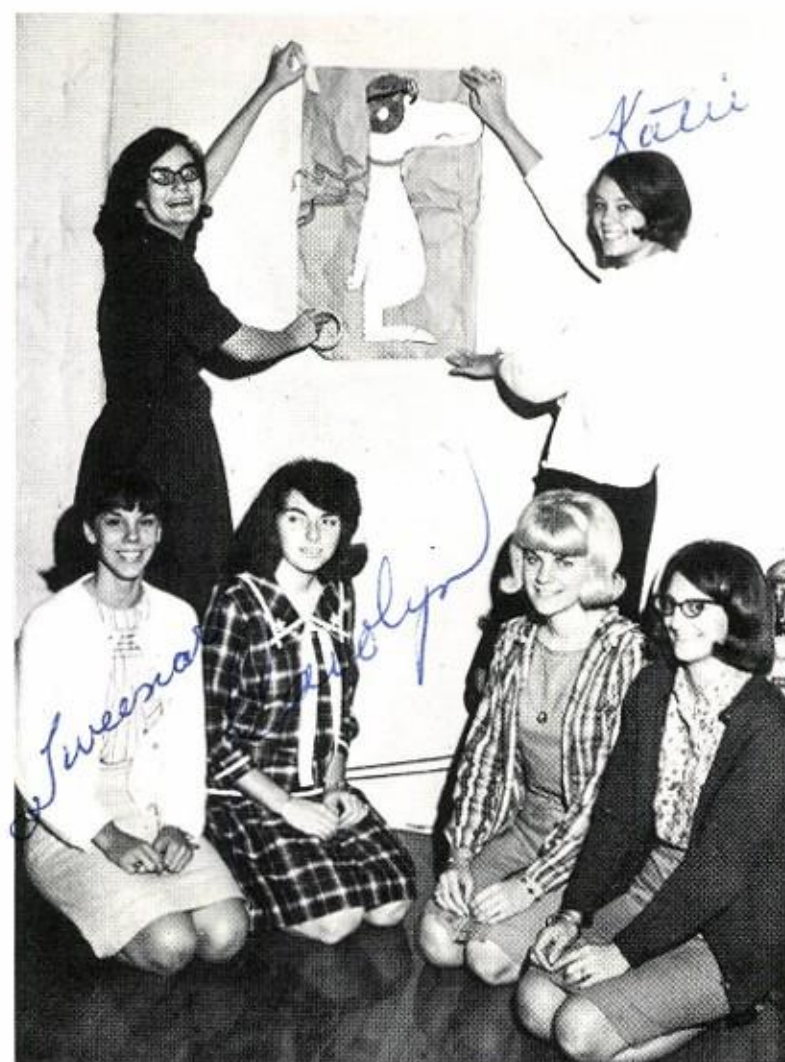

DURING HALFTIME, Coach Robert Jacobson, who gave his valuable time to train Jake's Jerks, delivers careful instructions to the energetic girls.

Industrious Para-Meds Work in Hospitals

As in past years, the Para-Meds' main project was its service to the local hospitals. Past projects included the annual gladiola sale, attendance at the district and state conventions, and a performance of a skit before the nurses' association. Along with performing services for the hospital staff, the students receive valuable first-hand education in the field of medicine. Under the supervision of Mrs. Minta Harper and Mr. Rupert Guthrie, they plan to provide a scholarship for a worthy senior.

THE OFFICERS OF PARA-MEDS ARE (front row) Mrs. Minta Harper, sponsor; Brenda Jackson, secretary; Anne Humphrey, vice-president; (back row) Audrey Le Vault, president; Garry Albritton, treasurer.

PREPARING TO GO TO WORK at Charlotte Community Hospital or St. Joseph's Hospital are Gwendolyn Whitton and Evie Bryant.

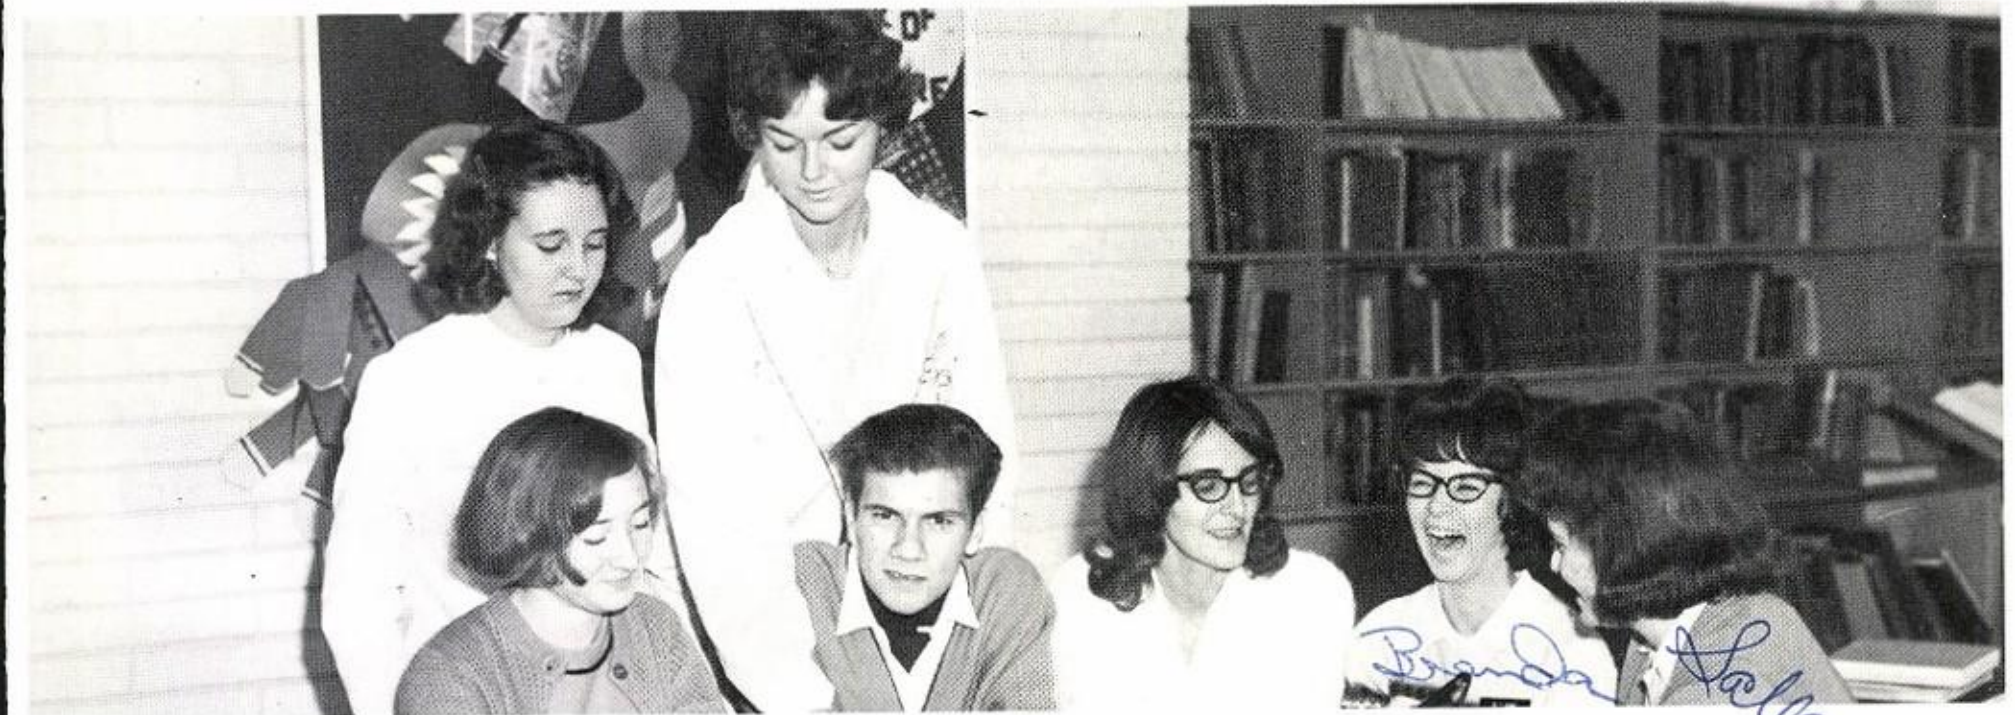

Library Club Promotes Interest In Books

Sitting quietly behind a desk or placing the books in proper order, the Library Club members are constantly present in the library. This organization consists of students who take an interest in books, are planning for a career in library science, or show an interest in library work as a profession. Members work each day, either before school, during lunch, after school, or during class itself. In addition to shelving books, the members stamp passes, mend books, type reading cards, and assist in cataloging new books.

THE 1967 OFFICERS OF LIBRARY CLUB ARE Marilynn Jones, secretary-treasurer; Sherrill Newton, president; Sally Baker, historian. Not shown is Audrey Le Vault, vice-president.

Future Teachers of America Assist

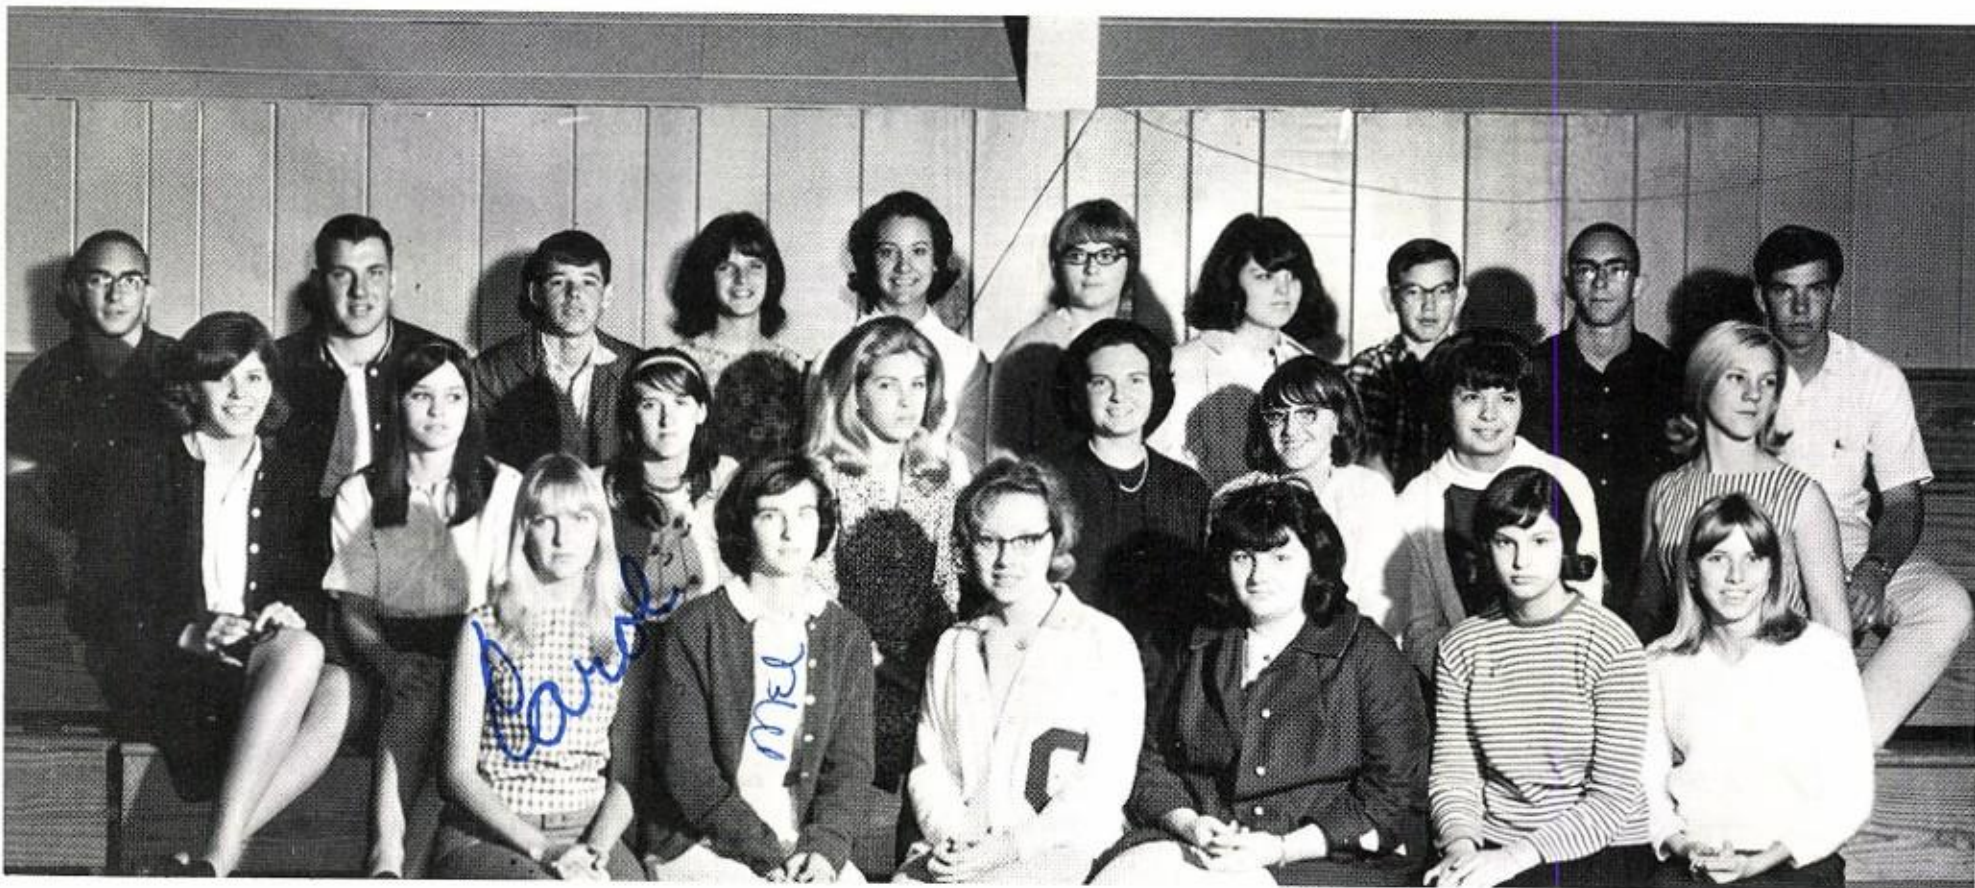

Assisting teachers at Sallie Jones Elementary School by working in the library and reading to the students was the main project of the Future Teachers of America this year. In addition to this service project, FTA held a carwash and a rummage sale and operated the concession stand at the Powderpuff football game. The proceeds from these money making projects were used for the FTA scholarship presented annually to a deserving senior member.

Future Homemakers Work "Toward

In an attempt to spur its members "Toward New Horizons," the Future Homemakers of America performed local projects such as presenting cookies to the faculty at Christmas, selling cookbooks, buying a punch bowl for the Home Economics Department, and attending the district convention. On the state and national levels, projects exploring the topics "Jobs—Careers and You," "Make Your Money Behave," and "Leisure Time—Constructive Time" were carried out.

D.C.T. Rates First In Homecoming Honors

Ending its second successful year at C.H.S., the D.C.T. Club accomplished many objectives through its various worthwhile projects under the guidance of their co-ordinator, Mr. Charles Hardy. The club float, entitled Flying High Over Blue Devil Pie won this year's competition for the homecoming float. Taking a survey on nation wide co-operative vocational training and entering the results into state competition was a useful project. Also serving the school in another way, the club supplied free basketball programs and edited a newsletter to the D.C.T. alumni.

Acting as host for the district convention held for the first time at C.H.S., the club enjoyed the honor of having Judy Tyner elected district secretary-treasurer. Rounding out the year, four members attended the state convention in early May. The Employee-Employer Banquet added the finishing touch to the year's activities.

Interact Sets Example Through Service

Newly formed this year, the Interact Club proved to be an outstanding club for boys. The Interact Club is an international organization primarily concerned with service to the school. Sponsored by the local Rotary Club, Interact was responsible throughout the year for improving the appearance of the school grounds and lunchroom. Furthermore, the club contributed to the national service by sending Care packages.

The motto "Inward thought, outward action" was typical of the sixteen boys that were members of the Interact Club. By being clean in thought, word, and deed, the boys set a good example for all to follow.

Junior High Council Governs Student Body

THE GOVERNING OFFICERS OF THE C.J.H.S. STUDENT COUNCIL ARE Ronnie Waldron, treasurer; Carolyn Peeples, president; Terry Knecht, vice president; and Peggy Foster, secretary.

Directing school activities and governing the student body are the main purposes of the Charlotte Junior High School Student Council. Members are chosen from each homeroom and club.

The Junior High Student Council had a full program this year. They sold C.J.H.S. pennants, megaphones, sponsored the school calendar, showed movies for the student body, and provided recorded music during the lunch hour. Enthusiastically guiding the Charlotte Junior High School Student Council were Mr. Nathaniel Parkman and Mr. Walter Schmidt.

Junior Honor Society Promotes Scholarship

National Junior Honor Society assisted the Tarpon staff by helping with the subscription campaign in the junior high. They also were responsible for the bulletin board in the cafeteria, "Hobo Day", a gift to the school, and a toy and old clothes drive for the needy at Christmas. The club, sponsored in previous years by Mrs. Eleanor Webb and Mrs. Benson, was this year advised by Miss Jacqueline Burris. As in past years, N.J.H.S. encouraged enthusiasm for superior scholarship in their fellow students.

THE OFFICERS OF HONOR SOCIETY ARE Michael Bell, vice-president; Timmy Knecht, student council representative; Ted Stanley, president; Deborah Schelm, historian; Pam Slocum, secretary; Connie Goff, treasurer.

MEMBERS OF N.J.H.S. Terry Knecht, Cindy Powell, Mary Fraker, and Kay Persons collect clothes for the needy.

Scholastic Letter Club Honors Students

THE OFFICERS OF THE CHARLOTTE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOLASTIC LETTER CLUB are Cindy Powell, secretary; Kay Persons, vice-president; Richard Beveridge, president; and Linda Sechrist, treasurer.

During the fall of 1963, the Scholastic Letter Club was organized for the purpose of recognizing students who were superior in scholarship. Under the counsel of Mrs. Bernice Conrad, the club expanded from its eight charter members to twenty-six members in 1967.

With an enthusiastic sponsor to plan interesting activities, the Club enjoyed a bus trip to Tampa in February. Places of interest visited were the State Fair, Busch Gardens, and the St. Petersburg Wax Museum.

DISCUSSING THE CLUB'S PLANS for the trip to Tampa are Linda Sechrist and Mrs. Conrad.

School Spirit Is Displayed by Pep Club

Junior High Pep Club was composed of girls and boys who were interested in supporting their sports teams and promoting school spirit. Junior High Pep Club members could be recognized at a Junior High athletic event by their loud voices and vivacious actions. Under the guidance and supervision of Miss Ann Frets, the students not only served Charlotte Junior High School through the many projects they undertook but they also contributed to the school spirit by cheering the Hurricanes on to many victories.

THE OFFICERS OF PEP CLUB ARE Patti Duffany, treasurer; Harold Mack, president; Sherra Poppell, secretary.

F.H.A. Members Learn Homemaking Skills

MEMBERS OF JUNIOR F.H.A. Linda Bird, Ginny Smith, Sharon Witter, Mrs. Webb, and Keri Crosland discuss their future club plans.

The Junior Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of girls studying homemaking in secondary schools. It offers an opportunity for the future development of pupil initiative in planning and carrying out activities related to homemaking. The purpose of F.H.A. is to help individuals and to improve personal, family, and community living. One of the ideals stressed by advisors Mrs. Jo Ann Murrell, and Mrs. Eleanor Webb includes working toward Junior Homemaker degrees.

F.H.A. OFFICERS are (front row) Nancy Mason, Huellen Mobley, Linda Bird, Janet Broderick, Karen Brandon; (second row) Virginia Smith, Paulette Oaks, Maley Shedd Sharon Witter, and Keri Crosland.

Junior High FNA Serves Community

Displaying their interests in the field of nursing, the Junior Future Nurses of CJHS participated in several community projects. These included such things as presenting gifts to patients in the medical center and giving homemade candy to Sunland Training Center in Fort Myers during the Christmas holidays. At club meetings the members were given an insight into the training and occupational opportunities of the medical profession.

Students interested in library work or a career in library science served CJHS as members of the Junior Library Club. Shelving books and working at the check-out desk were only two of the responsibilities of the members. During the fall the members attended the district Library Club convention and in May they sent a delegate to the state convention in order to bring new ideas and projects back to the club.

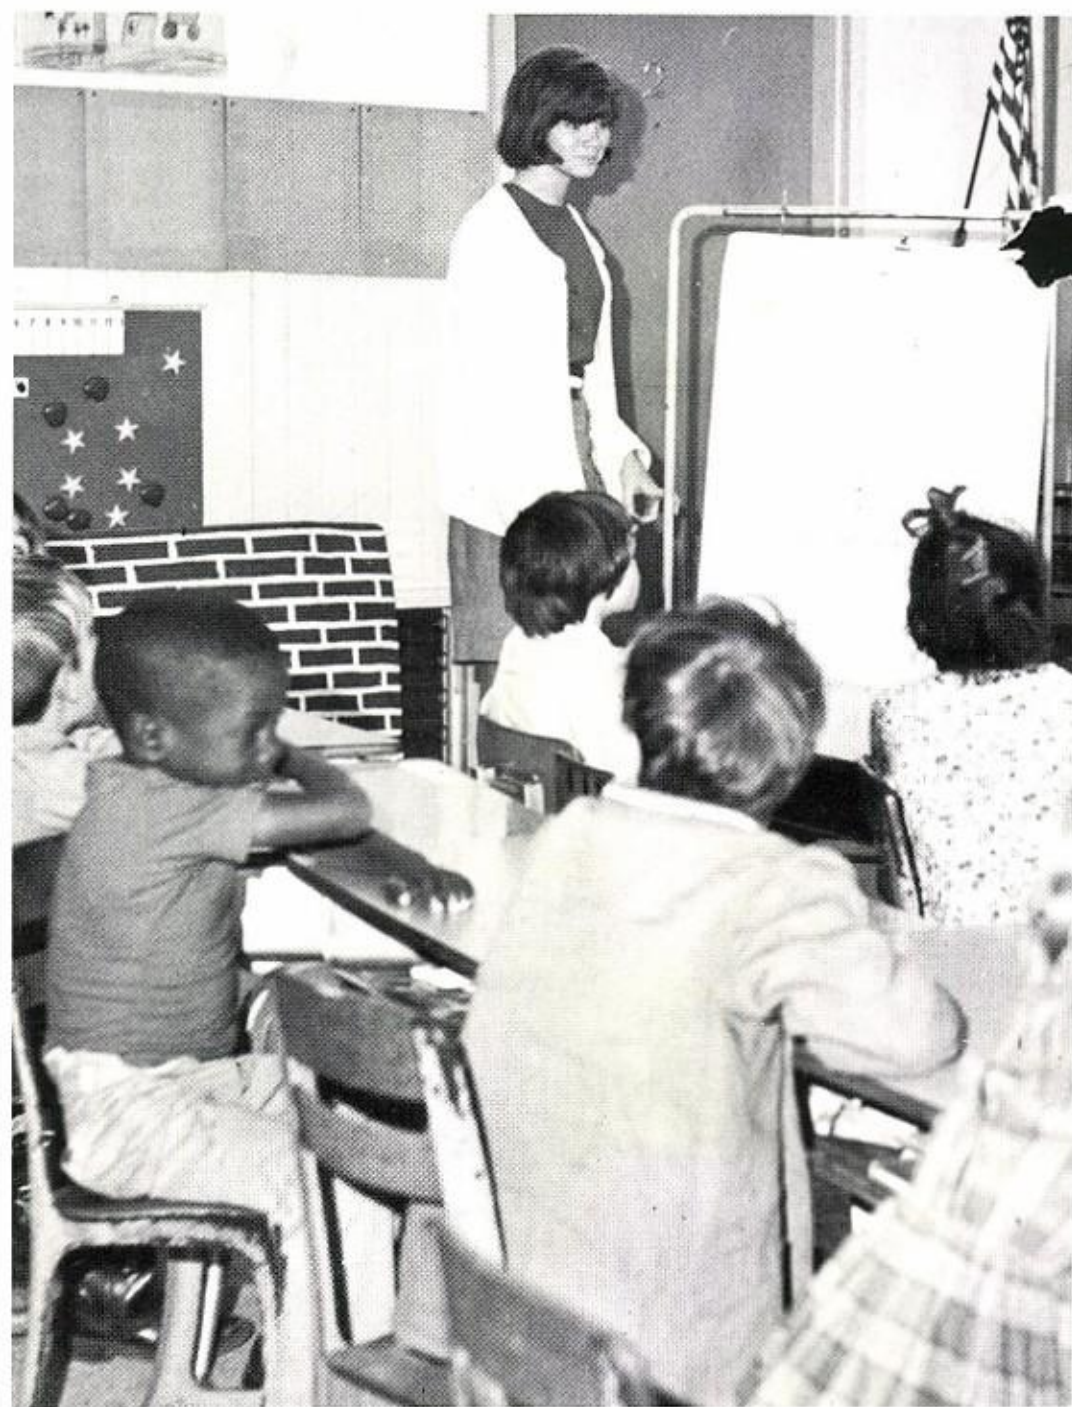

MEMBERS OF THE JUNIOR FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB OF CHARLOTTE HIGH ARE Lynn Harrell, Nancy Lane, Pam Slocum, and Vicki Larrison with their sponsor Mrs. Wilda Krause.

Jr. F.T.A. Students Assist at Sallie Jones

Junior Future Teachers was a group of C.J. H.S. students who were interested in the teaching profession and wished to understand the responsibilities and rewards of this profession. The club realized the need for more teachers, and it encouraged more young people to consider this field. Its purpose was to study teaching with the idea of evaluating it as a choice for a career. This year Junior Future Teachers' main project was to practice teaching at Sallie Jones Elementary School.

CJHS Club Encourages Young Scientists

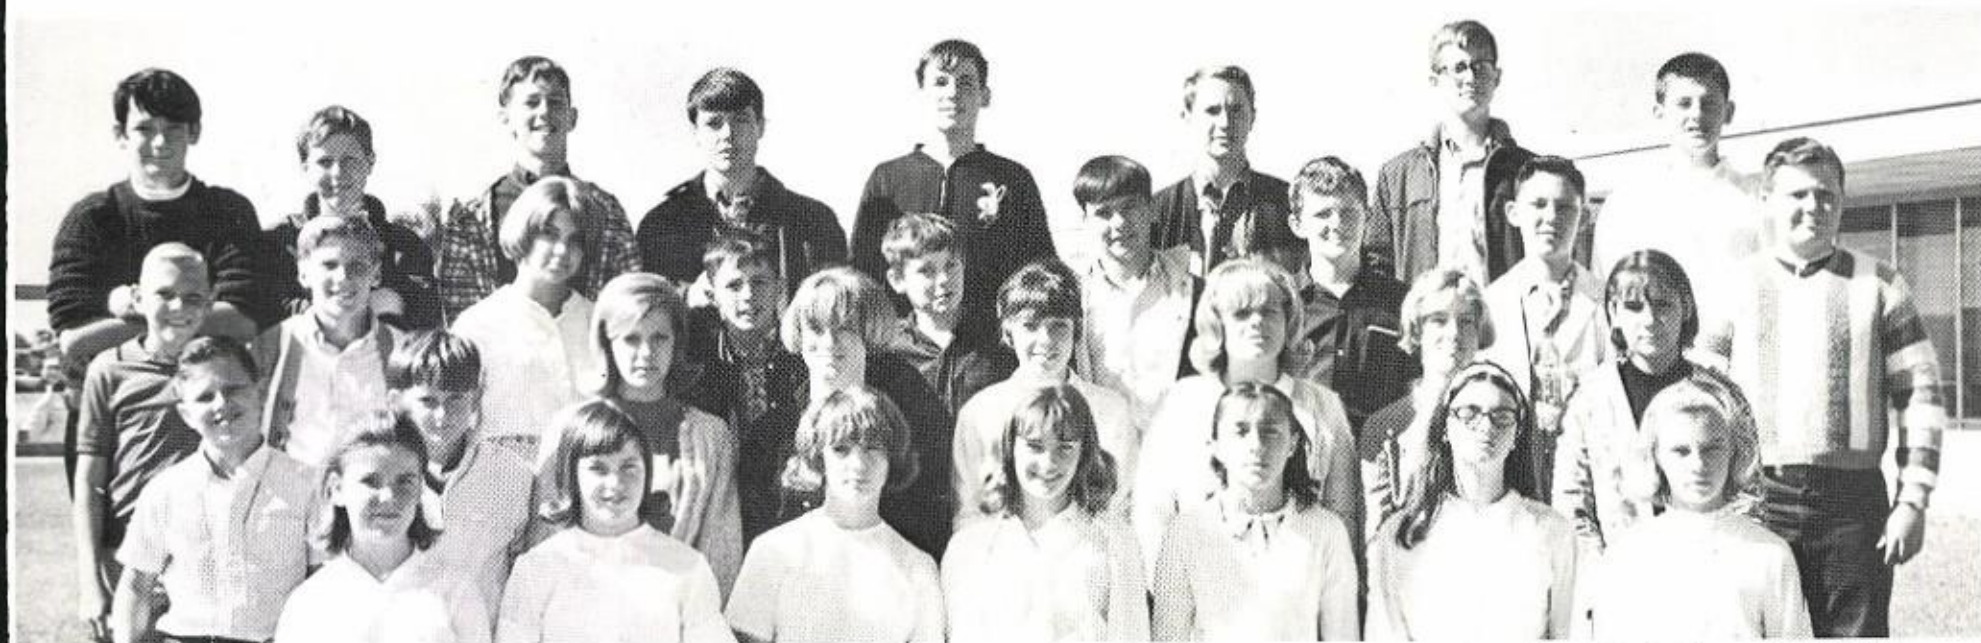

Frogs jumping down the open corridors, worms wriggling under the desks—is it a zoo at Charlotte Junior High or has the school been invaded? Oh, alas! It's only the Science Club pets out for their daily walks.

The Science Club with its 35 members, under the advice of Mr. Gray, was created to increase an interest in science and to offer an opportunity to enrich individual experience. The only qualification required for membership is an interest in science.

THE OFFICERS OF SCIENCE CLUB ARE Gaye Johns, president; Judy Duff, secretary; Patricia Culpepper, treasurer. Not shown is Joe Herlovich, vice president.

Jr. Block "C" Sponsors Contest and Dance

The Charlotte Junior High Block "C" gave boys who lettered in a sport the chance to gain recognition. Lettering cheerleaders were also taken into the membership. Junior Block "C" 's main project was the Miss Charlotte Junior High Contest. The club sponsored the contest and dance which took place in late December. At the dance Terry Knecht was named Miss C.J.H.S. for 1967. Other Block "C" projects included donating a "best all-around athlete" trophy to the school and selling sweatshirts with the Hurricane emblem on them.

Interest in Chess Club Heightens

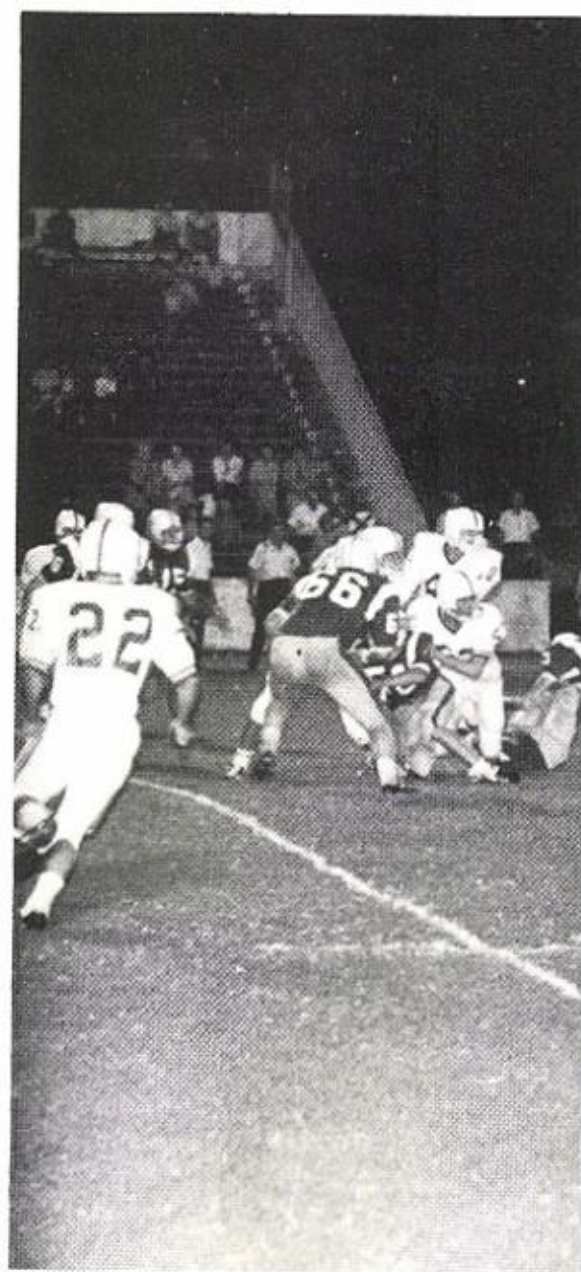

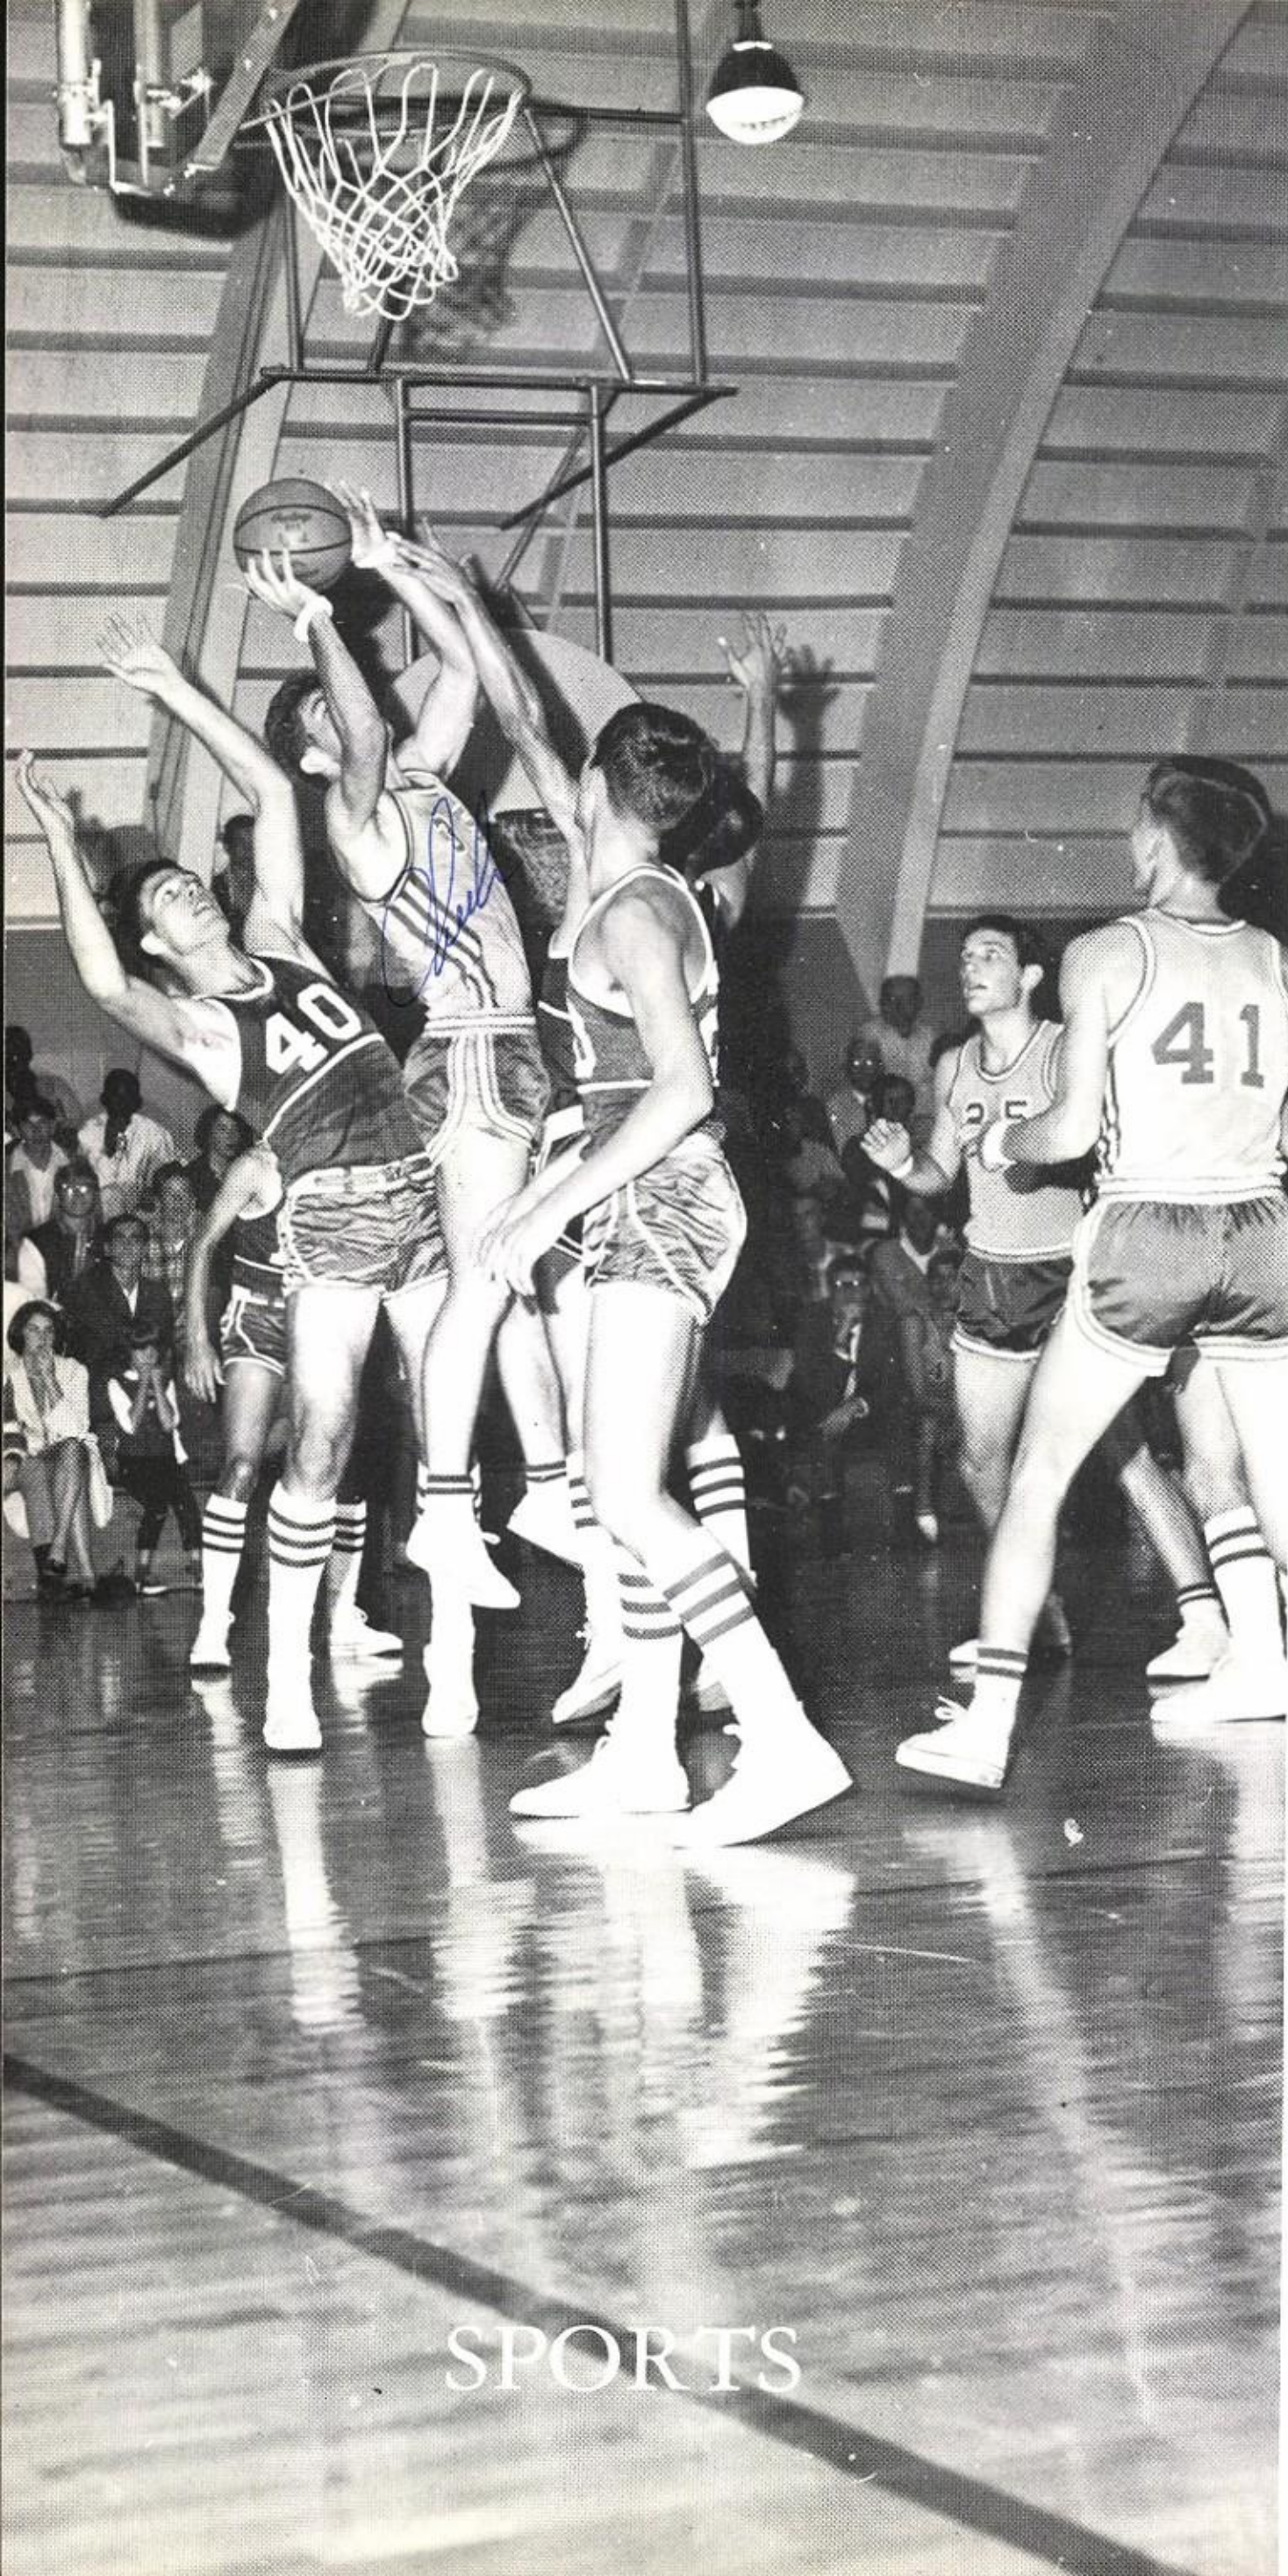

HARRY LEITH, TROY GARRISON, AND MIKE HAYMAN are the officers who are leading the Chess Club during 1967.

Any student who is interested in chess may join Chess Club. The Chess Club was begun by Mr. Kenneth Shain to stimulate interest in the game of chess by allowing students to practice and plot against one another, each trying to put his partner in checkmate. The club also tries to provide an opportunity for the students to learn the rules of the game well. The club's main project for the year was a tournament which took place near the middle of the year.

BARRY TOWNSEND silently puts his partner in checkmate during a practice game before the tournament.

We believe . . . in the necessity of physical fitness. Alertness of the body in actual life is as important as alertness of the mind, if not more important, for a strong body is required to maintain a healthy mind. We realize that many rewards can be gained by maintaining the peak of physical fitness . . . clearness of mind, alertness of reflexes, and joy of spirit. In addition, we learn to harmonize and co-operate with our fellowman by participating in sports. We believe that exercise and alertness are essential for a good, healthy, and prosperous life.

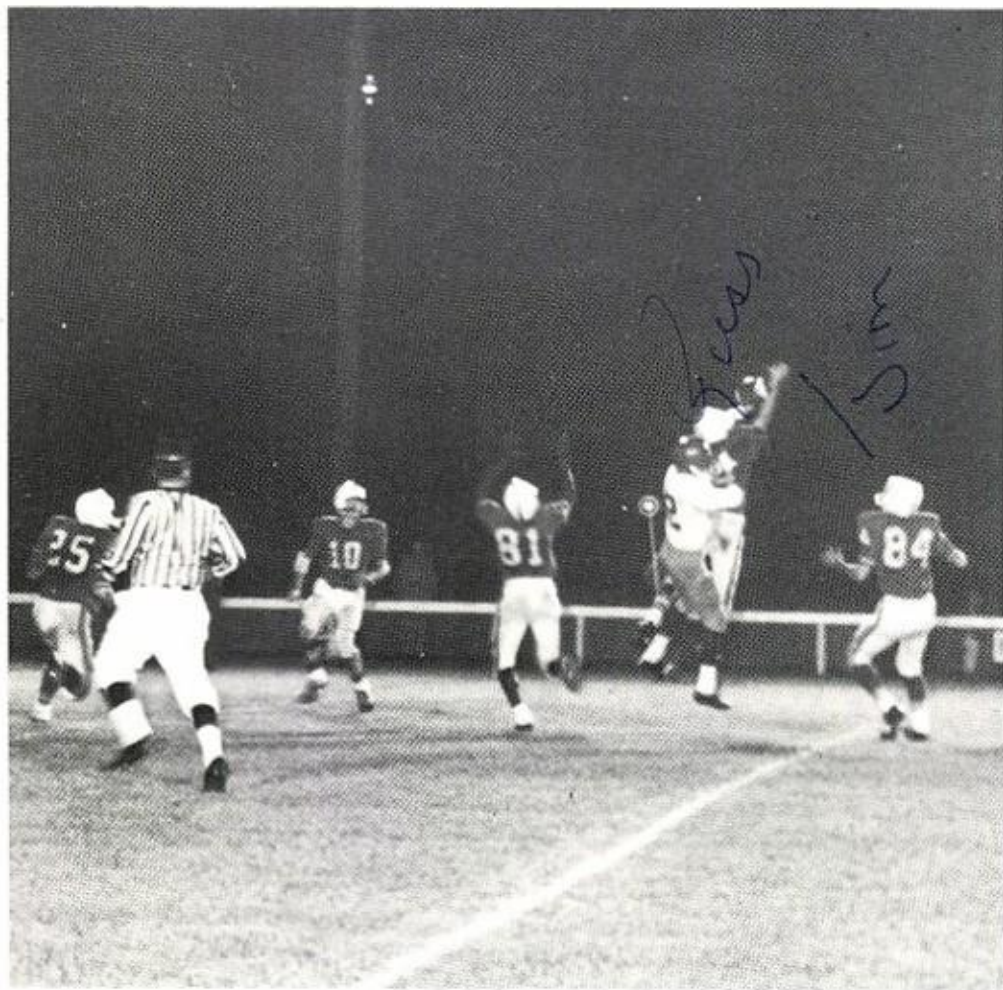

TEAM CO-CAPTAIN JIM EKLUND (63) JUMPS THROUGH THE TARPON HOOP as the cheerleaders look on before the homecoming game with the Blue Devils from Pahokee.

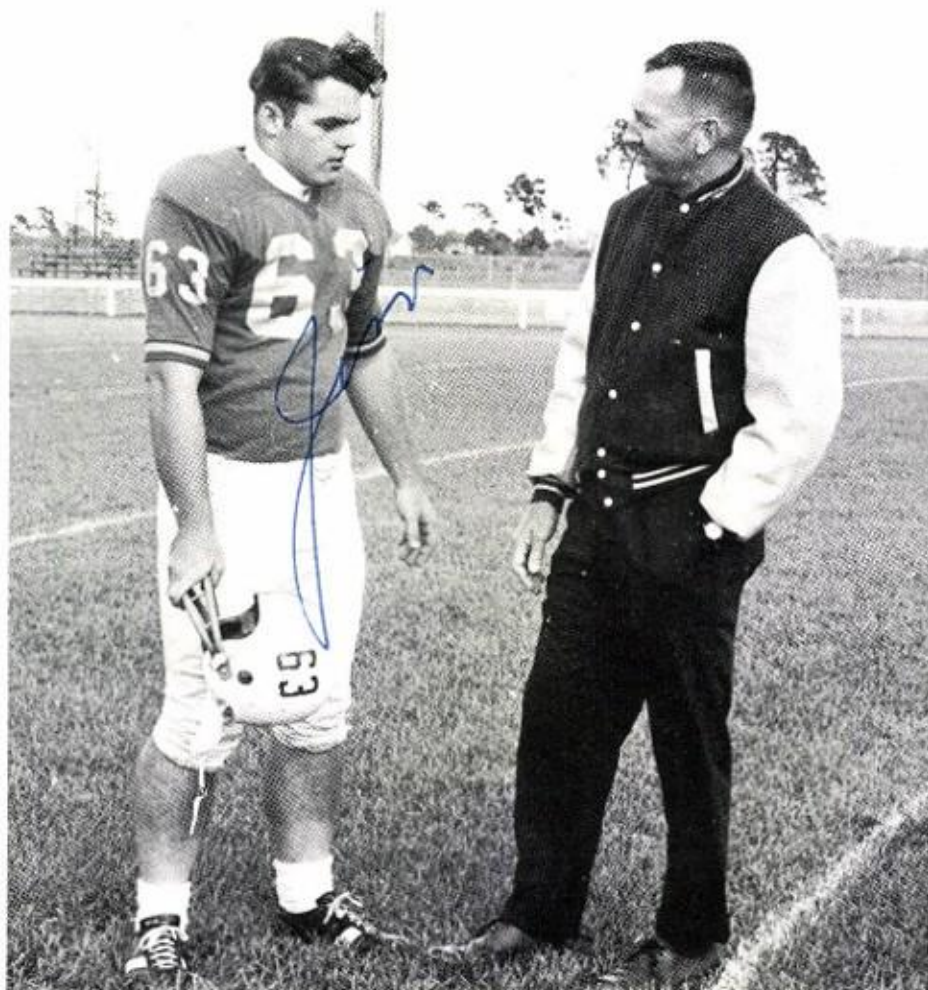

"Do or Die" Is

To a spectator, football means games, excitement, and cheering. However, to a player, it means long hours of tiresome and brutal practice, high hopes, and a lonely feeling of defeat as well as the sweet taste of victory. Football is a tough sport requiring determined men even in defeat. Someone said, "It is not if you win or lose but the way you play the game that counts." Yet, this is not always the case; for if football were judged in that manner Charlotte High would be state champions.

The majority of the spectators' eyes are on only the score—whether or not that almighty goal line was crossed. Charlotte's football players fought their hardest and played their best even when they were working against overwhelming odds. They gave all they had and have truly earned the student body's gratitude. This year was the beginning of a new era in Tarpon football. In future years Charlotte High and Tarpon Spirit will reign.

J.V.'S Gain Experience Toward Future

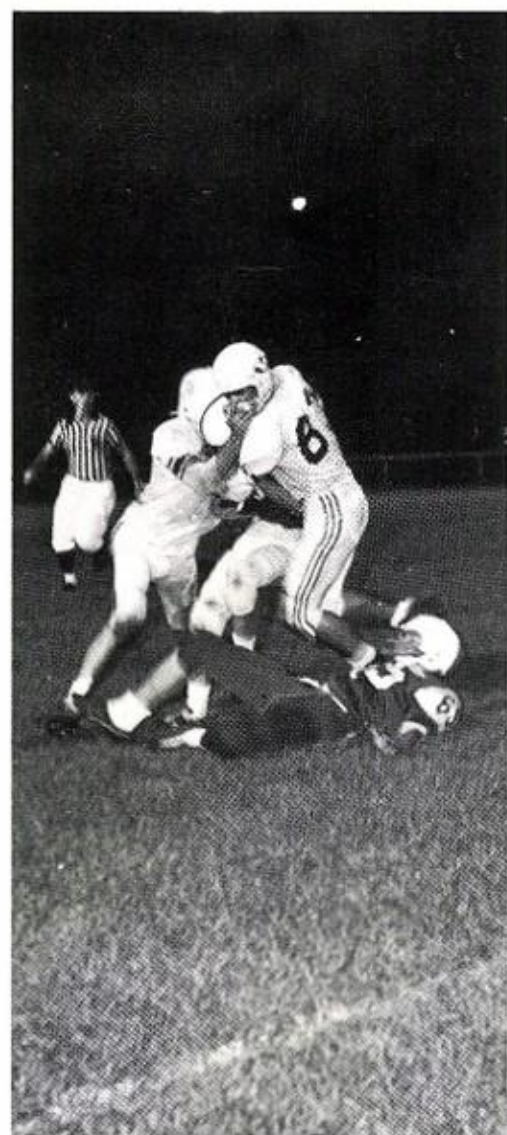

With two fine coaches and an enthusiastic squad the junior varsity started out with high hopes and a lot of courage. They had to begin almost from scratch for last year there weren't enough players to have a J.V. team, but that didn't stop them. The boys began practicing with the varsity in spring and fall training, where they managed to pick up some experience and many bruises. The team this year developed much fine talent which will be a great help to the varsity next year.

COACHES FOR THE JUNIOR VARSITY were Coach Virgil Burris and Coach Terry Moore.

BOB CAMPOS (24) tries desperately for a pass, but it is blocked by Naples.

"WATCH THAT FOOT," cries Steve Reilly in the Venice game.

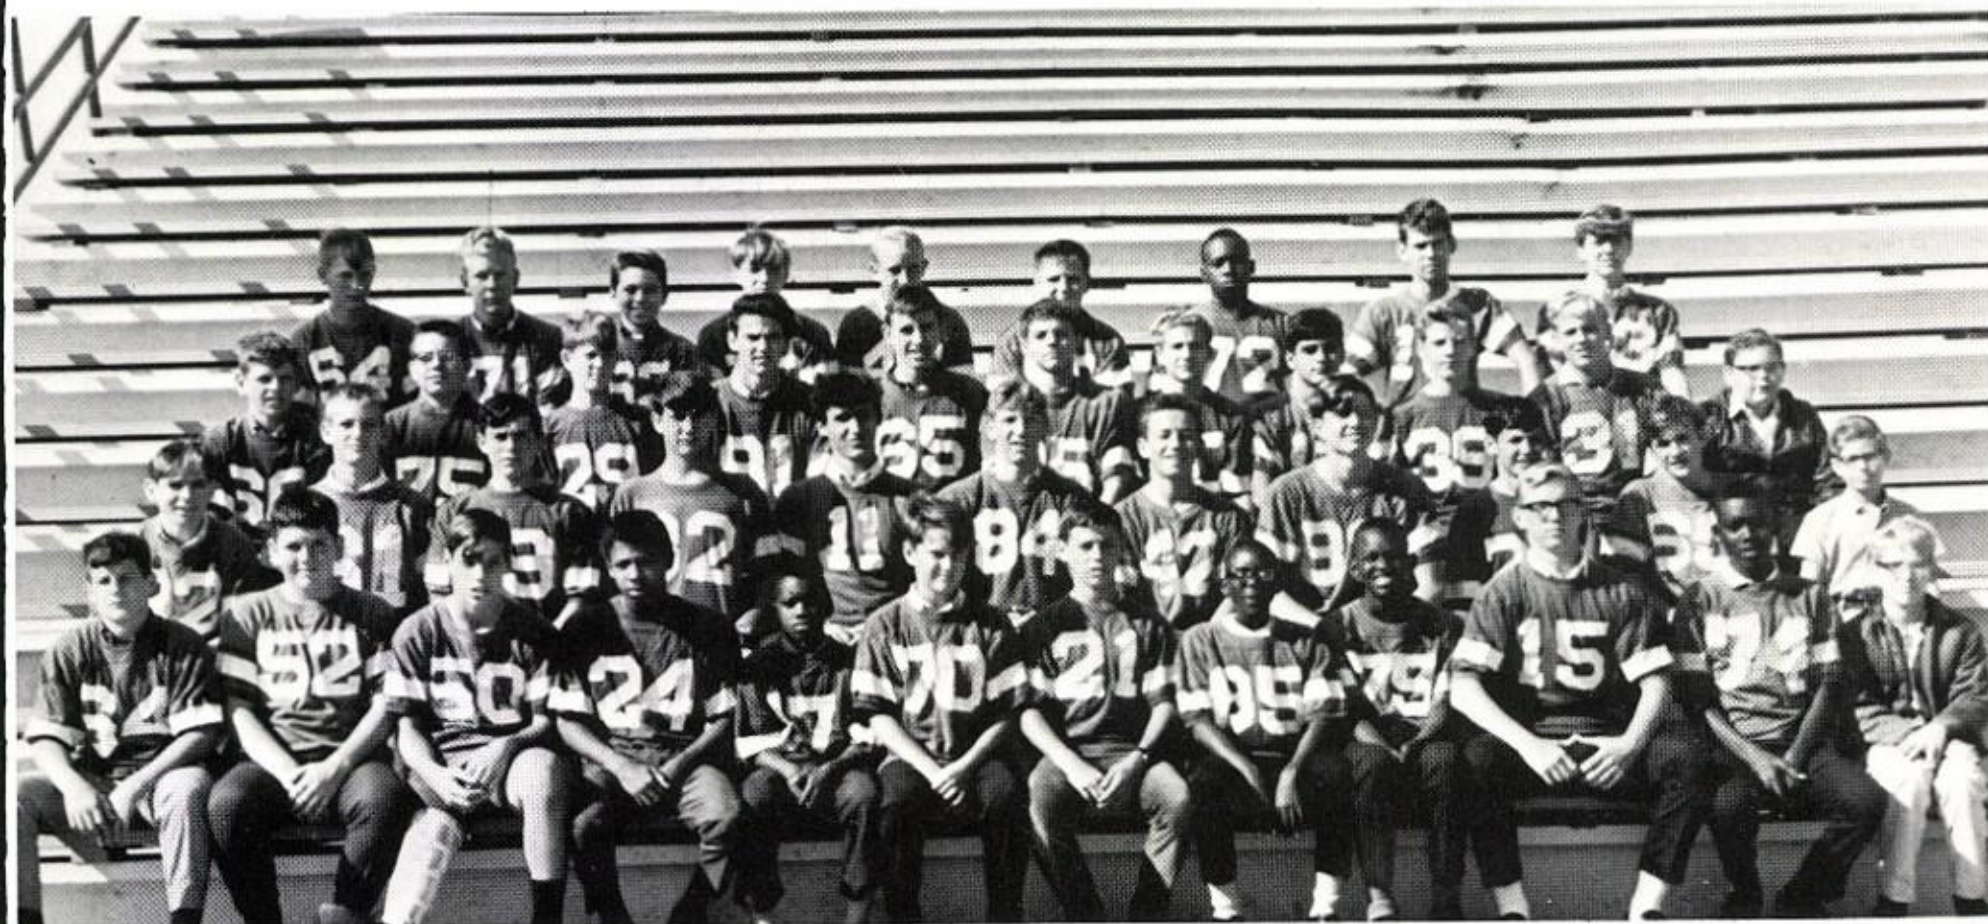

C.J.H.S. Hurricanes Have Winning Season

The Charlotte Junior High Hurricanes have learned what team work can do. Under the direction of Head Coach David Holt, the Hurricanes have had the best season in the Junior High's records. Winning four games and losing only two hard fought contests, one to the Ripples of Fort Myers, the 'Canes showed enthusiastic team spirit. With many returning lettermen, eager new comers, and their coaching staff, the Charlotte Junior High Football team should keep up its winning traditions.

DURING THE PRE-GAME WARM-UPS, Charlotte High cheerleaders go onto the court and do one of their many energetic cheers (above). Jumping high into the air, Lynn Curtis enthusiastically claps her hands after a Tarpon score (right).

Cheerleaders Serve School Unselfishly

"Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar . . ." This cheer and many others resound from Tarpon Stadium and Charlotte High gymnasium as a remembrance of this year's cheerleaders. Leading the student body through many, many cheers were Caorlyn Tyner (captain), Lynn Curtis, Martha Porter, Linda Pinet, Frances Jeffries, Cathy Weeks, Martha Lowe, Maureen Gallagher, Melynda Clark, and Bonnie Bosman.

Along with their duties of cheering at varsity and junior varsity games, this year's cheerleaders spent many long hours planning pep rallies, selling advertisements in the football programs, and, in general, doing their best to promote school spirit among the student body. For their fine job the Charlotte High cheerleaders deserve the thanks of all the student body.

ANXIETY SHOWING on their faces, the cheerleaders await a referee's decision.

Cheerleaders Boost Junior High Spirit

VIEWING A HURRICANE BASKETBALL GAME are the Charlotte Junior High cheerleaders Linda Bird (captain), Peggy Keen, Maley Shedd, Sharon Witter, Vicky Lowrie, Nancy Lane, Lynda Wrobel, and Evelyn Ellerbee.

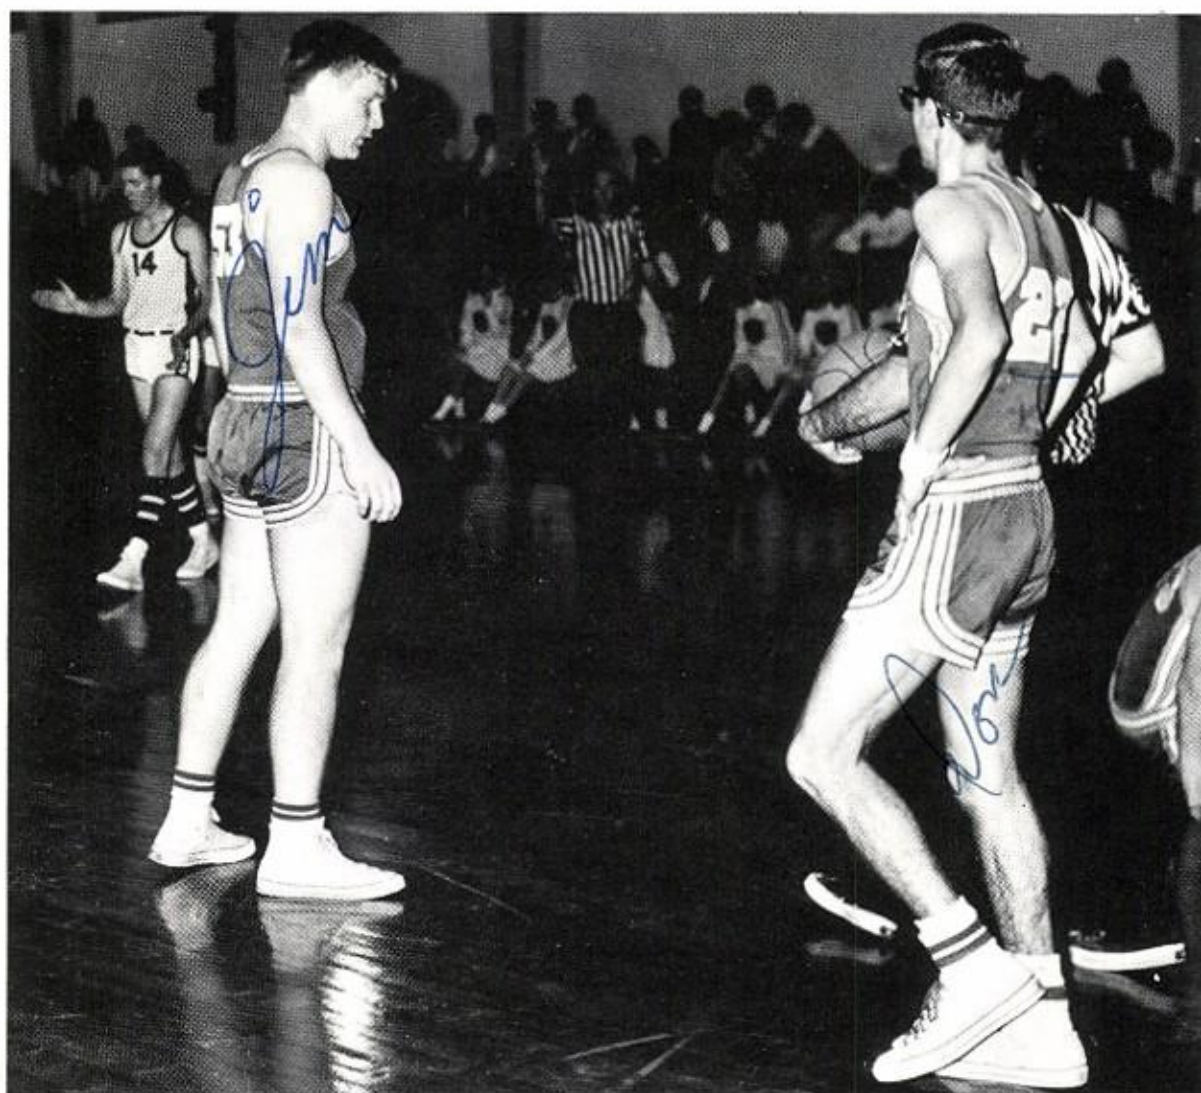

If one attended the Charlotte Junior High basketball games, he would see a blur of blue leaping with joy at Hurricane scores and leading cheers before an enthusiastic crowd. This blur of blue is the Hurricane cheerleaders. Led by their sponsor, Miss Linda Portis, the 1966-67 C.J.H.S. cheerleaders were Linda Bird (captain), Evelyn Ellerbee, Peggy Keen, Nancy Lane, Vicky Lowrie, Maley Shedd, Sharon Witter, and Lynda Wrobel.

Besides cheering at the Charlotte Junior High football and basketball games, the cheerleaders also sold booster ribbons to raise money to pay for cheerleading expenses, as well as to promote school spirit. These girls have participated in various school activities and have increased the junior high students' interest in their school. They have done a fine job of instilling school spirit and pride in the student body.

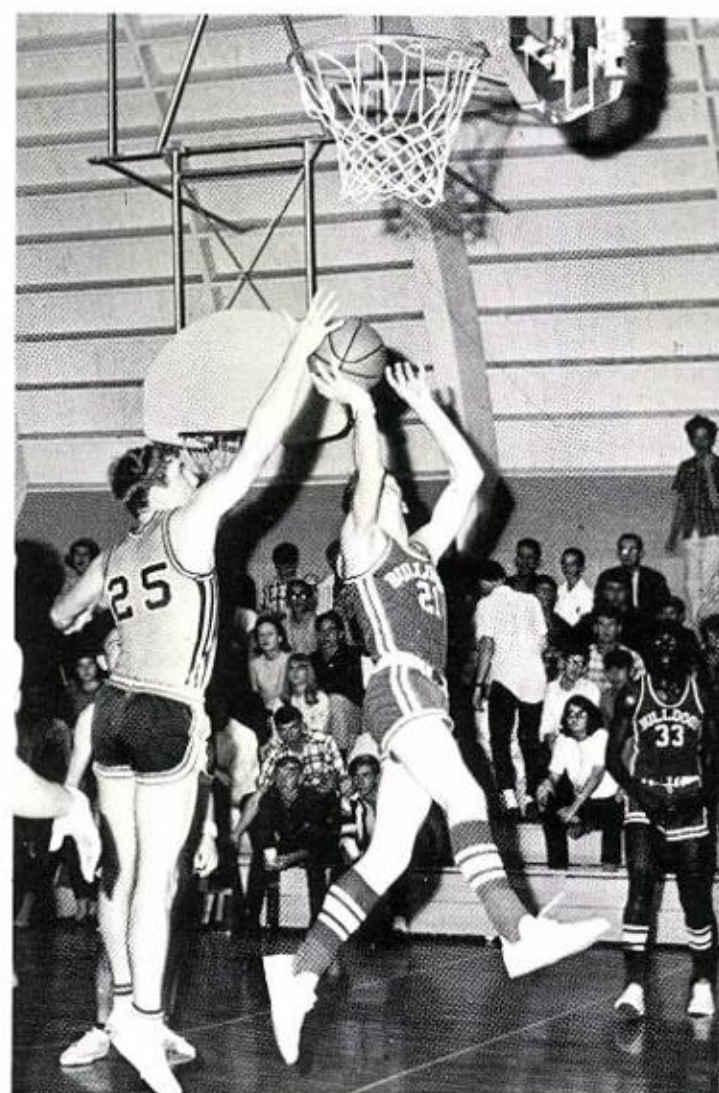

"ALL FOR THE HURRICANES, STAND UP AND HOLLER!" chorus the cheerleaders as they end a cheer (left). As the score is raised two points, the Hurricane cheerers leap with joy (above).

Cage Season

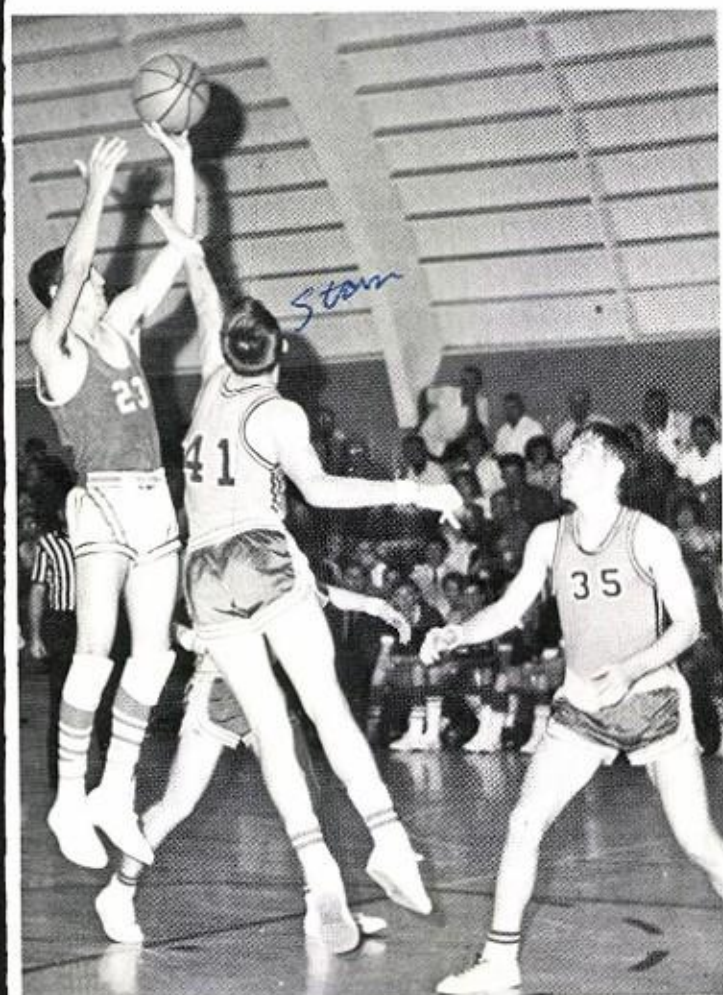

Never before has Charlotte High had a better or more spirited basketball team. To exemplify this spirit, the players adopted Snoopy, the dog in the Peanuts comic strip, as the team's mascot and chose the hit record "Snoopy vs. The Red Baron" by the Royal Guardsmen as their theme song.

With such an enthusiastic team, the basketball season began with a bang as the Tarpons were victorious twice over their arch rival, the Greenies of Fort Myers. Although setback by losses to the tough Riverview and Southeast Teams, the Tarpons came back with a long series of conference wins.

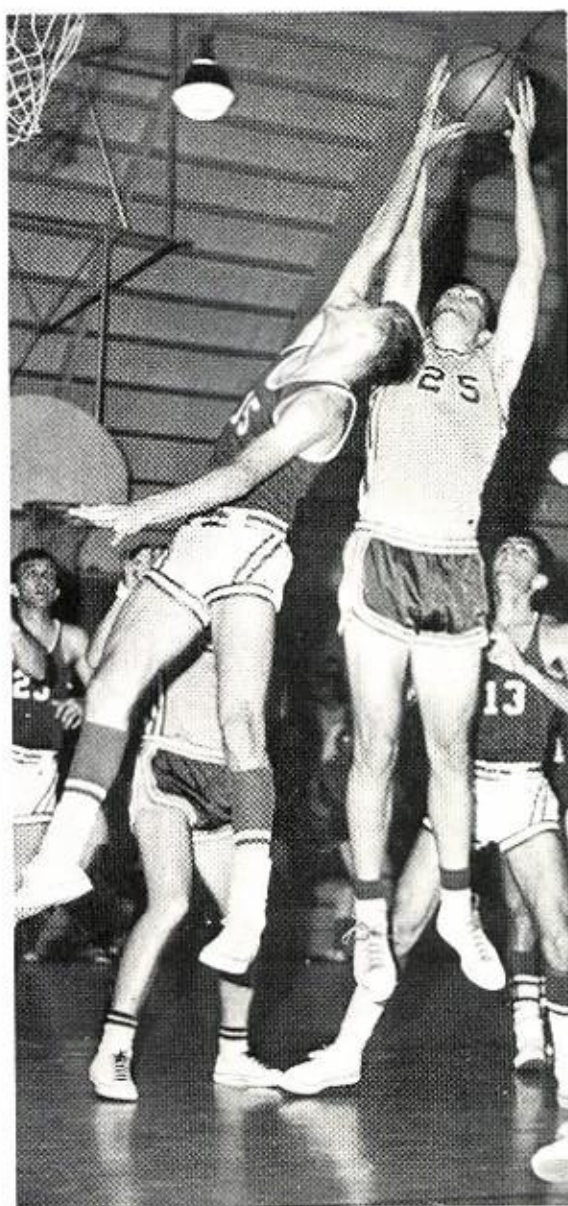

Having taken second place in the Coral Coast Conference, the Tarpons again played the league champs, Southeast, this time on the home court. Called the "game of the year" by participants and fans, this contest pitted two excellent teams against each other. After a hard fought battle the Tarpons lost the game in the closing seconds by a score of 37-36.

WHILE TENSELY WATCHING THE RED KNIGHT GAME, Charlotte High players and coaches view the action with anxiety.

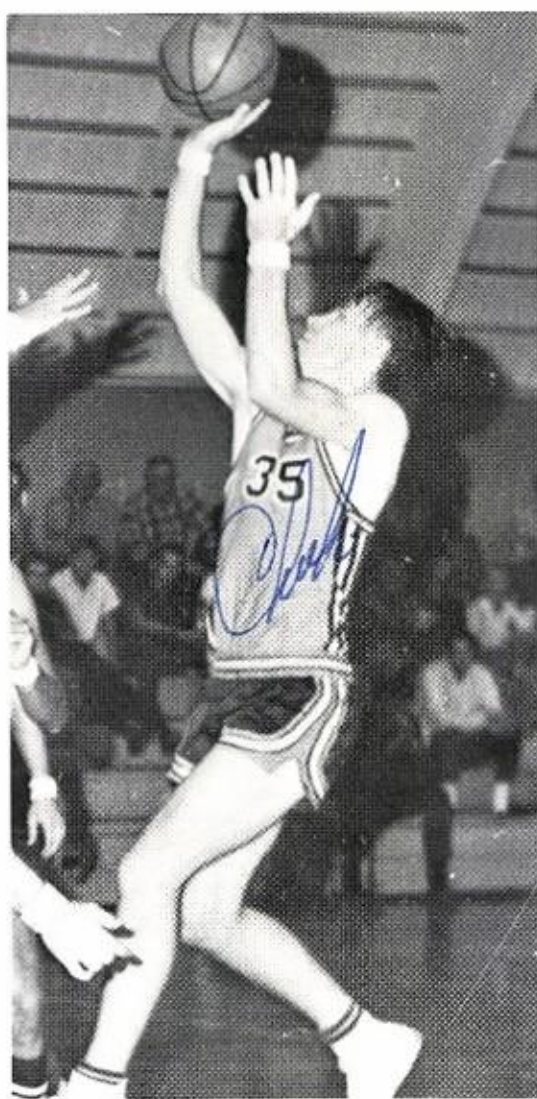

A STRUGGLE FOR THE BALL OCCURS as Val Robinson (23) stretches to grab a rebound from an Arcadia forward.

Coaches Win Group 13 Title for Charlotte

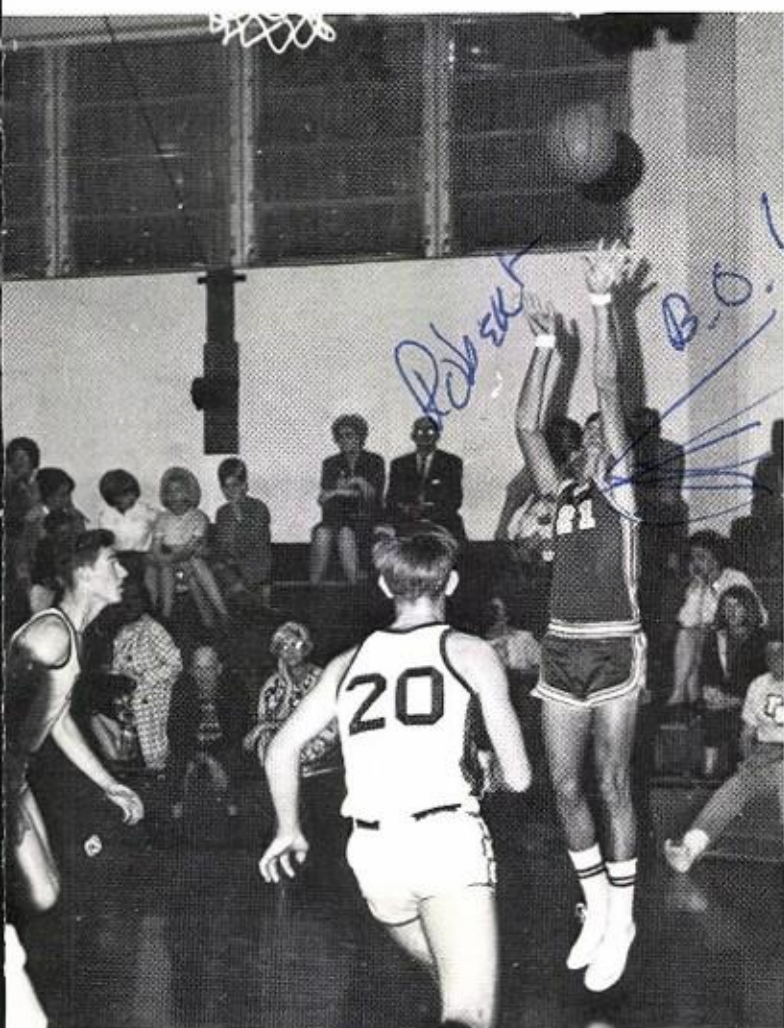

FOILING A LAYUP ATTEMPT, Dick Stanley (41) springs upward mightily.

IN THE THREE SECOND LANE, Chuck Smith (35) jumps as he tosses a lay-up at the backboard.

After a fine season in which the Tarpons tied for second place in the Coral Coast Conference with a 10-4 conference record and a 13-8 record over all, Tarpon hopes for a good showing in the tournaments were well-founded. In the local tournaments, which were held in Arcadia, the Tarpons, who had drawn a bye, played their first game against the Naples Eagles to whom Charlotte High had lost twice in regular season play. Emphasizing ball control, Tarpon game strategy paid off as Charlotte defeated Naples 46-37. In their second game, which they played conservatively, the Tarpons were victorious over the Arcadia Bulldogs 62-46 and were the new Group 13 Class A champions.

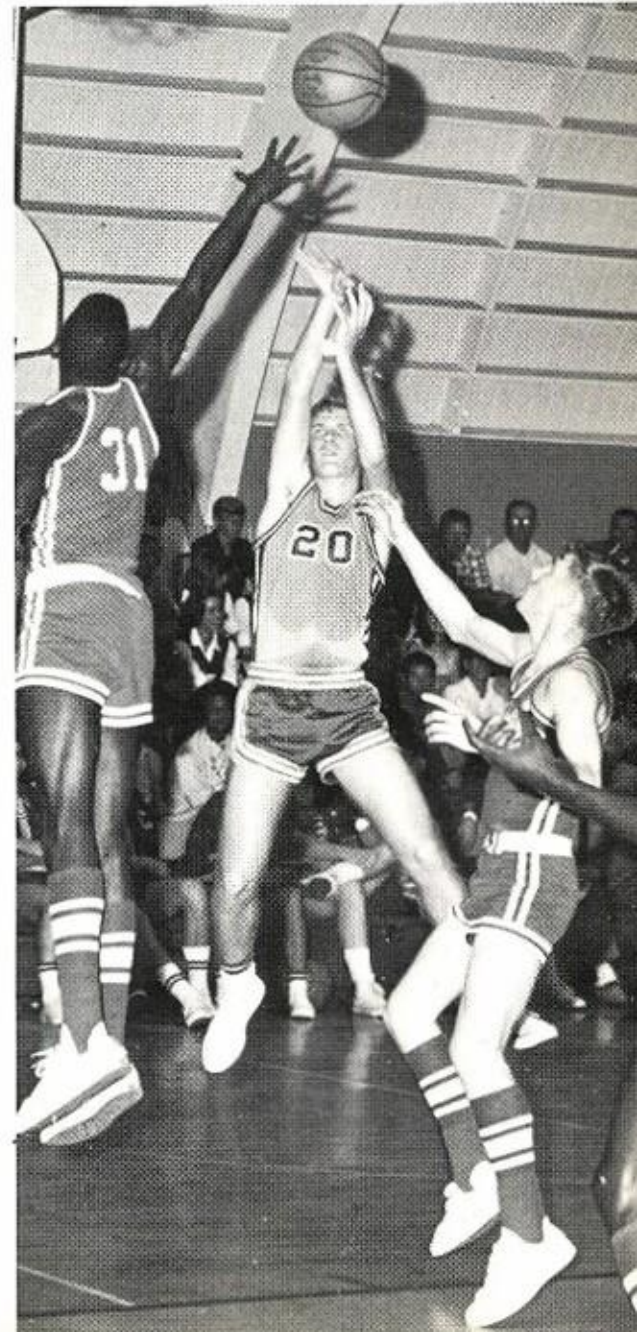

Traveling to the east coast, Charlotte represented this area in the Class A Region IV tournaments held in Delray Beach. Opposing Sea Crest of Delray Beach, the Tarpons were defeated in their first regional tournament game. Charlotte's hopes of playing in the state basketball tournaments were crushed by an overwhelming Delray win of 90-62.

AS PALMETTO PLAYERS run to block his shot, Robert Donald (21) stretches to make two points.

NONCHALANTLY WATCHING THE GAME, Coach "Pop" Durrance contemplates ways to improve Tarpon game strategy (above). The "score goes up another notch ... another notch" as Dave Best (20) "swishes one" from the outside corner (right).

J.V. Takes First in C.C.C. Competition

The 1966-'67 junior varsity basketball team placed first in Coral Coast Conference junior varsity competition. Coached by Mr. Terry Moore, the JV's were victorious in all but one game. The junior varsity games were highlighted by fast-breaking shooting and excellent defensive pressing maneuvers. The team was exceptional, as there were both superior control under the backboards and fine shooting from the outside. The JV's were a spirited team which enjoyed the game. With such good playing ability, next year's varsity should have a splendid basketball season.

RAISING THE SCORE, Bob Campos (50) shoots from the outside, (above). Ready to grab the ball, Lloyd Cretsinger (10) waits for George Rozelle (44) to tip the jumpball (left).

AS HE RACES toward the basket, Jack Connolly (20) tosses a lay-up.

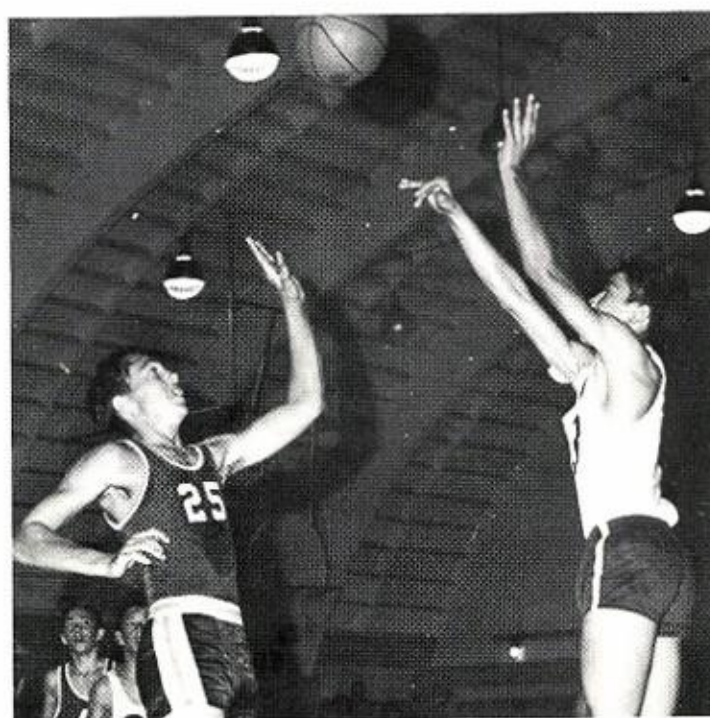

C.J.H.S. Hurricanes Record 7-7 Cage Season

LACKING THE HEIGHT to outjump his opponent, Joe Apple (25) makes a futile attempt to hit the ball (above). Rolando Esparza (13) shoots for two points (right).

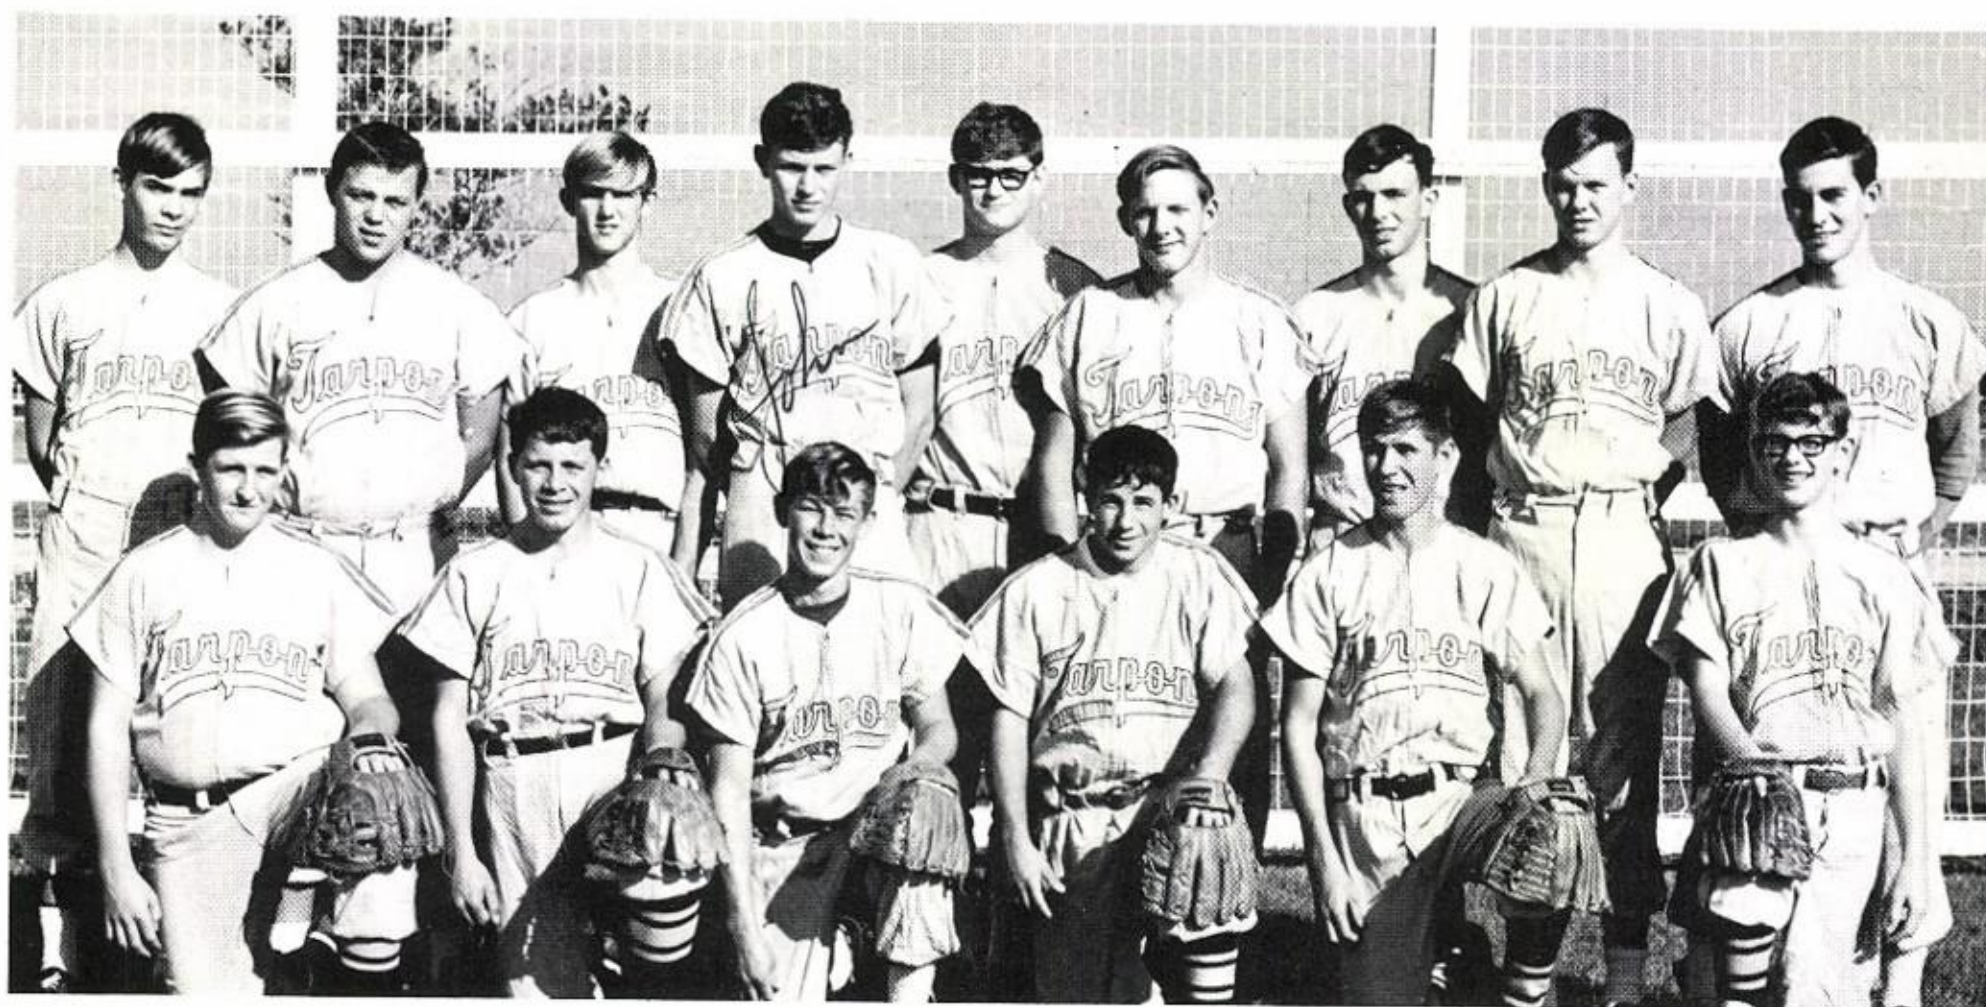

The Charlotte Junior High 1966-67 basketball team had a mediocre season, as it won seven games and lost seven. The Hurricanes' cage competition ranged from similar sized junior high schools to larger and more experienced junior high teams.

Although the junior high's basketball record may not seem impressive, it represents much hard work on the part of the coaches and players. Coached by Don Carter and Tom Fisher, Hurricane basketball serves as a starting point for boys interested in sports and provides for them the training and experience necessary in later sports.

for Fine Season

Every spring brings baseball and at Charlotte High there is no exception to the rule. Late February saw the white horsehide ball flying in the school diamond. With a new coach, much spirit, and returning lettermen, the team went in to the season with high hopes. Having Neal Simmons and Dave Randolph alternating on the mound, the Tarpons were strong in pitching. John Smith and John Skotko gave them fielding strength, while Mike Culpepper and Jim Savasuk made it hard on the enemy pitchers. Coach Gutierrez promised long hours and hard work to shape the Tarpons into a fine team.

"OUT!" CRIES THE UMPIRE AS JIM SAVASUK TAGS A BASE RUNNER desperately trying to steal home base in an attempt to tie the score.

ATTEMPTING TO BEAT THE BALL TO FIRST, Mike Culpepper drops his bat and sprints down the base line in a pre-season game.

VETERAN TARPON HURLER NEAL SIMMONS fans another rival batter with his ever-present curve ball.

Lettermen Strengthen Hurricane Nine

With the nucleus of a fine squad revolving around nine freshmen and a veteran coach, the Charlotte Junior High baseball team promised to round out the winning year for junior high sports. With Howard Duff on the mound, the Hurricanes retained a veteran hurler, and Bill Bosserdet's batting average gave the team an extra boost in the scoring department. Aside from teaching the boys the fundamentals of batting and fielding, Coach Santello instilled in them good sportsmanship, team unity, and discipline.

FIRST BASEMAN JOHN SPURLOCK stretches off the bag to catch a peg in practice.

ONE OF COACH SANTELLO'S LETTERMEN, HOWARD DUFF, winds up and kicks his leg high in the air to pitch a powerful strike on the home diamond at Charlotte High.

AS ROBERT FREEMAN AND RONNIE WALDRON PRACTICE THEIR SWINGS, Mark Mungello, Wade Kennedy, and Barry Townsend observe.

With an initial squad of forty-six boys, the C.J.H.S. golf team looked forward to the season with high spirits and determination. The first golf team was organized three years ago and has proven its worth in building physical co-ordination in Hurricane athletes. Coached by Mr. David Holt, the team this year faced a ten-meet schedule with a squad of fourteen boys.

CONCENTRATION IS EXPRESSED ON HIS FACE as Craig Smith, Tarpon fourth man, taps in a "three-footer" during a conference golf match.

Is Highlighted by Excellent Playing Ability

WITH STIFFENED LEGS, Lane Diedrick solidly hits the ball for a long putt.

Although plagued by inclement weather and the inability of the team to practice together, the team played an outstanding first match. Playing Cypress Lake, a Coral Coast Conference school, the Tarpons began the season with a resounding win of 128-36. Led by Mr. Winston Siegfried, this year's golf team had fine playing ability and good depth. With the return of two lettermen, Lane Diedrick and Richard Stanley, the Tarpons had much hope for an excellent golf season.

New G.A.A.

Newly formed this past year, the Girls' Athletic Association proved itself to be one of the most energetic clubs of Charlotte High School. The G.A.A., which has state and national affiliations, was established to provide extracurricular sports for interested girls. Having used the physical education equipment during the past year, the G.A.A. has hopes of purchasing its own sports equipment.

During their meetings after school on Thursdays, the members of the G.A.A. competed in sports ranging from team participation, such as volleyball and basketball, to the individual skills of tennis and gymnastics. The members of the club earned letters and pins and were also able to purchase G.A.A. sweat-shirts.

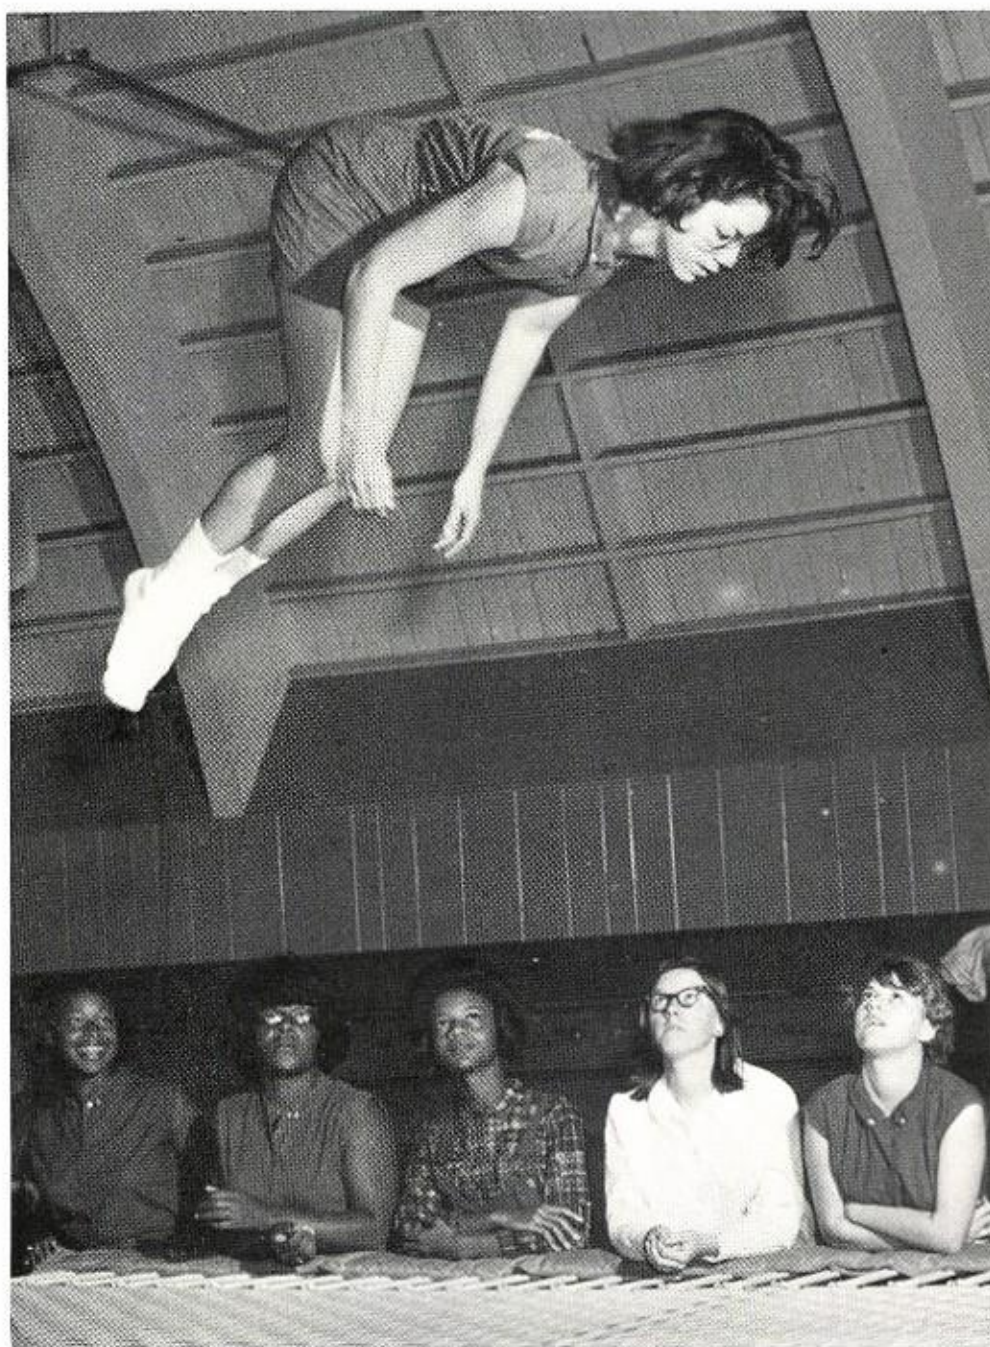

CHECKING EQUIPMENT IN THE P.E. BUILDING are the officers of G.A.A., Bettie Libert, president; Linda Jolley, student council representative; Ann Humphrey, treasurer; Pat Hubert, vice president; Miss Sally Jo Baldwin, sponsor; and Ann Rozelle, historian.

Yah! Well here we are, ready to go out and conquer the world. and you know you and I just might could do it. we're a pretty good team these past few years. I just hope it doesn't end now. It's hard to put into words a real friend is, but we've been friends of the Best. I want to wish you the Best of luck in all that you try. just remember that someone is watching you from up above. I hope that you have a lot of fun this summer (Ridgely) at college. and may God Bless you. Have fun.
 We believe ... in ourselves ... that some day we as a generation will become leaders of the world in which we live. Although that day may be somewhere near the far horizon, we will begin today by living each moment to its fullest.

CHARLOTTE HIGH SCHOOL

CLASS OF '67

Although school is just a transient interim between birth and maturity, we as individual classes will, upon departure from our school, leave a little of our aspirations, of our lives, of ourselves behind. We are the "school of the moment," unlike any other classes preceding us or following in our footsteps.

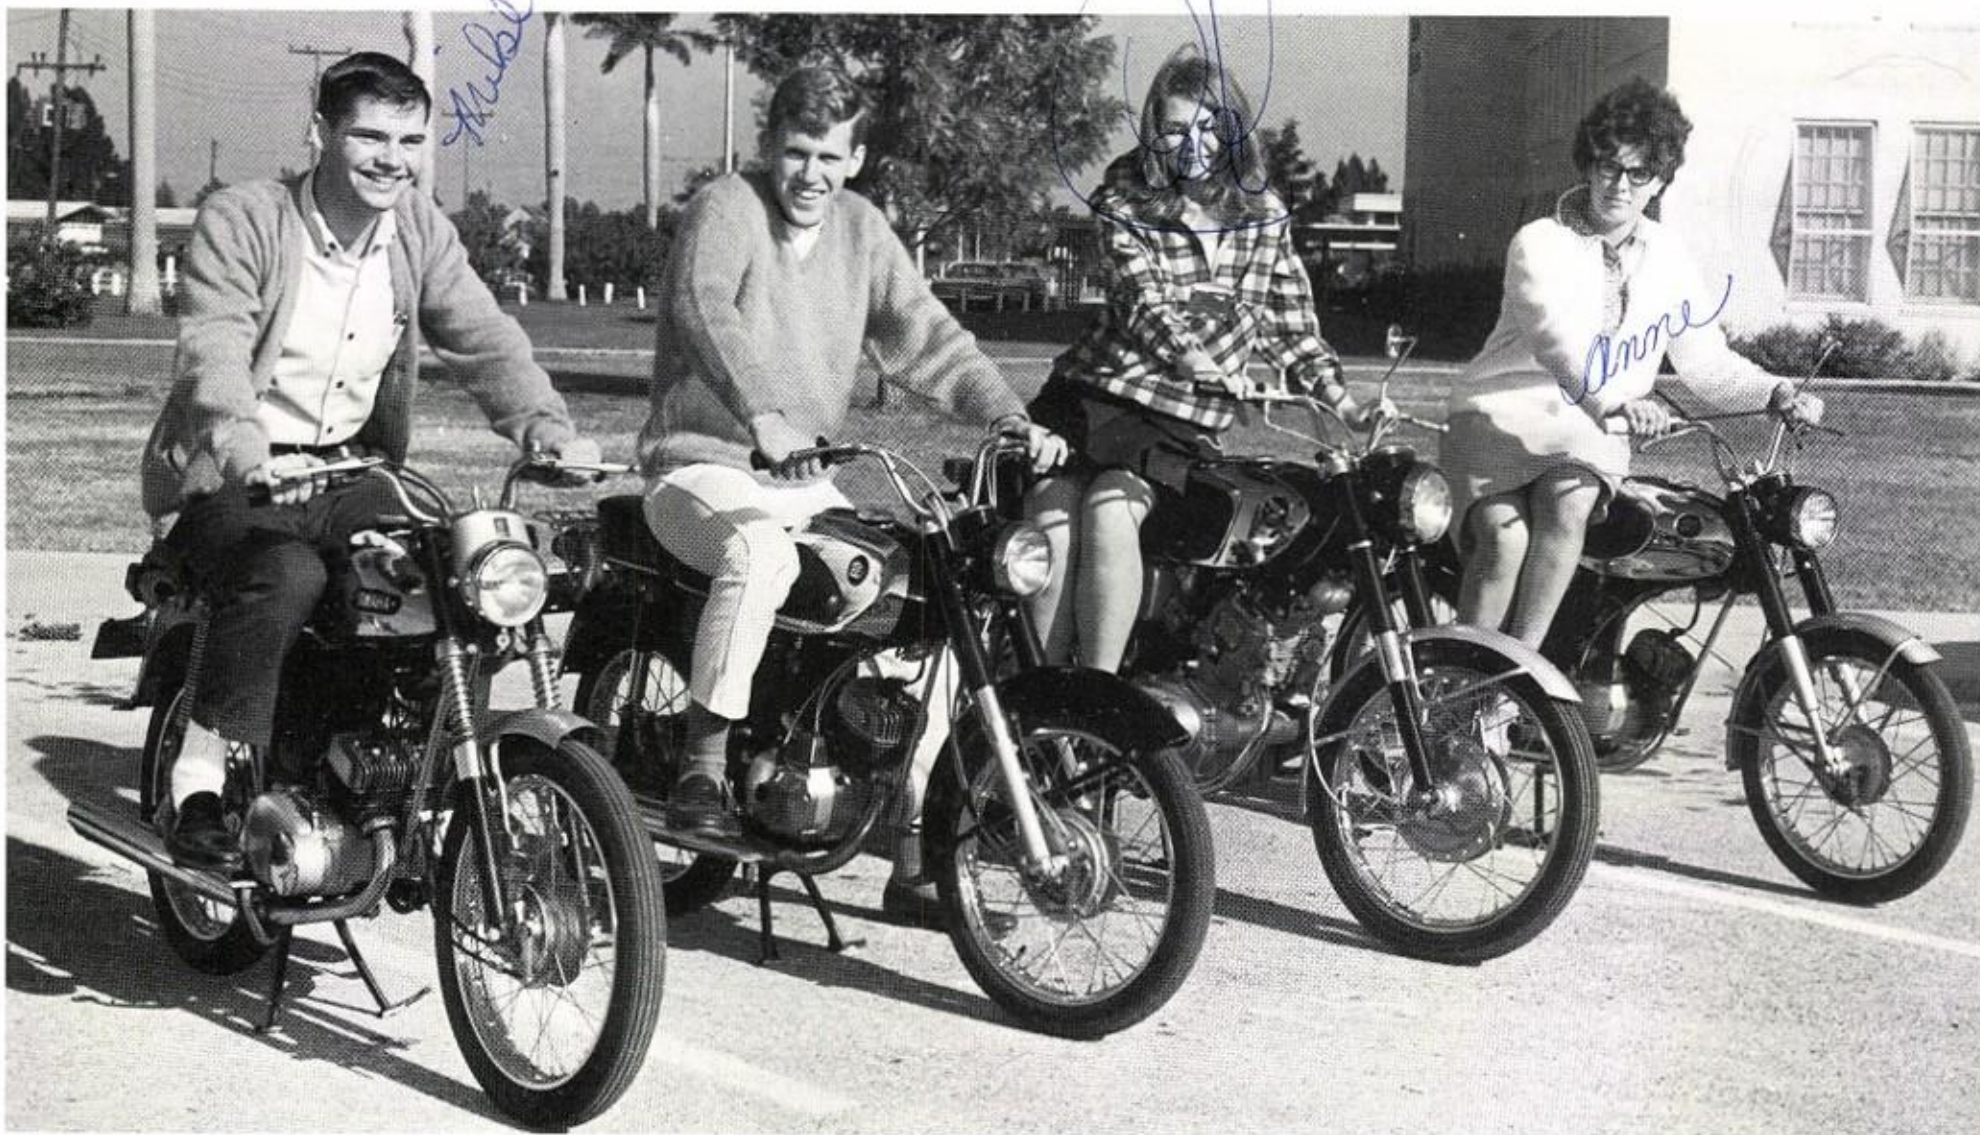

Seniors Choose "Success Is

BESIDES RESEARCH, READING, AND WRITING, the English class excursions prove to be an excellent time to exchange ideas in a quiet, friendly atmosphere.

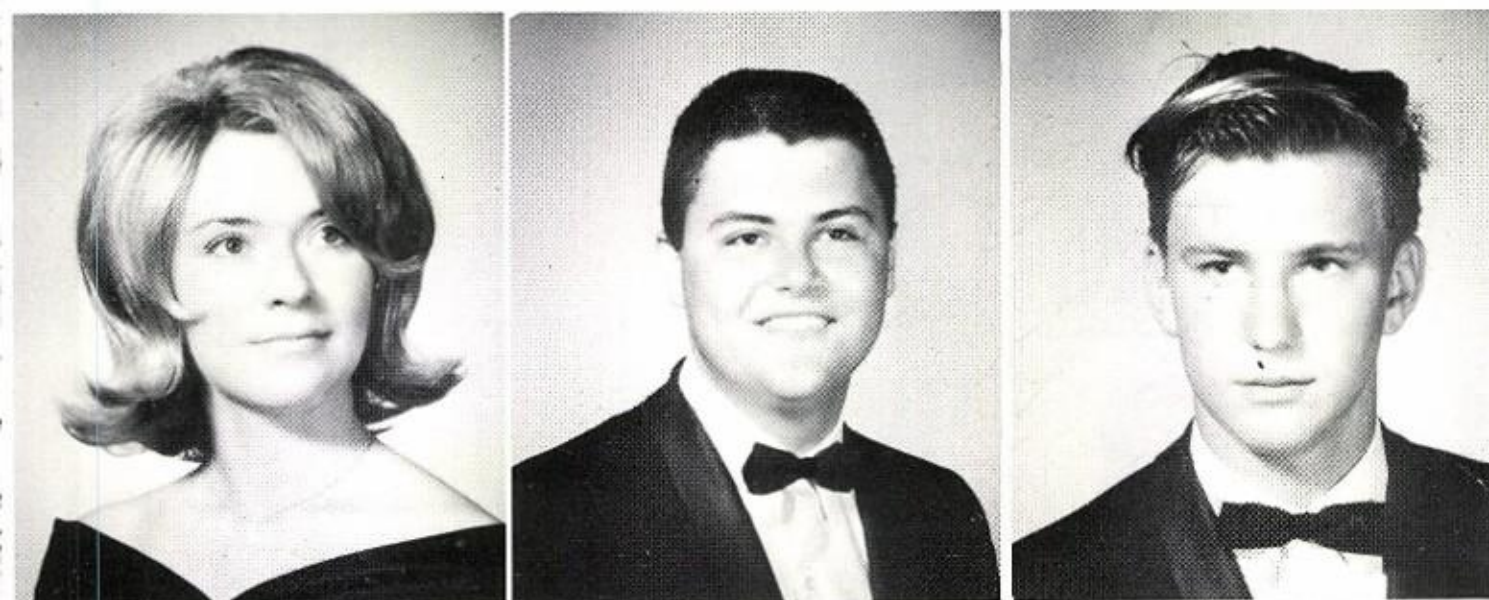

"Happiness is being a Senior," agreed the one hundred seventy-two members of the Class of 1967. The Seniors were treated as royalty as they marched down the auditorium aisles during each assembly, while all underclassmen stood with respect. And no one but a Senior could go to the front of the lunch line without being scolded.

The class enjoyed many activities under the sponsorship of Mr. Harold Selley. Seniors participated in the Senior Slave Sale and the "Sherwood's Forest" Dance. New additions to the Senior calendar were the barbecue, the class Christmas Party, the Senior-Faculty Christmas Party, and the banquet. Of course, activities did not occupy all of the Seniors' time. Planning for college, searching for a position in life, and struggling for that last good grade kept the Seniors knee-deep in work.

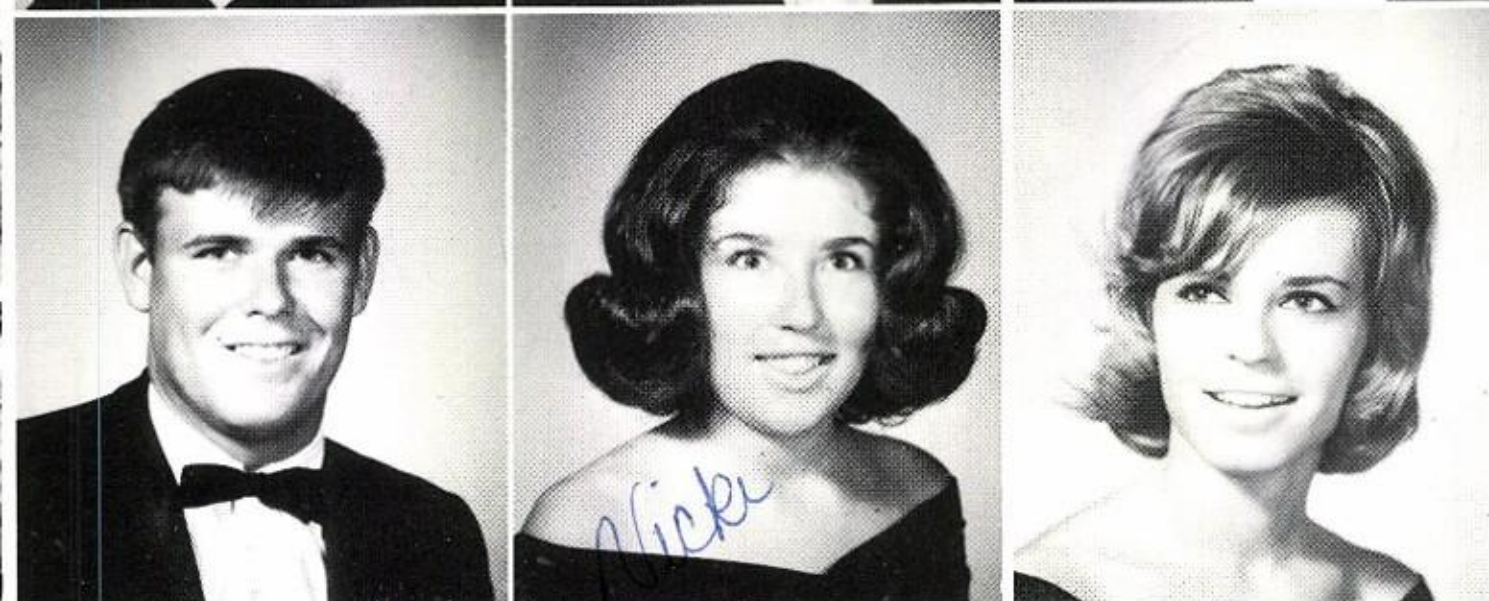

ENTHUSIASTICALLY SERVING THEIR CLASS, Mike Fruzan, president; David Best, vice president; Carol Hall, secretary; and Anne Humphrey, treasurer, led the Class of 1967 to an exciting year at Charlotte High.

Juniors Enjoy Playing Their Role

The halls of CHS rang with the happy and spirit-filled voices of one hundred seventy-five juniors this year. Because of the efforts of the faculty and class leaders, the Class of 1968 showed signs of leadership and citizenship as the year progressed.

These vibrant teenagers met many challenges during the year in the form of college scholarship examinations. They felt the anxiety of waiting for the treasured class rings and spent many hours of hard work and fun preparing a float for the Homecoming parade. They carried out very effectively the theme, "Hey you, Get off My Cloud." The juniors worked hard on plans for the Junior Prom, the high point of the year. They kept pace with all the fads and started some of their own.

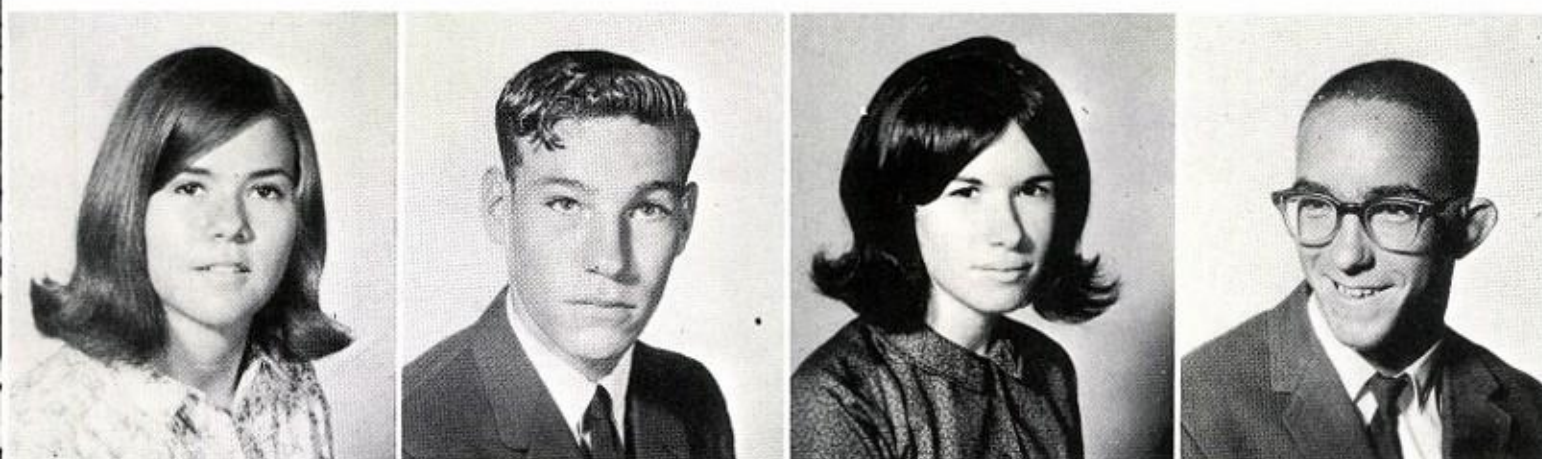

Charlotte High will long remember the imprint the Class of '68 made on the pages of history with their vitality and their ability to accept their responsibilities.

LEADING THE JUNIOR CLASS were Joyce Billow, treasurer; Ruth Ryan, secretary; Eddie Steadley, business manager; Sammie Vittoria, vice-president; and John Polk, president.

The Sophomore Class of 1966-'67 entered the halls of Charlotte High School filled with anticipation and excitement.

Beginning with homecoming week, the sophomores felt their importance in school life as they worked on their float, "Send the Blue Devils Back to Pahokee." The memorable week was enlivened by the seniors' using sophomores as slaves.

Other sophomore activities were the Teenage Nightclub dance and the magazine subscription drive, which added $400 to the class treasury. In the spring the top thirty salesmen of the subscription drive, accompanied by Mr. Overbey, the sponsor, were rewarded with a half day at the beach to revive their long-faded tans.

THE LEADERS of the Sophomore Class are Becky Setliffe, treasurer; Evie Bryant, vice-president; Sheryl Wolfram, secretary; and Chris Taylor, president, (not shown).

"SEND THE BLUE DEVILS BACK TO PAHOKEE," cry the sophomores. Many nights of hard work were spent constructing the class homecoming float, which reflected the school spirit of the Class of 1969.

Ninth Graders Share

Efficiently guided by seven homeroom teachers—Mrs Conrad, Miss Frets, Mrs. Krause, Mr. Moeller, Miss Portis, Mr. Robinson, and Mr. Shain—the 188 ninth-grade students made the best of their last year in Charlotte Junior High School.

Many specialized courses were offered, including Algebra I, Biology I, and art. Driver Education, Home Economics, social studies, shop, and general science were also offered.

MAKING USE OF THE SCHOOL STORE, Craig Canfield and Katie Gudbaur purchase supplies from Marion Lord during their lunch hour.

LEAVING SCHOOL AT THE END OF A LONG DAY, ninth graders Ron Clore, Vicky Bottomly, and Patti Quednau are prepared for weekend studying.

Eighth Grade Presidents

"HELP, WE'RE PRISONERS IN Charlotte Jr. High!" cry Geoffrey Sweet and Rod Flack as they peer through the gates of the corridors.

At Charlotte Junior High School the Class of 1971, eighth graders, consisted of two hundred thirty-nine students. These students were under the supervision of homeroom teachers Miss Jacqueline Burris, Mr. Donald Carter, Mr. Thomas Fisher, Mrs. Edith Goff, Mr. Michael Gutierrez, Mr. Robert Hardy, Mrs. Jo Ann Murrell, Mr. Andrew Noland, and Mrs. Eleanor Webb.

These energetic students learned how to shoulder responsibilities, study correctly, be good sports, and to show overwhelming Hurricane spirit at games and other school activities. Hurricane eighth graders kept up with the latest fads such as madras pants, paisley designed shirts, granny print suits, and the fast growing game of paper football. The eighth graders had an enjoyable year of learning. The Class of 1971 will long remember CJHS from the fun of leisure hours to the headache and worry of exams.

SERVING AS LEADERS FOR THEIR FELLOW CLASSMATES are the eighth grade class presidents Rosie Jones, Gloria Roddenberry, Judy Duff, Philip Reilly, Randy Sisk, Wilbur Bennett, Gary Wilson, and John Doyle who led their class through a successful year.

SEVENTH GRADER BRENDA NEFF discovers that using a card catalogue is one of the many tasks to be mastered upon entry to Charlotte Junior High School.

Having entered the junior high for their first year, the seventh grade students were at first bewildered by the new routine of class changes, cluttered lockers, and club schedules. They quickly adjusted, however, and learned to survive the rushed lunch hour, and the agony of obtaining passes.

The seventh grade selected one representative, Nancy Mason, from their class to compete in the Miss Charlotte Junior High contest and then at an assembly took their places in the "balcony section" to watch proudly as Nancy was presented to the school.

Enthusiastically supporting the seventh graders in all their ventures were their eight homeroom sponsors: Mr. Ball, Mr. Christian, Mr. Doby, Mr. Gray, Mrs. Johnstone, Mrs. Lawless, Mr. Reynolds, and Mr. Schmidt.

252 Seventh Grade Students Start Down

HOMEROOM PRESIDENTS elected by the seventh grade students to lead them during the year of 1966-67 are as follows: kneeling, Bobby Miller and Ben Graham; standing, Bonnie Duffy, Marsha Bennett, Tom King, Cindy Jones, and Bill Porter.

Dear Val,
 I'll be at last, it's all over. Everything!
 This year has been one I'll never forget
 for various reasons.
 You're a pretty great guy and I'll never forget all the good times I've had, and I can't forget what was or could've been; but that's the past, over and done.
 I know you'll always be happy and successful
 'cause you're that kind of person. Good luck in all you do because anyone ever deserves it.
 You do. I'll probably never see each other after this year, but I hope you'll never forget me. I'd better quit now before I get all mushy. I hope you become a preacher, because you'd be a wonderful one. I hope your life is a wonderful, happy, successful and great one.

Love always,
 Your friend

ADVERTISEMENTS

We believe . . . that we are our brother's keeper. In all that our brother does, we are there to assist him. We are always willing to sacrifice a little of ourselves to serve him in any possible way. Likewise, our neighbor helps us. Without the reassurance of a helping hand to support us when we become weak, we would falter and stumble in many steps of life. Instead, we have the strength of a community upon which we can depend for reassurance and help at any time. We shall always strive to work together for a better society and a better world.

Does going to college pay?

Yes! The U.S. Census Bureau estimates that the average college graduate will earn $170,000 more during his working lifetime than a high school graduate. A college diploma pays dividends!

As our country grows ever more technological, a solid educational background becomes increasingly important in shaping your career.

Congratulations and best wishes to the Class of '67. Go forward with Florida in the exciting and stimulating years ahead. More power to you!

Val,

It surely has been fun this year and I hope you have a wonderful summer and a good year next year.

Val,

So, neither one of us were the stars of the basketball team this year. at least
you got to play
a little bit. oh

Mr. Harold Selley

Mr. Lon Watters

well. Val, this is sincere as hell, I really enjoyed your company in basketball this year. it would have been pretty dull with just Maench to talk to (poor ivy). Good luck in the future.

Remember all the times in

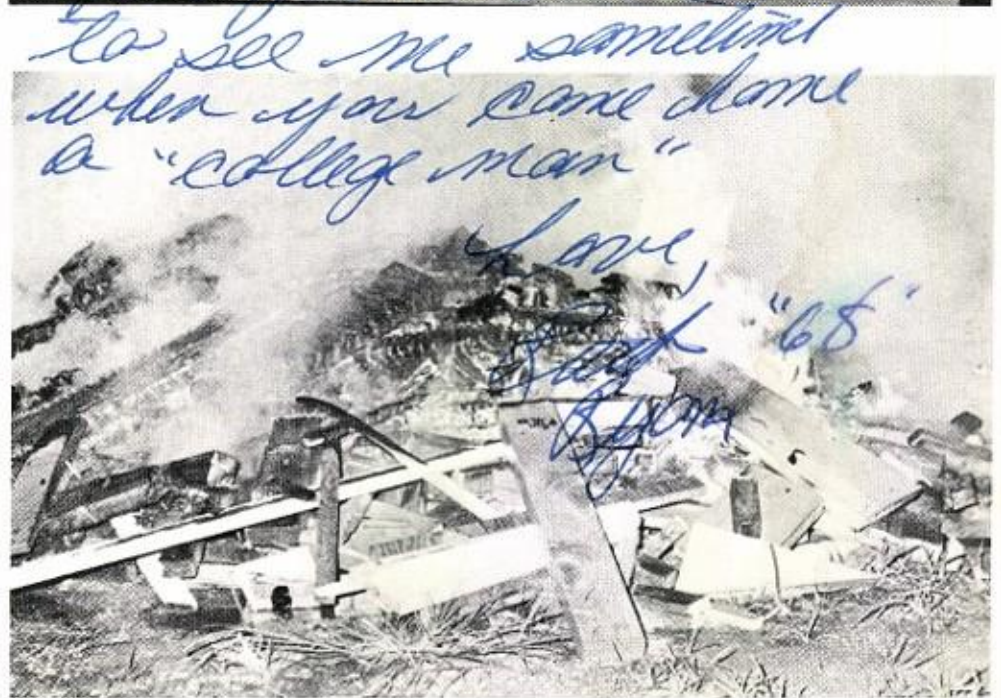

Tomorrow Is Always

Dad, you're a special kind of person as happy and sweet as you are Charley James and at the basketball games we good at college and always keep your great attitude. I hope you'll always have the best of luck and all your dreams will come true (even if you are a Baptist) May God

Dear Dad,
It's been a busy year this year and
we're all going to move to the new school year. Remember to see me sometime
when you come home

Too Late; Our Beginning Is Now...

We believe ... that the world is ours to create ... that the future is ours to shape and ours to share. Soon we shall yearn to walk the highway of life in an attempt to find that which we are seeking. We look but cannot see what lies ahead for us; we know only know that we must face trials and hardships before we can ever reach true success. Many things will change, and as time passes, our horizons go higher and yet higher, until Charlotte High School is just a memory somewhere far below us.

"This is not the end; this is not even the beginning of the end; this is only the end of the beginning." How well Winston Churchill described our high school years! As we stand on the threshold of life, we realize that high school years have been nine years are, therefore, the most important. Tomorrow is always too late; our beginning is now ...

Bless You - Love, Katie

Val,
my life was mixed up before you helped mess
it up more - with that letter from Phil - etc. Hope my party was - not too bad.
Good luck
Val - see
Ya around.

Val, we're about to leave although I miss the class. I'm glad it's over. Have fun this summer best of luck always Jim

Best of luck
Carol

Val,
I sure wish you would have stayed in Band this year. There have times when I've needed your moral support. I've really missed you!
Remember all the great times we've had.
Trig. Eng', etc. I'll never forget the great job you did on the Basketball team this year, always keeping a cool head & calming the others down. We may have our differences at times but they're always worked out. Best of luck to one of the greatest people I have ever met. May God Bless You forever.
Love,
Virginia

Even though you lower are among the guitar players of the untalented you! I still think you're a great guy and a good friend. You luck & gang!!

Val,
This year sure has been fun. I don't know what Mrs. Green, Mr. June, and especially Mr. Overbey would have done without us!
We've sure done some dumb things these last three years but it's been a riot. Please don't forget this dumb-acting girl. I she'll not forget you!
Love,
Sueann

Val
Best of luck
in everything you do. Stay as happy & sweet as you are now. Let's be a lot of chous & you
make it that way.
Love La!

-Val-
your cutie 'n' sweet and I'll never forget the cutie little ole jokes
you been telling in Spanish. Luck in the years to come to a great guy
& a great girl

Val,
So a swell person and former member of the Interact Club. May you have the best of luck in the future.
Best wishes

Val,
We've had a great time in C. June's class and H. Green's this year.
Remember all the things we did in our GREAT class of '67. You did - good luck in all you do - yours great!

Valentine,
You're one of the greatest guys I know. I'm really going to miss you. You and your jokes have always cheered me up. Please forget English. Capt. Brock, Ralph and the ensemble. It has been great fun and thanks for being so nice. God bless you forever. Stay sweet and I hope you have a wonderful future. You're so sweet.
Love always,

Val,
It's a real swell guy. I've been a pleasure having you as a friend for the past three years. We've had lots of fun together remember the basketball tournaments and the dance. I had a valuable time. I hope that you have a great time at college next year. I hope to see you this summer, come down anytime you want, till the home all summer. Good luck to you in the future and I wish you all of the success in the world. Remember when we were seventeen it was a very good year."

Val, Been great knowing you this year. Don't forget 3rd period!!
Your a great guy!
Love Ya!
